No-wake worries business owners

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch business people have some concerns about the proposed no-wake regulation which is expected to be approved by the Waterway Management Agency at their Thursday evening meeting. Surprisingly, it is not the actual no-wake that worries them, but the spate of bad actually extend to 125 feet out into the lake, so requiring boaters to slow down for 25 feet will probably not make any difference. Instead, he believes that boaters and fishers may "guesstimate" a no-wake zone that is greater than necessary.

"I don't see any way to enforce it," Wasz said. "How can you determine 150 feet by just visualizing it?"

Frank Webb of Webb's Boat Service and Marina also worries about the bad publicity of the lake. He feels that 100 feet would be a large enough area. He worries that while parts of the lakes are wide enough to accommodate 150 feet, others are not.

"In my opinion, 100 feet is more than sufficient," Webb said. "Every area is a little different. Maybe some areas with more acreage can handle 150 feet. Every body of water on the Chain has a different configuration, with some areas narrower than others."

Webb also feels that all the water uses, such as boating, fishing, and swimming, of the lakes should be considered. "Everybody should have the use of the lakes," said Webb. "It is a matter of water courtesy."

publicity regarding the Chain O'Lakes area.

"I am pretty much for it," said Paul Wasz, owner of Wasz's Resort in Antioch. "But, it is pretty hard to visualize. That is what I am afraid of. People are going to hear 150 feet and think it is the whole lake."

Wasz is worried publicity of the ruling will harm his business. "I think it will harm business in the sense it is another regulation," he explained. "The only publicity the Chain gets is negative publicity."

County rezones controversial property

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

After five years of legal wrangling and thousands in legal fees, the Lake County Board has finally settled the status of almost all of the controversial parcels of property owned by Kenneth Domanchuk and his wife, Lisa Rudek, on the point of Channel Lake.

Five of the parcels, which had been changed to the countryside designation in 1988, have been changed to suburban and one parcel was rezoned neighborhood conservation/commercial recreational (NC/CR).

"We believed we were right," said Domanchuk. "The County Board obviously agreed."

Rudek purchased the property in early 1988 during a period of time when numerous properties were rezoned. After the sale had been completed and Rudek learned of the zoning changes, the sale was renegotiated at a reduced price. Domanchuk admitted at the LCZBA (Lake County Zoning See PROPERTY page A10

Loon Lake Sportsmen to hold picnic and auction

Make sure to keep your calendars open for the 10th Annual Loon Lake Sportsman's Association and Picnic on Saturday, Aug. 13. The event will be held at the Loon Lake Inn, located just east of the railroad tracks at Grass Lake Road and Route 83. The picnic will begin at noon and the auction is scheduled to start at 4:30 p.m.

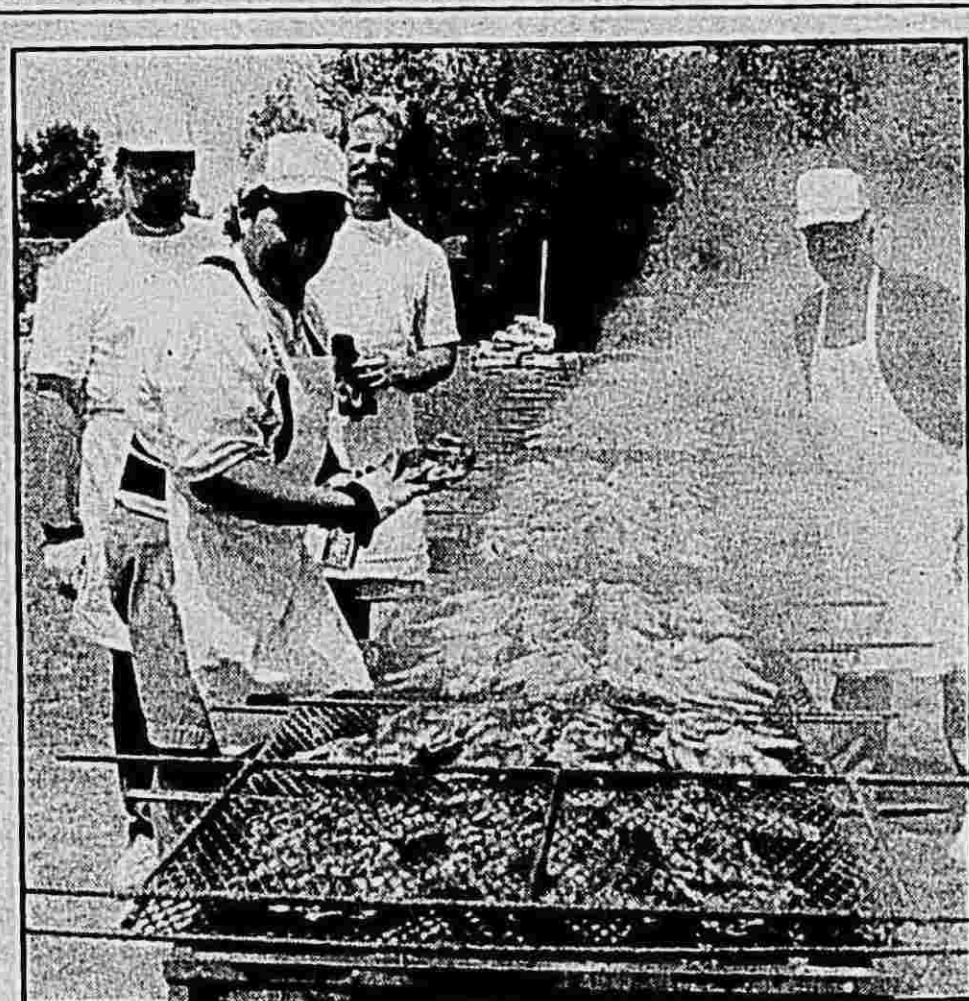

According to Geof Ziemann, spokesman for the Loon Lake Sportsman's Club, the organization has stocked well over $32,000 fish in Loon Lakes during the past 10 years. This is the major fund raiser for the group.

Besides the fish stocking program, the club has also assisted Loon Lakes Management Association in the purchase of its first weed harvester used to keep the lakes weed free. The group sponsors fishing derbies for children and an annual ice fishing derby as well as food baskets for the needy during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The group is committed to environmental issues and supports lake maintenance. This year, the club is planning to hold a gun safety course for children.

Everyone is invited to join in the fun. For more information call 395-8472.—by MARY FOLEY

Resolution bans motors on Antioch Lake

The Antioch Village Board passed a resolution banning gas or diesel-powered motor crafts on Lake Antioch.

The resolution was in reaction to a request from residents of the Sunset Ridge Subdivision who testified before the village board last year.

Antioch Lake is a small and shallow body of water and residents were concerned with new residential developments taking place near the water.

Village Attorney Kenneth Clark explained the ban is not enforceable because it is not a law. "It's more than a motion, but less than an ordinance. It does not have the sanctity of law," said Clark.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said the purpose of the resolution was to show support for residents of Sunset Ridge in unincorporated Antioch. She said the issue arose last year when the village was discussing the Mystic Cove development.

Firefighters face blaze by Fox River

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

A home owned by Rose and Glen Kilgus on 27884 Riverside Drive in the Fox River Springs subdivision was seriously damaged by fire last weekend. The two-bedroom, converted summer home was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

According to Antioch Fire Department, the emergency call came in at 7:34 p.m., last Saturday night.

"We were there quite awhile," said Lieutenant Donald Champey. "We had mutual aid on the scene from Fox Lake and Wilmot." Champey said Salem and Trevor Fire Departments maintained station coverage during the fire.

While there are rumors the fire is the result of arson, the Antioch Fire Department has ruled the cause is undetermined. "We are going to wait for the investigation to be completed," said Champey. Firefighters believe the fire began in the larger of the two bedrooms.

The damage is estimated to be $30,000. "The outside of the building is sound," said Champey. However, according to Champey, the inside sustained a lot of damage.

At the time of the fire, the home had been occupied by a relative of the owner. No one was home when the fire broke out.

Firefighters remained on the scene until 9:30 p.m. Fortunately, the home was located on the Fox River making it easy for emergency personnel to locate a water source. "We didn't run out," said Champey.

No injuries resulted from the fire and damage was confined to the structure.

On Aug. 5 around 10 p.m. officials received a call at the home of Mari Austin near Eagle Point Road.

Because of the raging flames and smoke Fox Lake firefighters requested backup from the Round Lake Area Fire Protection District who were at the scene, and also the Antioch and Wauconda departments who remained on standby at the Fox Lake fire station.

It took firefighters about one hour to extinguish the blaze.

Officials estimate around $60,000 damage to the home. No one was injured, reported the fire department.—by TINA SWIECH

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

Antioch is becoming a four-season town for fun. In winter, it was the Christmas festivities; in spring, the symbols of Easter filled the town; in summer, residents enjoyed Fourth of July celebrations as well as Taste of Antioch/Maxwell Street Days.

Now, Antioch is getting ready for autumn action with a Halloween Howl. Claude LeMere, community development director, explained plans at the last village board meeting.

"Halloween is usually a dead period for most merchants. There's not a lot going on. So it's a great time of year to do an event," said LeMere.

LeMere's plans are to turn the whole downtown area into a spook walk by using the walkways between the buildings. The walks would have names like Haunted Graveyard, Mummy's Tomb, Tunnel of Terror, Witches Kitchen, and Dracula's Cave. There will also be a special walk for the little kids with friendly ghosts. The walks would be sponsored by banks and other village businesses.

Of course, the merchants would get in on the action by having a Moonlight Madness sale where people wearing costumes would get an added discount. Saturday evening, the village would hold a bonfire with a storyteller and apple cider.

The Halloween Howl is still in the planning stages and LeMere will present a finished proposal to the board at a later date.

Learning pamphlet

Antioch School District 34 Board of Education is offering free copies of the "50 Ways to Help Your Child Learn" pamphlet which contains a brief overview of the district's curriculum along with helpful suggestions for home activities to strengthen reading, writing, mathematics and critical thinking skills. The pamphlet also provides a directory of board and administrative personnel along with their school phone numbers. The pamphlets can be obtained by calling 395-0712 and will be available to parents during registration on August 15 and 16.

Thank-you note

Miss Antioch, Rebecca Carol Christophersen wants to thank Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Antioch Parks and Recreation, Liz Glenn, Tracy, Marc Gantar, Liz Earl, Danielle Adams, Alice Gantar, Kathy Anderson and Family, Nan, Holly, Eric, and Kelli, the Painter family, Robert Painter, her mother, father, and Keith, along with everyone else in the cheering section for their love and support during the Miss Lake County Fair Pageant.

Picnic a hit

The St. Peter's Pig Roast last weekend was a bit hit. According to Claudette Skvarce, six pigs were consumed and over 400 people were served dinner. Leftovers went to the center for abused women in Waukegan. The final numbers are not yet in for the St. Peter's rummage sale, but it looks like the sale netted over $30,000 which will be used in the parish.

Meeting reminders

Antioch Township will hold a regular township meeting on Thursday, Aug. 11 at 7:30 p.m. The meetings are held at the Antioch Township Offices at 99 Route 173. All are welcome.

The Fox River Waterway Agency will hold a meeting to decide the fate of the 150-foot no-wake zone Thursday, Aug. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at McHenry City Hall. Residents are encouraged to attend.

Peterson campaign to kick-off

The Bieze Farm on Gilmer and Callahan roads will be the site for a Corn Roast fund-raiser for Senator William Peterson.

On Aug. 18 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. the campaign kickoff for Sen. Peterson of the 26th senatorial district takes place and everyone is invited to attend.

Tickets are a $5 per person donation and can be obtained by calling Jan at (708) 945-5127 or the senator at (708) 537-6003.

Peterson's two-year term will be up and in November he is running for a four-year period as state senator.

The senator has been very instrumental working with the townships in his district including Grant Township in the Fox Lake/Ingleside area.

Lakeland would like to correct an error in the July 29 newspaper which said Peterson was not in favor of the tax cap. In fact, Sen. Peterson is highly supportive of the tax cap and was not in favor of changing it.—by TINA SWIECH

Troop 92 Scouts earn summer camp awards

Scouts from Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 worked hard and played hard during the troop's two week summer campout at Camp Owaspippe, Mich. One of America's largest Scout reservations, the camp is located north of Muskegon near Whitehall. Camp Owaspippe provides a wealth of opportunities for Scouts to acquire knowledge and skills in the outdoors, obtain individual and team leadership experiences, and have lots of fun.

Fifteen Scouts collectively earned 54 merit badges in such subjects as cooking, lifesaving, mammal study, basketry, camping, Indian lore, nature, pioneering, wilderness survival, and wood carving. The boys who attended included Conrad Adkins, Ryan Burgess, Gene Byrne, Andy Dalgaard, John Dunklau, Scott Dunklau, Brandon Franke, Eric Geyer, Eric Green, Scott Kudingo, John Landrum, Steve Kovacek, Lee Morrison, Brian Weston and Steve Weston. Steve Weston and Eric Green served as senior patrol leader during the first and second weeks respectively.

The adult leaders who attended during the first or second week included Scoutmaster Ray Landrum and Assistant Scoutmasters Bill Geyer, Paul Green, Dick Weston and Brian Paschke. The adults who drove or attended family camp included Alice Brown, Debbie Burgess, Jesse Gade, Chris Green, Jim Ratacyzk, Barb Ratacyzk and Nancy Zeien.

Each week Troop 92 earned the Baden Powell Award for improving and maintaining their campsite. In addition to their merit badges, the Troop earned several special awards. Eric Geyer and Steve Weston earned the NRA (National Rifle Association) Pro Marksman. Bill Geyer, Paul Green and Ray Landrum earned the NRA Sharpshooter. Eric Geyer and Scott Kudingo won the second place overall award in canoe racing. In addition, Ryan Burgess and Scott Dunklau attended the Wilderness Survival Outpost. Bill and Eric Geyer and Steve Weston hiked several Camp Owaspippe trails and earned hiking "rockers" for their uniforms.

Troop 92 will complete a canoe trip on Wisconsin's Flambeau River in early August, begin its pumpkin sale on October 1, and hold its annual Spaghetti Dinner on October 16. Troop 92 is sponsored by Antioch's Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 and meets at the Antioch Scout House on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. For information contact Scoutmaster Ray Landrum at 395-0958.

Area schools to get $2.3 million more from state says Geo-Karis Area schools will get a total of about $2.3 million more from the state for the 1994-95 school year, according to state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Sen. Geo-Karis said she has received estimates from the State Board of Education of the amounts that individual school districts will receive from the state under the new budget. The total for the 20 school districts is more than $52 million, she said.

"These are estimates, however," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "Districts should not count on these exact amounts or base their own budgets on them, because what they actually receive could be quite different. Enrollment and other factors can have a marked effect."

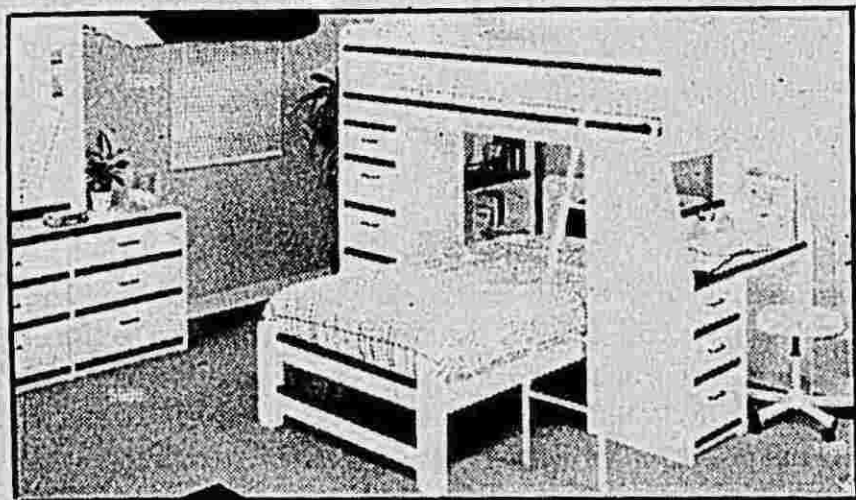

Sen. Geo-Karis said the increased state support is due to the additional $185 million allocated to elementary and secondary schools in the new state budget. She noted that state-supported colleges and universities will receive $92 million more than last year.

Learn football from a pro

Do you know what a "boot leg" is? Are you familiar with an "option play?"

If your family uses these phrases from September to January and you're lost, step over to the Lake Villa District Library (LVDL) on Saturday, Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. Former Chicago Bears wide receiver Glen Kozlowski will present a free hands-on, outdoor and entertaining explanation of the game of football, weather permitting. An autograph session will follow.

Because good weather cannot be planned and LVDL's community room has limited seating, only the first 60 registrants will receive tickets for an indoor demonstration.

McHenry County College names head tennis coach

McHenry County College announces the addition of Don Biere as the new head coach for women's tennis and John Bach as the new assistant volleyball coach for 1994-95.

Biere is a Cary resident, and currently a part-time faculty member at MCC. He has taught and coached tennis at Buffalo Grove High School in District 214 for the past 20 years, his teaching career at the secondary level has spanned 28 years.

Bach has been coaching volleyball for the past eight years. He has been the head coach of the men's club team at Northern Illinois University, an assistant coach at Woodstock High School and for the past five years worked with the Sky High Volleyball Club. He is a customer service manager for Follett Library Book Co. based in Crystal Lake.

The Crystal Lake-based junior college will have a golf outing and awards dinner Sept. 11 at Marengo Ridge Golf and Country Club in Marengo.

Tee-off times are 10:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. Dinner is at 5 p.m.

Cost is $72 per person, $288 per foursome by Aug. 31, with one check for $279. For more information, entry form, or sponsorship, call Wally Reynolds, athletic director, at (815) 455-8550.

Antioch soccer star brings home World Cup experience

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

When Cal Cruickshank returns to soccer practice for the Antioch Sequoits this fall, he will be bringing with him a world of experience.

The Antioch junior competed with some of the world's best soccer players during two youth tournaments this summer in Europe. He played for two U.S. Challengers teams in the Gothia Cup in Gothenburg, Sweden, and the Dana Cup in Hjorring, Denmark.

Instead of the Libertyvilles, Mundeleins and Warrens that Cruickshank usually competes against in the North Suburban Conference, he was pitted against national teams from Sweden, Germany and France.

In the Gothia Cup, the U.S. team was quickly eliminated by losing to Sweden twice 2-0 and to Germany 3-0. Both teams, Cruickshank said, played a much faster game than the U.S. team was used to.

Cruickshank played goalie for the U.S. team and was able to watch the different styles of play.

"They played a certain style of soccer we couldn't play against," Cruickshank said of the German team. "They always beat our guys in the air."

In the Dana Cup, the Challengers advanced a little further in tournament play.

The U.S. team opened with a 4-1 loss to a Danish team, downed a Norwegian team 4-1 and lost to another Norwegian team 5-1. The Challengers managed to pass the qualifying rounds and advance to the next round.

In two 2-1 games against the Norwegians and the French, the Challengers kept the games close 1-1, forcing a penalty shoot out (much like what happened during the World Cup finals between Italy and Brazil). The U.S. prevailed with game-winning goals in each case.

Ironically, the Challengers were eliminated from the Dana Cup by another U.S. team who beat the Challengers 3-1.

Cruickshank defended the goal for eight of the nine games his team played in.

He said one of the difficulties his team faced was getting to know one another as a team. The players did not meet each other until they started practice, which happened to be in Vibjerg, Denmark, where the Danish national team trained before the World Cup.

"We are all good. It's just that we didn't know each other," Cruickshank noted. "We were learning from each other during the games."

Comparing soccer skills between the U.S. and other countries, Cruickshank said, "We're still kind of behind in soccer. We still have a lot to learn."

And Cruickshank will be bringing what he learned from the international experience to the Antioch Sequoia squad this fall.

Bullets equipment stolen at Hammond tournament

The Lindenhurst Bullets softball team traveled to Hammond, Ind., to compete in a 16 and under girls' softball tournament. The Bullets played three games within their pool.

They won one game, 11-7 against Crown Point, while losing twice to teams from Burbank and Highland. The single victory qualified the Bullets to play on last Sunday morning.

The team loaded the equipment into their coach's truck, eager to return for the morning game.

Overnight, as the team slept, the truck was stolen from the hotel parking lot. This theft left the Bullets without any equipment and found several players without cleats, gloves and team jackets.

With help from several parents and with great concern from the big sister Raider Team, equipment was borrowed and transportation was provided that did permit the Bullets to compete in the Sunday morning game.

With the rush and all the excitement, the Bullets were no match for the Indiana Hot Shots and fell to a 14-2 defeat.

Pitching in the tournament losses for the Bullets were Nicole Langley, Kelly Kotlarz and Kristin Scopel. The complete game victory was pitched by Kotlarz.

The only home run was crushed by Kotlarz and a triple was hit by Langley.

The remaining offense was produced by Jenny Piefer, Megs Kotlarz and Kristin Lynch. Sound defense was played by Dana Spandet, Erin Walsh and Sho Kent.

Contributing in spot appearances was Angie Pederson, who was borrowed from the Raiders team to provide relief for the shortened Bullet roster.

The unfortunate theft of all the Bullets equipment is a terrible incident. This equipment was purchased by the players and by sponsor donations. It will be difficult to replace this loss without further assistance from the outstanding donors in our community.

If anyone wishes to make a contribution toward replacing this equipment, contact Coach Mitch Kotlarz at 356-9547 or Tom Lippert at the Lindenhurst Park District, 356-6011.

Former Antioch wrestler turns 3-year dream into reality

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

For Antioch High grad Chris Haag, his second-place finish in the Greco-Roman style of wrestling at the Junior National Championships was literally a dream come true.

"I always had the dream to place in this tournament," said Haag, who qualified for the nationals for the third time in as many years but never placed in the nationals. While at Antioch, Haag was defeated at sectionals, never qualifying for state action.

"The week before, I had dreams of the finals," Haag recalled. "It just set the pace for the rest of the tournament. I wasn't going to lose to anyone I shouldn't."

Haag, proudly donning his Team Illinois warm-up jacket, competed with 49 other grapplers from all over the country in the 220-lb bracket. He traveled to Fargo, N.D., to make his final bid to place in the nationals.

In his first match, Haag pinned his opponent from Massachusetts. He lost in the second match to a wrestler from Florida.

"I got beat up from the get-go because I wasn't ready for the match," Haag said.

Following that loss, Haag went on to win five matches in a row, pinning his Virginia and Colorado opponents in matches three and four.

After defeating an Indiana youth 10-6, Haag downed a wrestler from California 6-3 in a pivotal overtime match.

"I had to win or I wouldn't have been an All-American," Haag said. In the double elimination tournament, Haag needed the win to secure a chance to compete in the third day of competition which automatically earned wrestlers the All-American honor.

On the third day, Haag came from behind to defeat another opponent from California 15-7. Haag fell early 7-0, and he said he started to have flashbacks of sectionals when he was knocked out in the qualifying round.

"Somehow I shook out the cob webs and came back to win," Haag said.

Haag was now wrestling for the national Greco championship for 220 pounders. His opponent was Rob Chicoine, a 6-foot, 5-inch wrestler from Bloomington, Ill., who will be wrestling for Northwestern University this year.

Haag lost the championship match, but making the qualifying rounds and placing second in the nation answered all of his dreams.

Team Illinois, by the way, placed first in the nation as a state, and Antioch boasted three other wrestlers on the team including Juniors Jason Krause and Justin Dyer and sophomore Luke Dyer.

In years past, Haag never won more than three matches and had to watch the March of Champions from the sidelines. This year, Haag proudly paraded with the March of Champions.

"I always used to watch the march. This time I got to march. I was just in a natural high for the rest of the night," Haag said.

Having achieved this dream, Haag is now setting new goals and dreaming new pursuits.

He will be attending the College of Lake County this fall and plans to drop 30 pounds in order to wrestle for the Lancers at the 190-lb bracket. Eventually, he wants to earn a wrestling scholarship to the University of Minnesota at Morris, where he will be under the tutelage of wrestling coach Doug Reese.

Reese, who scouted Haag at the nationals, trained Greco wrestler Dennis Koslowski, who won a silver medal in the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona.

Haag wants to major in chemistry and earn a teaching degree so he can coach wrestling as well as teach, but not necessarily in that order, as he noted:

"The people who helped the most through my life were teachers. I want to teach first."

At CLC, Haag's new dream is to place in the top four in the junior college nationals.

"As long as I believe in something, I'll finish what I started out," said Haag.

The Lancers are sure to welcome a wrestler who turns dreams into reality.

Furlan to catch 'em for EIU

Thomas Furlan, a 6'2", 180-lb. wide receiver who played for the Antioch Sequoias the last four years, has been recruited to play football for Eastern Illinois University, a Division I school.

Furlan reported to camp Aug. 7. Eastern Illinois participates in the Gateway Conference.

A two-year starter for the Sequoias, Furlan led the team in receiving and yards gained both years. He earned All North Suburban Conference and All Lake County team honors his senior year.

Furlan also added his name to the all-time list of longest pass receptions with touchdown catches of 69 and 72 yards.

Furlan was also a two-year starter in center field for Antioch's baseball team and was one of the leading hitters this year.

He is the son of Tom and Carol Furlan of Antioch.

Shop ANTIOCH — Jr. Woman have busy summer

The Spotlight's on...JJ Blinkers

JJ Blinkers Clownin' Around Novelty Shop is located on Main Street, about midway through town. Their motto is "Browsers Welcome...Buyers Worshipped!" For the past nine years Joanne Linker and her friendly staff have recommended the perfect gift, sometimes one that's suitable for embarrassing someone having an "over-the-hill" birthday and other times finding the right piece to add to a collection of clowns or other fine collectibles. Regardless of the lightness or seriousness of the gift, fun is definitely the name of the game in JJ Blinkers.

You'll always find a great mix of novelty and gift items for the young and young-at-heart! Things like rubber chicken, Whoopee cushions, over-the-hill, and age-related gifts, as well as bachelor and bachelorette adult party gifts. They've recently become a ROCS buying network store which keeps them on top of the hottest trends for the most current and funniest greeting cards for every occasion.

There's always a little bit of a lot of stuff and store changes constantly because Joanne is uncontrollable! If there's something new on the market that strikes her fancy, you can bet it'll be on her shelves before long.

Her most current "bright" idea is copper and brass weather-vanes for atop your home/garage/deck or wall. Offering a selection of more than 50 styles to choose from allows you the chance to give the perfect gift that will be remembered each and everyday. You'll also find a few other great items like Rubber Checks, the St. Joseph's Home Sale Kit, Roadkill Helper, Toity Tunes (to make your toilet paper sing), Antioch souvenir T-shirts, Banner Flags, the Glass Bubble "Wish Fairy's" collection, and custom invitations as well as novelty license plates and latex rubber balloons that last over two weeks, just to name a few (whew!).

Be aware of ghosts, goblins and other creatures of the night as Fall approaches. You'll find a full line of Halloween costumes and accessories year-round, but needless to say, as the "witching" hour approaches you'll find lots of spooky comings and goings at JJ Blinkers. It isn't unusual to see a popular purple dinosaur or other kids' favorite pals strolling about.

Joanne invites you to stop by for your gifts, gags, or just giggles! (Pity Purchases Accepted!) They're open seven days a week. Many people are surprised to find gifts in her store they've looked all over for. So save wear and tear—don't run to a mall—'cause JJ Blinkers has it all!

Editor's note: Shop Antioch is a weekly newsletter showcasing Antioch's merchants and retailers. Prepared and written by Barbara Porch of Choosey Child.

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club has been very busy with contributions to the community even through the summer months.

On April 26 at the Congress Hotel in Chicago, the GFWC 10th District Officers were installed. The majority of the board positions were filled by Antioch members. The Antioch members are as follows: Linda Pedersen, 10th Dist. junior director; Venus Salak, 10th Dist. assistant junior director; Vickie Axton, 10th Dist. treasurer; Carolyn Hammond, public relations chairman; and Barb Gannon, leadership legislation chairman.

For Teacher's Appreciation Week in May, 1994, the Antioch Jr. Woman's Club donated the book "America's Best Classrooms" to the following schools: Antioch Upper Grade; Emmons Grade School; Grass Lake School; Faith Lutheran School; St. Peter's School; Oakland Grade School; Antioch Lower Grade School; Milburn Grade School; and W.C. Petty School. This book will be added to their Teacher-Parent Resource Centers. This book gives a personal insight into how educators are making a difference in children's lives by using creative techniques to instill in children the enthusiasm for learning. Teachers are faced with challenges of reaching parents and students and getting them to strive for higher goals.

The Antioch Jrs. make a variety of contributions to the children of the community as well as schools, such as scholarships and donations to the fire and rescue organizations of Antioch.

On May 10, the Antioch Jrs. Education Committee awarded Karen Anderson of Antioch High School a $500 scholarship. Anderson's goal is to become a pharmacist. This will demand five years of college. She received a perfect score of 31 in scientific reasoning on her ACT test. Anderson came across in her application as a very confident young woman. Her parents are Sandy and Lynn Anderson of Antioch. The Antioch Jrs. received 19 applications for their scholarship award.

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club sold pop, coffee, homemade cookies and glow-in-the-dark necklaces on July 3 at Williams Park. The Jrs. will be once again be helping out the Lions Club and Rescue Squad on Aug. 7 during the Chicken BBQ and Auction.

The new 1994-95 officers, chairpeople and committees are busy planning activities, services and fund raisers for the 1994-95 year. The Membership Tea will be on Tuesday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church in Antioch. Anyone interested in the Antioch Jr. Woman's Club is welcome to attend.

Sequoit Pride to raffle off house

Sequoit Pride, Antioch High School's booster club, is announcing an exciting house/cash raffle. The house, with an estimated value of $225,000, will be constructed by award-winning Saxonian Builders, Inc. of Lake Villa.

A maximum of 4,000 tickets will be sold at $100 each. The house is to be built at 630 Asbury Ct. in Antioch. A minimum of 3,000 tickets must be sold in order for construction to begin. If less than 3,000 tickets are sold, then half of the proceeds will be awarded as a cash prize up to $75,000.

The profits from the raffle will be designated for equipment and needed supplies in areas such as academics, fine arts and athletics.

Saxonian Builders, Inc., owned by Karlheinz Zimmermann, is a well known builder of superb quality custom homes in the northern Illinois area. Recipient of three awards in this year's Lake County Tour of Homes, Saxonian Builders takes pride in constructing homes of exceptional craftsmanship, such as those in Falcon Hill Estates in Antioch.

"I am pleased that I have the opportunity to be part of this fundraising effort benefiting our local school district," said Zimmermann.

Tickets may be obtained at many local business establishments and from members of the Sequoit Pride Organization.

Bob Lenz will speak to teens at The Outstanding Sunday Nights series at Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church.

Church hosts Bob Lenz for special youth night

Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church will host Bob Lenz for a special youth night on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 6 p.m. This is the 10th in a series of Outstanding Sunday Nights throughout the summer.

Lenz speaks before 75,000 teens and parents across the country each year. His message of hope, worth and personal excellence is well received by youth because he intertwines valuable principles with light-hearted and humorous stories. Teens listen to and respect Lenz because of his positive approach to combat destructive problems.

Lenz also directs the operations of Life Promotions, a youth-oriented organization in Appleton, Wis. This organization impacts youth by communicating messages which promote the value of their lives. Lenz says, "The most devastating thing I have ever seen is that at some time during the teen years, 60 percent of youths have considered death to be more appealing than life. I don't want to see kids cheated out of life." Lenz easily connects to his audience through personal examples of his own background and experiences.

Lenz served six years as the director of a counseling center in Appleton before speaking publicly in 1982. As a professional speaker, he has linked up with school districts, student councils, SADD, PTA, Beta Club, DECCA, FHA, churches and many other organizations interested in the welfare of our youth. He is a member of the National Speakers Association, as well as the American Association of Suicidology.

This meeting is open to all, and child care is available for nursery through age six. For more information, call the church office at 838-0103.

Crane names Totten campaign manager

Congressman Phil Crane announced that he has named Don Totten as his campaign chairman for the 1994 8th Congressional District general election race.

Totten, a longtime resident of Schaumburg Twp., has held many political positions throughout his career. He was elected to the state legislature in 1972, and spent over two years as Assistant Director of the Dept. of Transportation for the State of Illinois. In addition, Totten has served in different capacities in campaigns for numerous candidates, including serving on Ronald Reagan's campaign teams in 1976, 1980 and 1984. Totten was elected Republican Committeeman for Schaumburg Twp. in 1966 and has been reelected to that position ever since.

Citing Totten's exceptional campaign experience and long-time support, Crane stated that "Don has been invaluable in assisting my campaigns in the past and has served in numerous capacities over the years. I can think of no one better equipped to chair my campaign than Don, and I am pleased that he has agreed to serve in this role." In his position, Totten will provide general oversight and direction to the campaign as well as serve as consultant for specific aspects of the campaign.

Crane indicated that he will be making more announcements regarding his campaign team and campaign offices in the next month.

Crane receives Thomas Jefferson Award

U.S. Representative Philip M. Crane of District 8 was named a recipient of the food distribution industry's Thomas Jefferson Award, which honors members of Congress who support the principles of free enterprise.

The biennial Thomas Jefferson Awards program is sponsored by the National American Wholesale Grocers' Association (NAWGA)/International Foodservice Distributors Association (IFDA), a trade group based in Falls Church, Va., comprised of more than 300 food distribution companies across America. The Thomas Jefferson Award is being presented this year to 180 members of the House of Representatives who have a voting record demonstrating consistent support for sound fiscal policy, minimal government regulation, free trade and other Jeffersonian principles of government.

"As our industry has looked to Capitol Hill over the past two years for leadership on important economic and regulatory issues, Philip M. Crane consistently has been a visible, effective presence," said John Block, president of NAWGA/IFDA. "Our nation needs leaders who understand the importance of the free enterprise system to the overall economic health of America."

"This awards program is a hallmark of NAWGA/IFDA's effort to make a contribution in Washington in the legislative arena. We believe the Thomas Jefferson Awards highlight our association's commitment to free enterprise, and encourage all member of Congress to make the same commitment," said Bruce Gates, NAWGA/IFDA vice president of public affairs.

Representative Crane was chosen to receive a Thomas Jefferson Award because of his voting record in the 103rd Congress on tax and budget matter, foreign trade, labor relations, regulatory policy, and similar business-oriented issues. NAWGA/IFDA evaluated all 435 members of the House of Representatives on the basis of their votes on 10 key issues. Those members scoring 75 percent or better on the 10 issues are eligible to receive the Thomas Jefferson Award. The award itself is a nine-inch pewter and walnut custom-designed stature of Thomas Jefferson, surrounded by pillars representing the industries he considered important to America nearly 200 years ago—agriculture, commerce, navigation and manufacture.

"Through the Thomas Jefferson Awards program, NAWGA and IFDA want to pay tribute to those legislators who routinely make some very tough choices about the future of our nation. Their support of the ideals first embraced by Thomas Jefferson deserves our recognition and encouragement," Block said. The Thomas Jefferson Awards program was initiated in 1992, when 163 Representatives from the 102nd Congress received the award.

Arts, Crafts Fair canceled

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Arts and Crafts fair, scheduled for August 13 and 14 has been canceled. However, the second fair, to held on September 10 and 11 is still expected to be held.

Part of the problem with the August date was the change in location from Williams Park to downtown Antioch. The canceled fair was to be held in some of the sidewalks and gang-ways between buildings.

However, representatives from the Antioch Chamber of Commerce said the gang-ways had not yet been prepared for the event, requiring a cancellation of the August date. Another problem cited by the Chamber was lack of interest in the new location.

Claude LeMere, downtown development director cited a failure to contact crafters and artists in time. "These folks book a year in advance," he explained. "They were not contacted until three months ago."

Nevertheless, the September event is expected to be held as planned at the village location.

The Arts and Crafts Fair attracts artists and crafters from all over the region and is an annual event. This year's plan was to hold two separate fairs displaying the artwork in the gang-ways, through-fares, and parkways in the village. In this way, both the artists and local merchants would benefit from visitors to the fair.

Resident receives highest honor

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Gary L. Winner has just received his Certified Emergency Manager credential from the National Coordinating Council of Emergency Management (NCEM). The CEM designation is the highest honor of professional achievement available from NCEM.

Winner, who lives with his son, Joseph, works for the University of Chicago's Argonne National Laboratory as the manager of the Internal Appraisal Program. He has management oversight of all environmental, safety, health, and quality assurance programs for the laboratory's facilities in Illinois and Idaho.

Winner has been involved in emergency management since his days in the Peace Corps. In the Corps he was sent to the Philippines and when he returned to the United States he went on to get his masters degree from the University of Nebraska in emergency management.

About the new credential, Winner joked, "It says I really know what I am doing." The CEM certification program is relatively new and was established to provide for the necessary professional standards of emergency management. According to Winner, many states and municipalities have adopted the certification.

A resident of Antioch for six years, Winner is sometimes called upon to assist local governments with their emergency management. While he thought that his volunteer days were over after the Peace Corps, it seems Winner just can't say no to those in need.

As a Certified Emergency Manager, Winner is now one of the only 340 to receive the certification. Winner was required to complete an extensive credentials package which include experience, references, training, contributions to the profession, as well as a management essay. The essay required Winner to submit a response to a scenario he might face while fulfilling emergency management responsibilities.

To maintain the certification, he will be required to pass a written examination within five years of his certification along with additional training and contributions to the profession. Over 1,400 people have enrolled in the Certified Emergency Manager program.

While Winner faces a one hour and 10 minute drive to, and later from work everyday, Antioch is a much safer place with Winner as a resident.

Therapy service offers screenings

On Aug. 16, 17 and 18 from 3 to 6 p.m., Community Therapy Services will be providing speech-language screenings to preschool and school age children at the Lindenhurst Early Childhood Center.

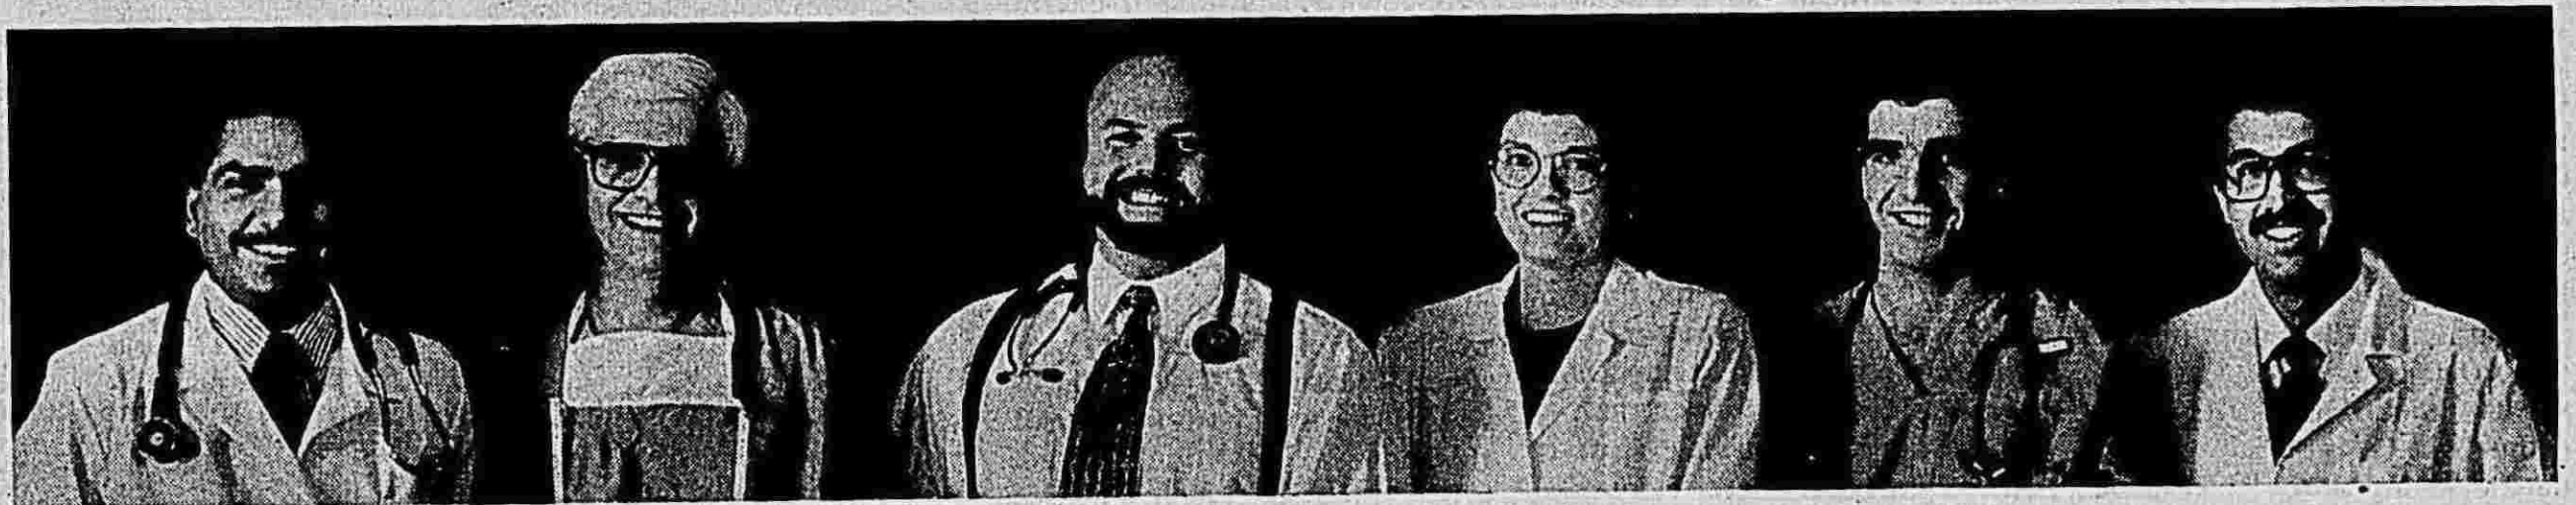

Aileen Senneff, a licensed and certified speech-language pathologist, has been providing speech-language therapy at the L.E.C.C. to some of their students and children from the surrounding communities all summer, and will be conducting the screenings. A speech-language screening takes about one-half hour and determines whether a full speech-language evaluation is needed. The fee for the screening will be $10; parents are invited to attend and ask questions.

Anyone interested in making an appointment for a screening or getting more information regarding other speech-language services can contact Community Therapy Services at 893-7995; ask for Aileen or Lisa.

Antioch High School's Sequoit Pride organization, the fund raising arm of ACHS, announces a seven night western Caribbean cruise aboard Celebrity Cruise Lines' MV Zenith

Departing March 25, 1995, this beautiful ship will be taking passengers to ports of call such as Montego Bay, Grand Cayman, Cozumel and Key West, and includes two glorious days at sea to relax and enjoy a wonderful spring break.

Celebrity Cruise Lines continues to win awards for its fine cuisine and unparalleled service aboard the ships in their fleet, and this cruise will treat participants to a week of a casually elegant cruising, "celebrity style."

Part of a fund raising effort to benefit academic and extra curricular programs at the high school, reservations are being handled by Chase Hill Travel Services, 356-3820. Also on the schedule is an informative "Cruise Night" on Wednesday, Sept. 21 at the high school. Plan to attend and bring some friends.

Fighting Back seeks nominees

The Fighting Back Project is seeking nominations to honor those persons, groups and organizations (youth and adult) that have made a significant impact in the prevention of alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse in Lake County during the past year (Oct. 1993 to Oct. 1994).

The mission of the Lake County Fighting Back

Partnership is: "To promote an environment where healthy lifestyles, hope and opportunity replace the abuse of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs for all persons of the Lake County community."

For additional information or a copy of the nomination form, contact the Fighting Back office at 546-7144.

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The teachers, union officials, and Antioch Community High School administrators continued to meet on Monday to hammer out their new contract. While at this time there is no estimate of when the negotiations will be completed, it is hoped a new contract will be signed before the first day of school on August 23.

"We are in the process of meeting now," said Interim Superintendent Darrell Dick.

While union representatives refuse to comment at this time, working conditions could play a large part of the negotiations. At the close of the last school year several grievances had been filed by the union. Dick is hopeful that some of those issues will be taken care of through the negotiation process.

Joyce Houston is the representative from the Illinois Education Association and is assisting the teachers in their negotiations. Norm Hahn is also part of the teachers negotiating team.

Property

Board of Appeals) hearing, he paid a reduced price as a result.

Nevertheless, Domanchuk and Rudek continued their efforts to have the property rezoned back to commercial. However, neighbors of the property in question had some strong objections to the rezoning of the property.

In fact, residents living in the surrounding area made such a strong case against the rezoning, the LCZBA rejected Domanchuk's bid to have the property rezoned commercial in March. The LCZBA had held a series of public hearings to correct some of the mistakes made in the framework plan. In Domanchuk's case, there was unanimous rejection of commercial designation and instead it was zoned neighborhood conservation/suburban residential at that time.

"It is a slap in the face," said County Board Member Suzy Schmidt, who voted against the recent zoning changes. "The people who live up there are ignored again."

Apparently, the zoning changes were a result of a "settlement" of Domanchuk's lawsuit to force the changes. Domanchuk and Rudek claimed the property was incorrectly rezoned and made the actual property use non-conforming. It is not known if the lawsuit would have been successful if brought to court, given Domanchuk's and Rudek's knowledge of the zoning change after the renegotiated sale.

"All we tried to do was get it back to what we bought," said Domanchuk. "We went on for five years to change it. There was an error made."

Judy Martini, the Republican candidate for County Board in Antioch, was baffled over the vote. "It is in complete contradiction of the framework plan use of this property and throws the LCZBA's opinion out the window," she said. "I am curious why the neighbors who protested this change were not notified. When this issue was brought to my attention I received a plan of this project and I must agree with the LCZBA's findings. The petitioner's plan to put in a hotel, senior facility, swimming pool, resort, bar, marina, shops, restaurants and an auditorium is not a good one for this area. There are no sewers to support such a project. Also, it is in a residential area and the long narrow private road cannot adequately support traffic. I am concerned for the area residents' safety when a large scale project like this goes in."

Neighbors living in the area are also extremely unhappy with the zoning changes. In this case, they were unable to file a legal objection, which would have required a 3/4 affirmative vote by board members to change the zoning, because Rudek and Domanchuk owned the land surrounding the parcels.

Ted Cartner, a neighbor who has followed the project from the start is very upset the County failed to notify area residents of the planned rezoning. Cartner has plans to fight the board's actions.

"After all the homeowners came out to protest this project at the many public hearings and the years of researching to find the truth, you would have thought that out of common courtesy someone from the County would have contacted us," said Cartner. "But, we are not going to take this lying down. I have contacted an attorney to see if there is any recourse in this matter and I am awaiting legal counsel."

According to Domanchuk, he has no immediate plans for the rezoned property. "Nothing at the moment," he said when asked. "I bought it as an investment for my daughter."

Domanchuk and Rudek are longtime residents of Antioch and currently operate the Antique Mall on Route 173, west of Route 59 in Antioch Township. Domanchuk was unsuccessful last spring in his bid for the Republican spot on the ballot for County Board member, running against both incumbent Jim Fields and winner, Judy Martini.

Police Beat

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Windows broken at business

Six windows were broken by person(s) unknown last week on the south side of a local business. Juveniles are suspected. An extra watch has been placed on the establishment. The damage is estimated to be $200.

Residence slimed

Police responded to a complaint on July 4 from an Antioch resident who reported an unknown green substance was thrown against the front of the home. Officers could not determine what the substance was, but discovered it could be cleaned off.

Train damaged by ties

On August 5, person(s) unknown placed several railroad ties on the Wisconsin Central tracks north of North Avenue. The ties were then struck by an oncoming train resulting in over $1,000 in damage. Fortunately, only the front plow was bent, however the engine had been pulling 35 cars and had been hauling hazardous materials. Police are investigating.

More mischief

Police report that person(s) unknown wrote, in shaving cream, offensive messages on a resident's truck during the night of August 5. No damage was done.

Speeding nets many tickets

On August 7, police stopped Jose Luis Martinez, age 21, of Fox Lake after he was observed traveling 74 mph in a 55 mph zone on Route 173. After stopping Martinez, it was discovered he had no license, no insurance, and was traveling with an open container of beer. Martinez was ticketed for all of the above offenses and was released on bond.

Expensive bike taken

A $1,500 BMX bicycle was taken from an apartment entryway on August 7. Police are investigating.

Vandalism in parks

On August 3, police responded to a complaint that person(s) unknown had damaged some picnic tables in Sawmill Park by writing various Satanic slogans and obscenities. Approximately $50 in damage was done.

Also on August 3, damage was done to the "Lions Club shelter" in Williams Park when vandals smashed the timer control box. The timer is used to control the lights for the park's basketball court. The damage is estimated at $150.

LAKE VILLA

Watch out for the phone lines

James Tekempe, 54, Waukegan, on Aug. 3, was arrested after allegedly running over two phone lines next to 114 and 116 Oak Knoll.

Leave the pop machine alone

Robert Johnston, of Cedar Lake Park Resort, on Aug. 3, reported someone damaged the pop machine. There was an estimated $500 in damage.

Firefighters keep blazes in check

One major fire and another minor fire kept area fire departments busy.

A fire at the Channel Lake Roadhouse on 42460 Lake Avenue caused considerable damage to the interior of the bar last Thursday. An electrical fire at Calvary Christian Church in Lake Villa caused minor damage last Wednesday.

According to Lt. Don Champey of the First Fire

Protection District of Antioch, the fire appears to have been caused by a short in an electrical refrigeration unit.

"It appears to be primarily electrical. We determined in our investigation of the area it appears to be a short in the electrical refrigeration unit," Champey said.

A passer-by was on the way to work when he noticed the fire. He drove back home and called the fire department.

The fire took about 1.5 hours to extinguish. Champey said about half of the bar area had fire damage. The department estimates the damage at around $50,000.

The insurance company for the tavern is also investigating the blaze. Fox Lake Fire Department assisted in helping put out the fire.

In Calvary Church, a fire in the sanctuary portion of the church was limited to a small area. According to police reports the cause of the fire was a faulty overloaded electrical outlet.

Chamber employee injured in accident

Vivian Dost, a key employee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, was injured Saturday in a traffic accident on Route 173 and Tiffany Road. Police are still seeking the driver believed to be the cause of the accident.

"The accident is still under investigation," said Lieutenant Charles Watkins of the Antioch Police Department. "We are looking for a black four-door vehicle."

According to Watkins, Dost's husband Bernard, the driver of the car, was traveling westbound on Route 173 when an unknown driver pulled out in front of them from Tiffany Road. The Dost vehicle swerved to avoid an accident, hit another car driven by Hope Miller, and then hit a utility pole at the southwest corner of the intersection.

Dost was taken by Antioch Rescue Squad to St. Therese Hospital where she is being treated for a broken wrist, ankle, as well as injuries to her vertebra and ribs. In the meantime, police continue to investigate.

"We're hoping someone will come forward that was at the scene and saw the accident," said Watkins. "But, so far, nothing."

No tickets were issued, however Watkins believes that if the driver of the other car is found, that driver may be eligible.

Motorcyclist injured in collision

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A Zion man is in critical condition after his motorcycle ran into a van at the intersection of Rollins Road and Rte. 83.

Charles T. Toombsbury, 40, of Zion was flown by Northern Illinois Medical Center's Flight for Life helicopter to the John Doino Medical Center in Milwaukee on Tuesday evening.

"He drove his 1981 Honda into a citizen's van that was parked and waiting for the traffic signal," Lt. John Laycock, of Round Lake Beach Police said.

Laycock said Toombsbury slid under the van and was stuck underneath the van.

"He slid under the van and his leg was entangled in the drive axle of the van. The fire department had to lift up the van so they could extricate his leg and his body from the axle," Laycock said.

Round Lake Fire Protection District personnel were on the scene and took Toombsbury from the scene to the Kmart parking lot where the he was stabilized before being taken on the Flight for Life helicopter.

Toombsbury has severe breaks in the leg area and serious head trauma, according to Laycock.

There were no brake marks at the accident. There were gauges marks, according to Laycock.

Wildwood man killed in early morning crash

RHONDA VINZANT

Editor in Chief

A Wildwood man was killed in a two-car accident at the intersection of Washington and O'Plaine Roads when the car in which he was a passenger collided with another.

Ronald Verbeke, 48, of Wildwood was transported from the scene to St. Therese Medical Center and later flown by the Flight for Life helicopter to a Milwaukee trauma center where he died, according to Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath.

"He suffered severe chest trauma in the accident and had slow respiration and weak blood pressure at the scene," McGrath said.

Verbeke was a passenger in a car driven by Douglas MacKinder of Lindenhurst. MacKinder suffered chest bruises and difficulty breathing at the accident scene.

He was also transported to St. Therese Medical Center. According to McGrath, MacKinder was wearing a seat belt at the time of the accident. His vehicle was impacted on the passenger side where Verbeke was seated.

Paramedics responded to the scene at 5:50 a.m., Aug. 5. The patient in the other car was transported to Victory Hospital with minor injuries.

Lass family welcomes its newest member, little Melanie

Blessed event

Angle and Jim Lass truly feel blessed by the birth of their third beautiful daughter. Little Melanie arrived about three weeks early and she tipped the tiny scale at 5 pounds 13 ounces. She was born on July 18, at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. She may be tiny, but she is definitely in good hands, as big sisters, 9 year old Elizabeth and 7 year old Rebecca, step in to help spoil her in style. Also on hand to be at little Melanie's beckon call are grandparents, Barbara and Larry Lass of Antioch and Elizabeth and Dallas Alcorn of Lake Villa. Congratulations everyone!

Ouch

Once again I have to say how much I enjoy the total, unabridged, honesty of a small child. I was recently surprised to answer the phone and discover 7 year old Blake Harrison at the other end. He obviously dialed the wrong number beginning the conversation with "Can Elizabeth come over to play?"

I inquired, "Who's calling?"

"It's Blake Harrison," he announced with pride.

I responded "Blake, this is Mrs. Schmelz" (his name for me).

"Oh, hi Schmelz. What are you doing?"

"I'm doing something very special, Blake. I am talking to you on the phone."

He went on "I had a blood test. I hate blood test. Did you have blood tests when you were little?" I assured him that I did and no one, not even me, likes blood tests, but sometimes we need them to help keep us healthy.

"I know, but I still hate blood tests." As quick as a wink he ended our conversation by saying, "Bye Schmelz, I have to call Elizabeth now." Once again, out of the mouths of babes and call again, Blake, it sure sounded like you are getting to be a mighty big boy.

Animal kindness

The Humane Society of the United States continues to sponsor the "Adopt-A-Teacher" program. There are programs geared for all grade levels to teach children humane awareness, environmental awareness, ecology, etc. A subscription to the publication KIND News is very reasonable and would make a wonderful teacher gift for Christmas or whatever. Each child in the adopted teacher's class would receive copies of KIND for the entire school year. Teaching youngsters kindness and respect for animals is, in my opinion, putting them closer to practicing kindness and respect towards others, including themselves. If you would like more information on this Humane Society "Adopt-

Congratulations

Congratulations are in order for our very own Little Miss Antioch Jessica Smouse. Jessica was the second runner up in the Little Miss Pageant of the Lake County Fair Queen Competition. She also received a special award for having the sweetest smile. Jessica is 8 years old and is in the third grade at Antioch Lower Grade School. She is the daughter of Shari and Jeff Smouse and big sister of Kellie, who is almost four years old. Congratulations, Jessica. You make us proud.

Theatre time

Aug. 5 was the opening night of the PM&L production "The Foreigner" directed by Tom Hausman. Due to construction at the PM&L, performances will be held at the Globe Store in the Orchard Plaza in Antioch. Remaining show dates are Aug. 12, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21. Evening performances are at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2:30 p.m. The cast of "The Foreigner" includes Mark Badtke, Leslie Letscher, Perryn Pomato, Dolores Finley, Guy Finley, Fran Jansta and Peter Pintozi. The stage managers are Jane Hausman and Elmarie Beno, and Hank Apostol is the set designer. Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055.

Special services

If you live alone or are shut-in, you might like a daily check-up call from Community Telecare. This is a free service staffed by volunteers. If you or someone you know would like to use this service, please contact Mary at 395-0762. If you would like to receive library materials but are physically unable to get to the Antioch Library, contact Lynn at 395-6364 and inquire about the volunteer program "Words on Wheels."

Hello

I would like to extend a friendly hello the following Antioch area people. Now remember the rules, folks, if I say hello to you via Hometown Goodies, you then owe me a tidbit. Hello Linda Boerman, Pat Lepsi, Ron Buss, Laura Edelman, Carl Dunfrund, Claudia Kasprzak, John Hartl, Delores Mulcahy, Dan Tybor, Betty Wojtowicz, Rick Hansen, Joyce Sondag, Mandy Tomasello, Lidia Olesky, Darlene Slightham, Cathy Milovanovic (perhaps some up-dated news on Kaja), Susie Kolle, Gail Lindstrom, Nancy Nava, Marlene Olsen, Sr. and Patrick J. Smerz. That's it, and I'll be waiting.

Fish story

I wonder how three people can be fishing in the same boat, using the same fishing lures and only one out of the three catch fish. This is often the case when my husband and I fish with our son Jim. He caught five large mouth bass in about 20 minutes as we fished Alequash Lake near Boulder Junction. In the same amount of time, I caught zero and hubby got two. It doesn't seem fair, especially when I try so hard. I felt better when we fished Big Twin the next day and boated the first fish. However, the men tell me that a 2 inch perch doesn't count!

Two teens earn scholarship prize at Hawthorn Lanes

Adam DeCalluwe, a 13-year-old from Mundelein, and Matt Miller, an 18-year-old from Buffalo Grove, were the winners of the second annual Hawthorn Lanes Youth Scholarship Program.

DeCalluwe and Miller bowled a 715 handicap series. DeCalluwe shot a 567 scratch series with a 148-pin handicap. Miller shot a 705 scratch series with a nine-pin handicap. Each won $400.

Bowling a 711 (563 scratch plus a 148-pin handicap) and winning the $250 third place scholarship was Lindsey Siegel, a 14-year-old who finished fourth in the 1993 tournament.

The youngest players were both 9 years old. Jeremy Graham of Buffalo Grove bowled a 694 handicap series which was 148 pins over his 106 average. Graham's score was good enough for fourth place and a $200 scholarship.

Adam Moss, the other 9-year-old, bowled a 654 handicap series, which was 108 pins over his 111 average. He placed ninth and captured a $100 prize.

Nine capture medals in national tae kwon do tourney

Nine local tae kwon do martial artists walked away with medals during the 14th U.S. Junior Olympic Tae Kwon Do Championships held at the Rosemont Horizon.

A field of more than 4,400 6- to 16-year-old tae kwon do competitors traveling as far away as Alaska and Hawaii converged at the Rosemont for the event. Approximately 20,000 spectators also were on hand.

With more than 4,400 of each state's best tae kwon do competitors, the event was dubbed the largest martial arts tournament ever held anywhere in the world.

Thirty seven athletes from K.H. Kim's Tae Kwon Do Academy in Lake Zurich and Libertyville qualified for the nationals, and nine captured gold, silver and bronze medals in either sparring or forms during the three-day event.

Students who won medals from Kim's Academy in Lake Zurich included:

- Kristen Cartenson of North Barrington. She won a bronze medal as a black belt in forms in the under 12 classification.

- Brian Parks of North Barrington. He won a bronze medal as a red belt in forms in the under 12 classification.

- Kristen Milosch of Wauconda. She won a silver medal as a red belt in forms in the under 7 classification. Milosch earned a gold medal last year in the nationals.

- Laura Houtz of Kildeer. She won a bronze medal in sparring as a blue belt in the under 14 classification.

- Elliot Weston of Barrington Hills. He won a bronze medal in sparring as a blue belt in the under 11 classification.

- Evan Weston of Barrington Hills. He won a bronze medal in sparring as a blue belt in the under 9 classification.

"Anytime you have a half dozen kids win medals in the national tournament, I think you're doing pretty good," said John Kelly, a martial arts instructor at K. H. Kim's in Lake Zurich.

Out of 21 qualifiers for the tournament from Lake Zurich, 18 competed in the national event.

At Kim's Academy in Libertyville, 16 qualified for the tournament and 15 competed with three earning medals. They included:

- Cyrus Vandervala, 6, who won silver medals in both forms and sparring. Vandervala is a red belt.

- Nicole Tonioni, 9, who won a bronze medal in sparring. She is a purple belt.

- Ryan Maylor, 8, who won a gold medal in sparring. Maylor is a black belt.

"They represented themselves and their school very, very well," said Dave Hatch, a martial arts instructor at Kim's in Libertyville.

He added, "I'm very proud. They worked hard and they earned it."

Kurt Lang, master instructor of K.H. Kim's academics, said "It makes me feel good when my kids excel and reach their full potential."

During closing ceremonies, Olympic Committee Chairman Juan Samaranch announced that tae kwon do will become an official Olympic sport.

YMCA seeks swim instructors

The Lake County Family YMCA in north Waukegan is looking for volunteers ages 16 and older to help with swimming lessons for the fall classes which begin Sept. 6.

As an aquatic volunteer who gives five hours or more a week, volunteers would receive

- Training to help teach swim lessons
- Early registration on YMCA classes
- Discount on YMCA classes
- Free recreational use of the YMCA
- Free babysitting during volunteer hours
- The rewards of helping others

To become a YMCA aquatic volunteer, call Karl Kopp at 360-9622.

CLC conducts basic skills assessment

The College of Lake County will conduct free basic skills assessments for students who need to demonstrate their skills in reading, writing and math before registering for the fall semester.

Testing is available on a walk-in basis at the Grayslake campus and includes a computerized reading, writing and mathematics test. Students should plan to spend approximately two-and-a-half hours. Study guides are available. Tests will be administered on the Grayslake campus through Aug. 20 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday. Additionally, testing will also be available between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. on Saturdays after Aug. 8.

At CLC's Lakeshore campus in Waukegan, tests will be given at different times on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays through Aug. 20. Call the student services center at 623-8551 for specific times.

For more information, contact the Grayslake campus at 223-3613 and Lakeshore Campus at 623-8551.

LAKE COUNTY ISSUES

Organization determined to change system

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

While Parents United for Child Support (PUFCS) may have originated with a couple of disgruntled custodial parents, the backbone and determination of these people may just prove you can fight city hall. Their goal is to reform the current child support system into a more user-friendly mechanism.

"There is a serious problem with the system," explains Francine Jones, one of the founding members of PUFCS. "It just doesn't work."

And, Jones can give you a blow-by-blow description of her continuing eight-year ordeal to get her court ordered child support. The miles and miles of red tape could discourage the most determined parent.

This is especially true in Lake County. "The Child Support Division is operated from the public aid office," said Jones. This requires parents to navigate the public aid office, even if they are not eligible for public aid.

"Once public aid gets it, then the States Attorney's Office must take it to court," Jones continued. Then, if the custodial parent is lucky and is able to locate the non-paying parent and get him or her into court, once the continuations are over, the non-custodial parent is levied.

The contribution is then taken out of the non-custodial parents paycheck and sent to the Circuit Court Clerk in Waukegan. The money is then sent to Springfield, and a check is then issued to the other parent. That is, assuming, there are no glitches in the system along the way.

"They began to take money out of his paycheck on Dec. 10," said Jones. "It took until January 30 to get the first check."

Jones was able to get exactly eight checks between January and March, until her ex-husband quit his job. She began to ask authorities, "If he is willing to quit his job, why can't we lock him up. That is what the system is supposed to do." And, that is what finally happened.

They were back in court on June 3, and her ex-husband was put in jail on July 8 "with a purge order which allows him to pay a percentage of the amount he owes to get out." Her ex-husband was able to pay the amount, but at the end of July, Jones still has not received a dime.

"The process is long and slow," she sighed. "There are a lot of doors slammed into your face."

Jones has found it is almost a full-time job to obtain court ordered child support. After eight years of battling, she has

Lake County Museum wins national award

Lake County Museum in Wauconda was one of six Illinois museums and historical societies selected to receive national awards by the American Association for State and Local History (AASLH), a not-for-profit professional organization of individuals and institutions working to preserve and promote history.

The other winners include: Early American Museum,

Mahomet, and Land of Lincoln Quilters Association; The Everett McKinley Dirksen Congressional Leadership Research Center, Pekin; Roselle Historical Foundation; DuPage County Historical Museum, Wheaton; and St. Charles Historical Society. The six will be officially recognized on September 29 at the AASLH Annual Meeting in Omaha, Neb.

"The AASLH Awards Program is the nation's most prestigious competition for recognition of achievement in the preservation and interpretation of local, state and regional history," said AASLH Executive Director and CEO Patricia Gordon Michael. "We congratulate the winners on the work that has brought them this honor."

The highest honor, an Award of Merit, was given to the Early American Museum in Mahomet and the Land of Lincoln Quilters Association for the Illinois Quilt Research Project, a multi-year effort to document quilts made in Illinois throughout the years.

The Lake County Museum received a Certificate of Commendation for its oral history project, "Profiles in Excellence."

Democrat hopeful Walberg aims to restore fiscal order

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Robert Walberg will have quite a task running against biennial incumbent Phil Crane for the 8th Dist. Congressional seat, but he hopes voters will recognize that a change in their future starts with a change in office.

Famed Yankee legend and often quoted Yogi Berra once said, "The future ain't what it used be." Walberg believes there is a lot to be said about that somewhat twisted, yet wise, line of thinking by the former Yankee catcher.

Walberg, a Democrat, does not wear the typical Democrat hat. As a senior stock analyst at MMS International, Walberg regularly offered his expertise on the stock market and the economy to CNN and the Chicago Tribune.

And fiscal responsibility is what he wants to restore in the federal government.

"It is becoming harder and harder for young people to buy homes," said Walberg, comparing a loss of buying power for people entering the job market today as compared to 20 years ago.

Former generations enjoyed annual GNP increases of 3.5 percent, while the GNP has been increasing at approximately 1.5 percent over the last decade.

Walberg said that difference has played a big role in why today's salaries are not worth as much as they were yesteryear.

"We spend 10 times more just paying the interest on our debts than we do on education," Walberg said.

To reduce the federal debt problem, the Democrat not only suggests reducing government spending, but he also would cut capital gains taxes to encourage investment and to help stimulate the economy.

He hopes to encourage businesses to invest in the infrastructure by offering them tax incentives.

In the education field, Walberg said the government needs to consider vocational training as a serious alternative education.

"We're the only Western nation that doesn't support vocational training," Walberg said.

In the area of health care reform, Walberg said he favors a universal coverage plan but said it would be something that needs to be phased in over years. He also said the government would have to get it finances in order before it could jump into such a plan.

Walberg said he wants to avoid the inter-party mudslinging that occurred between the Republican candidates during the primaries and focus on the issues.

Community Action Movement celebrates 30th anniversary

The Lake County Community Action Project will join in the 30th anniversary celebration of the Community Action Movement in the nation with an outdoor celebration Aug. 19. Opening remarks will be delivered by Rep. Philip Crane, Barbara Gordon, executive director of CCAP, Rev. Olen Arrington, Jr. and Robert Neal.

The celebration is slated to begin at noon and will include entertainment, local talent, presentations by notables and dignitaries, food, fun and information. An Art Fair will feature local artists' crafts and designs and select paintings from the Head Start Children's Museum.

Additionally, free blood pressure checks and other medical and social service agency information will be available. Voters registration will be ongoing throughout the event.

"A Taste of Diversity," begins at 12:30 p.m. and features samples of multi-cultural cuisine prepared by area cooks and participating food vendors.

A parade lead by Rear Admiral Mack C. Gaston, Commander, Naval Training Center, Great Lakes will mark the actual day that the Economic Opportunity Act was signed, Aug. 20. For more information about the parade call Shirley Ewing at 249-4330.

Throughout the week open houses will be held at several facilities.

AT A GLANCE

Cousins collide, one dead

VOLO—Wauconda and Fox Lake paramedics attended an accident scene on Fox Lake Road Friday evening, after Island Lake resident Daniel Dean, 25, reportedly lost control of a 1992 white Lincoln which ran into a Jeep Wrangler driven by Tara Swanson, 18, also of Island Lake. Daniel's sister, 20-year-old Tammy was reported as being dead on arrival. According to reports, Daniel was on his way from the Fox Lake area when he lost control and the car slid sideways into Swanson's Jeep.

Chaplain earns honor

ROUND LAKE PARK—Rev. Lisle Kauffman was awarded the John Price Award for excellence in Law Enforcement Chaplaincy by the International Conference of Police Chaplains. He was recognized for his work with Round Lake Area police departments and the Round Lake Fire Protection District.

Development going forward

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The proposed Rollins Crossing Shopping Center is moving full speed ahead with three stores expected to open in November. The anchor store is a Super Kmart which will have around 200,000 square feet of space. Also to be constructed will be a Sears Paint and Hardware outlet and a Super Trak auto parts store.

Arts and Crafts Fair canceled

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Arts and Crafts Fair, scheduled for Aug. 13 and 14 has been canceled. However, the second fair, set for Sept. 10 and 11 is still expected to be held. If held in September, the fair will be changing locations this year. Instead of holding the fair at Williams Park, the fair will be held in the gangways, main thoroughfares, and parking lots in the village.

Pet goat is official resident

MUNDELEIN—The Permits Committee cited a ruling from the Third District Appellate Court in recommending that a village ordinance be amended to allow a Mundelein girl to keep a pet pygmy goat within its boundaries. Kelsey McNitt, 12, suffers from migraine headaches which appear to be eased when she is with the goat. The change in the ordinance is to be carefully worded and should be in effect within two months.

Agreement is hypocritical

HAWTHORN WOODS—A Hawthorn Woods Village trustee called the agreement between the Corridor Planning Council and the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority over the proposed extension of Rte. 53 hypocritical and urged the board to withdraw from the CPC. Trustee Andy Bitta said the extension would aggravate flooding along the Des Plaines River Corridor, including Indian and Buffalo creeks, and contaminate well water used by Hawthorn Woods village residents. Other trustees pointed to a termination clause that would dissolve the agreement once construction commences. The board will decide whether to disengage from the CPC at its next meeting after hearing from CPC and toll authority officials.

School busing blues

GRAYSLAKE—Parents in Grayslake School District 46 are incensed over proposed bus routes for the 1994-95 school year. The source of their complaints involve which students will not be picked up by school buses. The school board determined that anyone living within a mile and a half radius from district schools will not be picked up by the bus. Parents living on the fringe of that radius have argued that distance is too far and unsafe to expect a small child to walk when the parents are unable to transport them. The board stated they have been running a deficit in the transportation budget and the state is the party who prescribes the radius. The state will not subsidize busing of students inside the mile and a half radius.

Fire Dept. requests are costly

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Fire Department has made a request to village officials to spend $1.5 million on a 100-foot aerial ladder truck and three other vehicles to replace those that have exceeded their usefulness. The ladder truck, priced at $650,000, would enable the department to fight fires from above and make rescues both above and below ground level, as well as across bodies of water and ice. Adding the ladder truck would add a new dimension to the fire department and make it self-sufficient, said Fire Capt. David Wheelock. A village board sub-committee will hold further discussions with the fire department and Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection District concerning the vehicles. The department had hoped to purchase the vehicles, including an engine, ambulance and squad vehicle, by the end of the year.

New policies may restrict

WAUCONDA—New policies regarding student expression and distribution of literature to students by non-students are scheduled to be discussed at Wauconda Unit District 118's upcoming board meeting. This is a final response to a legal case that has lingered in the district for almost four years, ever since 13-year-old Megan Hedges distributed a religious newspaper to other students at Wauconda Junior High School. The policy restricts student expression when it violates the rights of other students and is deemed inappropriate for their maturity level, and distribution of literature is permitted only by school sponsored organizations and only before and after school in a specific place to be designated by the school principal. Board members will further discuss the policies at their Aug. 18 board meeting.

United Way of Lake County states 1994 campaign goal

United Way of Lake County has announced a goal of $7.15 million for its annual fundraising campaign, a 4.4 percent increase over monies pledged in 1993.

1994 United Way of Lake County Campaign Chairman Donald M. Peterson, president and chief executive officer of Trustmark Insurance Company, explained that this goal represents the minimum amount of funding needed for United Way of Lake County agencies to function as they have in the past. "Lake County's population is rapidly increasing, with real human needs keeping pace. Through the combined effort of our enthusiastic, hard working volunteer team, I am confident we will reach our goal and maintain critical support for the United Way of Lake County human service agencies which are providing vital services to our growing community."

Elizabeth Jan Edgar, president of United Way of Lake County, added, "We had an outstanding 1993 campaign despite challenging local circumstances such as company layoffs and relocations. This is because people in Lake County generously respond when they understand the great needs that exist. We are hopeful the community will respond again in 1994 to build on last year's success, so we can continue to fund viable existing programs and innovative new ones."

The United Way of Lake County Campaign supports 106 programs offered through 50 local agencies. For more information about United Way of Lake County or volunteer opportunities, call 816-0063.

Casual, friendly atmosphere at Gilmer Roadhouse

The Gilmer Roadhouse is the place to be when you're in the mood for a friendly, casual dining experience. The food, service, and prices are great, making Gilmer Roadhouse a great place for the whole family!

"It's a good place to come with jeans and a sportshirt and not have to worry about dressing up," owner Dean Taggart said.

Gilmer Roadhouse offers a variety of food to please everyone. If salads are your favorite, Gilmer has a huge selection available in small and large, depending on your appetite. The antipasto salad is just great along with the popular seafood salad. Plus, salads are served with fresh baked bread.

The Roadhouse has one of the best appetizer selections in the county. The appetizer combo plate includes a sample of the best of the bunch with mushrooms, onion rings, zucchini, and mozzarella sticks. The appetizer menu includes hot and spicy Buffalo wings, or you can make a whole meal of the pizza sticks.

You can also start your meal with any one of Gilmer's tempting soups. Popular choices include the minestrone on Tuesday and Saturday and the chicken noodle on Monday. Baked French onion is a regular feature.

The Gilmer Roadhouse has a brand new menu with old favorites and a few new delights. The house specialty is baby back ribs.

"I've had people say to me they have been to places that specialize in ribs that don't compare to ours. Our special sauce is a medium sauce. It's not too sweet or too bland, it's somewhere in between. They satisfy a wide array of appetites," said Taggart.

For lovers of Italian food, nothing beats the homemade lasagna or pizza, either thin crust or pan. The pizza is made from scratch from the sauce right down to the crust and is sure to become a family favorite.

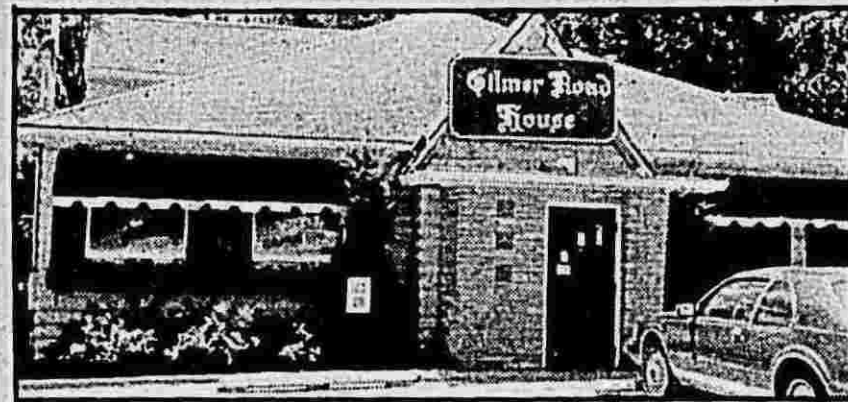

On Fridays stop in for the all-you-can-eat fish fry, with a choice of cod or ocean perch or a mix of both for just $5.95. The price includes choice of potato, homemade soup (be sure and try the New England clam chowder) or salad and garlic bread.

If it's a god burger you crave there is nothing better than sinking your teeth into a thick half-pound made-to-order charbroiled burger. There are 10 varieties of burgers with a full range of garnishes, if you don't see a combination that appeals to you they will mix and match items for a one-of-a-kind taste sensation.

Reasonable prices make the Gilmer Roadhouse a great place to take the entire family. Items from the children's menu start at just $2.95.

Restaurant hours are Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., on Friday and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and on Sundays from 8 a.m. to 9.30 p.m.

Gilmer Roadhouse is located on the corner of Gilmer and Midlothian Roads. For carry out orders or for reservations call 438-0300.

Yan's Hunan Inn has great food in two locations

Yan's Hunan Inn, both I and II is "the" place to go when you are craving Chinese food in Lake County. Luncheon specials, family dinners, combination plates, and formal entrees combine to make a veritable feast for diners.

Lunch begins at 11 a.m. at Yan's Hunan Inn. The restaurants boast 20 specials which include hot and spicy dishes, meatless dishes, and old-time favorites. All specials include a choice of hot and sour, wonton, or egg drop soup, and are served with white rice.

Combination plates feature a choice of soup, and are served with fried rice and an egg roll. Spare ribs, sweet and sour pork or chicken, beef chop suey, chicken or pork egg foo young, and shrimp with lobster sauce are just a few of the featured items.

There is a huge selection of dinner delights to choose from. Several of the dishes are hot and spicy, but Yan's Hunan Inn will alter the spice according to your taste. House dinners cost $15.95 per person and include a glass of house wine, soup, an appetizer, a choice from 13 main entrees, and dessert.

The sliced beef with scallions is absolutely delicious and the flowery chicken is out-of-this-world. Some of the spicy dishes include sliced prawns with garlic sauce, the Hunan beef, lamb with spicy and tangy sauce, and General Ching's chicken. For dessert, try the stuffed honey banana that comes with the meal.

Families are not left out at Yan's Hunan Inn. This great bargain costs $11 per person and includes from one to three main course selections with many sides. Families are offered a choice of soup, appetizers, and for dessert, an almond cookie.

Yan's has a number of house specialties priced from $7.95 to $15.95. The "Sizzling Three Musketeers" includes fresh scallops, sliced prawns and beef served with assorted vegetables prepared in the chef's special sauce and served on a hot plate. The house special beef, one of the spicier selections, is deep fried tender sliced beef that is crispy on the outside and tender in the middle. The beef is sautéed with orange peels, and has a sweet and spicy flavor.

The restaurant also offers more traditional Chinese fare including chow mein, chop suey, egg foo young, lo mein, fried rice, and vegetable dishes. Other favorites include sweet and sour chicken, seafood dishes, pork dishes, and beef and lamb selections.

Yan's Hunan Inn has two locations at 100 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Libertyville (816-6988) and at 911 Lakehurst Road in Waukegan (473-1660). The hours for both locations are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Candidate pulls to get funds for destitute areas of county

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Describing himself as a "Conservative Democrat," Christopher Wakefield is using his knowledge and hard work to help get support for several impoverished areas in the county.

The history making Lake Bluff resident is the first African-American to run for state representative in Lake County.

Since February Wakefield, of the 59th Representative District, has been gathering support and participation from various corporations and businesses, working to get part of $50 million in general revenue funds which will be disbursed over the next ten years.

Waukegan and North Chicago are the Lake County targets for that money. Plans are to make the funds available in $5 million increments over state fiscal years 1995 through 2004. The funds will be divided among 20 other applicants in the state, explained Wakefield.

The candidate said if the North Chicago/Waukegan Coalition gets designated, they will receive $3 million this year which will be used to help residents with job training programs, additional drug treatment programs, development incentives, tax breaks and streamlining of federal business regulations.

Wakefield said he would especially like to see the state's Headstart pre-school program expanded as part of the funding.

To become "designated," explained Wakefield, applications are submitted to HUD (Housing and Urban Development) and also the state of Illinois.

"If we get that designation," said Wakefield, "we'll be like a gold mine." The candidate explained that the areas will then have federal preference for other types of funding.

The state's determination on the funding should be known by the end of the month.

The first meeting to try and channel some of the billions of dollars in assistance under President Bill Clinton's Economic Development Act was held in March, just days before the primary elections.

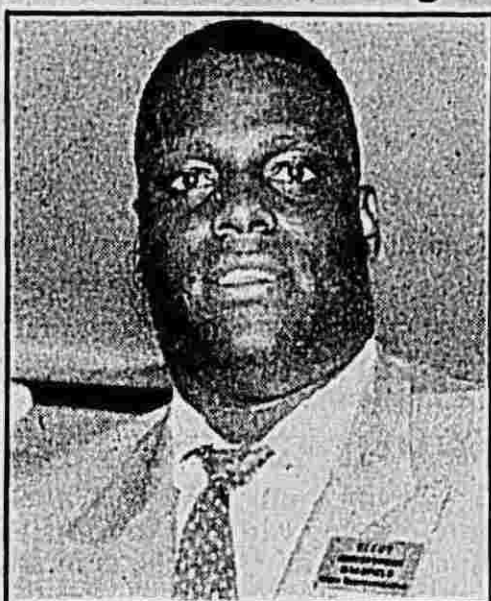

At that time the Round Lake area was included for some of the funding, as well as Zion. Reportedly they didn't have the numbers to meet the criteria, "but they'll reap in the long run," said Wakefield. If the funding is received "the whole county will benefit."

A lifelong Lake County resident, Wakefield listed some of the many supporters of the "Enterprise Community." Among the letters and resolutions of support were from corporations such as Abbott Laboratories, Ameritech, The Fox Lake State Bank; Motorola and YMCA of Northeastern Illinois.

Elected officials who have agreed to support the cause include United States Senator Paul Simon, United States Senator Carol Moseley-Braun, State Representative John Porter, State Senator Grace Mary Stern, Chairman of the Lake County Board Robert W. Depke, and North Chicago Mayor Bobby E. Thompson among others.

Wakefield, an insurance broker with Monumental Life in Des Plaines, is excited about those who have pledged their support for the cause. He is also delighted about his up and coming fund raiser to be held Aug. 27, and the dignitaries who will attend.

Sen. Simon has already agreed to attend the fund raiser, and Carol Moseley-Braun may also attend. Special guest former Chicago Bear star Curtis Gentry will be on hand, and also Joe Clark, whose life story was made into the movie "Lean on Me" will be the motivational speaker at the fund raiser. The event will take place at Daisy's Developmental Resource Center, 1919 Sherman Ave. in North Chicago starting at 5:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and afterwards there will be an art auction.

Wakefield said an area artist has donated some of his best work to be auctioned off at the event.

Tickets are $20 each and are available by calling (708) 234-4928.

Wakefield ran unopposed in the Democratic primary, and he will face Republican Thomas Lachner of Lake Bluff in the Nov. 8 election for the House seat.

United Way of Lake County plans for TEAM Day

United Way of Lake County is announcing plans for their first TEAM (Together Everyone Accomplishes More) Day to be held Friday, August 12. Registration begins at 7 a.m. with actual work projects beginning at 7:30 a.m. TEAM Day involves United Way of Lake County mobilizing volunteers to improve our community.

Hundreds of volunteers from local companies will gather at Magee Middle School, located in the Round Lake Area Schools, District 116. Magee Middle School was chosen as the community work site because it met the criteria of need, availability and space to accommodate the many volunteers. Due to a low assessed valuation, a change in the state funding formula and a property tax cap, the Round Lake Area Schools receive less than $4,600 per student—one of the lowest amounts in the county. "There's just no money for anything other than the absolute necessities," says Linda Wiltberger, Grant Writer/Public Relations Director. "I can't tell you how much this effort will mean to the 800 children attending Magee this fall."

Work projects will include painting, ceiling and wall repair, carpet installation, shelving, cabinetry, landscaping and window washing. United way of Lake county is targeting local companies for both volunteer support and contributions of supplies. "Though our primary function is to provide funding for the many human service agencies in the county, our Volunteer Center has become involved in this project as we strive to improve the image of the entire community," says Jan Edgar, President of United Way of Lake County.

Abbott Laboratories, Allstate Insurance, Baxter Healthcare, Commonwealth Edison, Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Gypsum Supply East, K-Mart—Round Lake Beach, Manpower Temporary Services, Pace Communications, Pepsi-Cola Bottlers, Sam's Club, Target Greatland-Gurnee, Trustmark Insurance, Wal-Mart—Round Lake Beach and Wolohan Lumber have already committed to TEAM Day. Abbott Administrative Services Director and United way of Lake County Marketing Chairman Terry Simmons adds, "Our Goal of TEAM Day is to create an awareness among Lake County residents of the great needs in our communities. It is our hope that all of the volunteers will feel a great sense of pride with what was accomplished at Magee, and that they were able to make a difference in Lake County."

Laddie wants your love

Laddie is a 4 year old, mostly sheltie mix male. Laddie is medium size, with a flowing irresistibly soft, tri-color coat, and one of the sweetest faces we've ever seen on a dog. And that face is a mirror into Laddie's heart. Although Laddie definitely prefers teens and adults, he is extra-ordinarily lovable and affectionate.

Full of responsive playfulness, Laddie will literally love you to pieces. Smart and eager to please, this is a thoroughly gentle dog who is very obedient and sits on command. He's waiting eagerly in cage 13.

A cash $55 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, leash, follow-up care, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for further information.

Community shower to mark official opening of women, children's program

"Family Fun Day" is the theme of a "community shower" planned for the Aug. 14 official opening of the facility for DEBUT, the women and children's program of Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA).

DEBUT, which stands for Dignity and Esteem Beginning with Understanding and Trust, is an intensive day treatment program for substance-abusing, poverty-ridden women and their children in Waukegan, North Chicago and Zion. Operating out of the Bridge House in Waukegan since January, the program is scheduled to move in late July to a remodeled, former church at 2031 Dugdale Ave., North Chicago.

Scheduled to run from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 14, the "Family Fun Day" community shower will feature a ribbon cutting ceremony, entertainment, refreshments and tours. Rear Admiral Mack Gaston, commander of Great Lakes Naval Training and member of the NICASA board, will give remarks. In addition, North Chicago elected officials will attend including Audrey Nixon, Lake County Board member. Price of admission will be a gift for the program.

Judy Fried, NICASA's executive director, said many wonderful volunteers from the advisory board of DEBUT and the women's board of NICASA are preparing for the "Family Fun Day."

Those helping to plan the event include: co-chairs Nancy Magee and Kathy White-Cohen and members Redia Anderson-Payne, Elaine Browder, Faye Cater, Marsha Christoffel, Dana Depke, Diana Deterding, Valery Gallagher, Stephanie Harris, Nancy Jennings, Karla Mota, Audrey Nixon, Molly Parman, Katie Paul, Linda Schueneman, Cindy Schwab, Cindy Simmons, Liz Tanner, Denise Vickers, Carol Yates and Liz Yore.

According to Judy Fried, project director Joann Jacobs came up with the idea for a community shower as a means of generating donations of toys and a variety of day care, office and educational supplies for the program.

Individuals and organizations who would like to donate items to DEBUT are encouraged to bring them on Family Fun Day, Fried said, or they can arrange to deliver them in advance by phoning

Some of the items requested for the DEBUT program include:

Daycare needs—baby Pampers, baby combs and brushes, baby food, car seats, bath towels and wash cloths, formula, manipulative toys, musical pull toys, puzzles, receiving blankets, wall decorations, cassette players, mittens and hats.

Office and general needs—art supplies (felt paper, construction paper, paint, glue and glitter), computers and printers, exercise equipment, fire extinguishers, flowers for a flower garden, folding chairs, garden tools, hand soap and dispensers, food service items (serving trays, aluminum foil, serving bowls, serving spoons, serving materials and Ziploc storage bags), mops and mop wringers, microwave and stand, picnic tables, slide projector, space heaters, surgical gloves and wall clocks.

joined together with Audry Kirkpatrick, Kathy Cline and Karen Clement to change the system and help other parents along the way.

The group has filed for not-for-profit status, is beginning to circulate petitions, and now has a phone line for the organization. They have also met with Round Lake Park Mayor Charlene Beyer, State Sen. Al Salvi's office, State Senator Bill Peterson's Office, and talked with the States Attorney's Office as well.

"I am very impressed with their dedication to their children," said Jan Zobus of Senator Peterson staff. "I have never felt they have been doing it for selfish motives. It is for their children and other children."

Zobus believes that the existing agencies want to help but "our hands are tied." "It is like untangling a giant string," said Zobus.

And, the system is not easy on parents who do pay child support either. To give a simple example, consider a non-custodial parent making $300 a week. A child support payment of 30 percent, would reduce his income to $200 a week. However, the wage earner then must pay taxes and insurance on the entire amount, which can total as high as another 30 percent. That leaves the wage earner with a very small paycheck each week.

Even worse, if that parent has remarried and has more children, then both families could be impoverished. At this time, other than the moral obligation to pay, there is little incentive to make the payments. Except, of course, the avoidance of jail and public humiliation.

Non-custodial parents do not get a tax break for the payment of child support, and the majority are ineligible to deduct their children on income taxes. Yet, alimony payments to ex-spouses are fully deductible.

Zobus admitted that the incentives to pay are just not there. She also said she was unaware of any movement in Congress or the State Legislature to create incentives.

"It's a dilemma," said Zobus. And, members of PUFCS are also aware of the problem.

"We need to all work together," said Jones. "If parents are making an effort to pay, the situation needs to be fair."

PUFCS is hoping to find attorneys who will assist parents at a low or no cost to wind their way through the legal forest. The group has discovered that roughly 90 percent of the parents seeking child support are able to locate the non-paying parent.

"Our organization will also help parents with visitation problems, child support, and parent's rights," said Jones. "We are accepting calls from attorneys who will help."

The group is seeking funding through grants and donations. Anyone interested in helping out or in need of help should call (708) 546-8440.

PUFCS is planning a trip to Washington in September to meet jointly with Senators Paul Simon and Carol Mosely Braun. "It is unfortunate that the trip is necessary," said Zobus. "It is an expense they don't need. But, here again it illustrates the difficulties and red-tape that is out there."

Type of canner important for home canning, food preservation

Selecting the type of canner in which to process different foods can be a dilemma for beginning home canners. "Safety is always a primary factor, but quality should be considered as well," according to Susan Brewer, University of Illinois Extension food preservation specialist.

"The pressure canner is the only canner to use for vegetables and meats," Brewer said. "The temperature of a boiling water bath is not hot enough to destroy all the illness-causing bacteria in these foods." Fruits and pickles, however, have enough acid to control a lot of the bacteria, so the lower temperature of the boiling water bath is enough to keep them safe. For safety's sake, some people prefer to can everything in a pressure canner even though the quality of some foods may be sacrificed. For example, berries, soft fruits or cucumbers may have an unappealing texture after pressure canning, even though they are safe to eat.

The gauge of a dial gauge canner should be checked every year to be sure it is accurate. If it is inaccurate, you may not be processing low-acid foods at a high enough temperature to make them safe to eat. Dial gauges can get out of adjustment and no longer give an accurate reading of the pressure inside of the canner. This happens as the gauge gets old or with heavy use of the gauge which results in expansion and contraction of the metal parts, causing them to become brittle.

The Lake County Cooperative Extension Service will be testing pressure canner gauges Tuesday, Aug. 16 or Saturday, Sept. 10 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the Grayslake Extension Unit Office at 100 S. Rte. 45 in Grayslake. Master Food Preservers will be on hand to conduct pressure canning gauge testing. These trained volunteers will also be available to answer questions and to give out literature on home canning and food preservation. For additional information on this free service call 223-8627.

Homespun baseball more fun than majors

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

You've heard of the fabulous Kane County Cougars?

The Cougars are the Class A Mid West League darlings of Fox River Valley fans who have learned to relish minor league baseball.

Considering the low state of labor relations for major league teams, baseball fans everywhere may have to cultivate new allegiances with teams like the Cougars. But that's another story.

The Cougars are fabulous because they make attending a baseball game a delightful experience. You don't even have to know anything about baseball to enjoy the young Cougars and the three-ring circus of fun that goes with their game of the day.

Is this the future of professional baseball if fans get turned off on the over-priced, over-hyped and over-bearing major league product? Could be. List your columnist as an instant convert after attending a game the other night at the spanking new stadium built over a former landfill, renamed Settlers Hill in its second life.

There's a break in the action between every inning to allow time for the corny stunts and contests that fans love. For pure hokum, top the human bowling ball who is rolled down a ramp into a stand of Styrofoam pins.

One break in the field action saw a trio of "marksmen" firing a mix of sponge balls and water balloons into the packed stands. Fans squealed with excitement over the centerfield horse "race," cardboard cutouts being hefted back and forth by carriers hidden by the fence.

A toddler selected by lot "raced" Ozzie the Cougar, around the basepaths, sliding into home narrowly ahead of the dawdling mascot. The dash won thunderous applause and cheers from the crowd announced at 6,750, well above the season average of 5,755.

With these numbers the franchise affiliated with the Miami Marlins who supply the field talent is setting both attendance and profit records in the fourth year of professional baseball at West Suburban Geneva. Club owners pay rent to the Kane County Forest Preserve District.

With a modern message board flashing birthday greetings, bingo scores and lucky numbers, plus the non-stop sideshow antics, there's little time to keep up with what's happening on the field. Maybe that's why the crowd, mostly kids and their parents, paid scant attention when the Cougars' stocky third baseman, Dave Berg, launched his seventh homer of the season, a legitimate big league shot over 400 feet to straight-away center.

Cougar fan-atics seem more interested in the ice cream and cake being served to an 11-year-old birthday boy, a homey touch that you'd never see in a million years at scruffy old Wrigley Field or generic Comiskey Park.

With great ballpark eats, kitchen-clean restrooms, wide walkways and a dust-proof parking lot where your car is safe and secure for only $1, about the only thing missing at Phil Elfstrom Field is the ring of high rises beyond the outfield walls.

In right center, the park is sporting a new bleacher section. Next to it is a party pavilion with umbrella-topped tables for private gatherings. If you really want to go high hat, reserve the Cougar version of a sky box with sofas, a TV set and individual stuffed chairs located at one end of the press box. (Call a year in advance. There's a waiting list).

Baseball purists aren't going to be disappointed. The players, many of them not yet of voting age, are slick fielders and fast. Their arms are strong and they hustle. Big difference between the Class A level and the million dollar brethren is that there's less hitting. That may be because the post-high school hurlers tend to be pretty wild. You don't dig in in the Mid West League, not if you value your life.

The pity of the Cougar success story is that it could have been duplicated in Lake County if it had not been for the Chicago Tribune meanies dropping a black ball on the premise that a fun, well followed team might show up their Cubbies.

Would Lake County fans support minor league baseball? You bet. This observer is convinced that we'd exceed the Fox River Valley product, good as it is.

If you'd like to take in a Cougar game before the Bears and Packers get rolling this fall, allow yourself more than an hour of drive time because of homeward bound traffic in the western suburbs. The return trip will take less time and be less hectic.

No one complains about the homespun baseball product, not even singing acappella at the seventh inning stretch without a celebrity leader. Holy Cow!

Hey, pal. Remember this ain't the bigs.

Bill Schroeder offers editorial commentary every Tuesday on Lake County Live, presented by STAR Channel 3/U.S. Cable at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Experts' conflicts confound decision

There are experts and then there are experts.

That seems to be the case in the hearings being conducted by the pollution control panel of the Lake County Board in preparation for making a recommendation on the application of USA Waste to expand Countryside Landfill.

The panelists have the owner's application contained in 18 volumes the document peppered with high powered documentation supporting the case for extending the landfill to the height of the County Building and expanding to provide solid waste disposal space for 20 years.

On the opposite side, panelists are contending with a furious onslaught from a newly organized environmental group, Illinois Citizen Action (ICA), operating out of Libertyville, that has gone to the trouble of positioning itself as a public education committee, as opposed to a political committee, for protection from possible lawsuit.

Basically, ICA is attempting to knock out the application on the basis that the former ARF landfill is loaded with 164 different "special wastes" that will be squeezed into aquifers serving wells in Grayslake, Libertyville and Mundelein. ICA claimed drilling to pump out the leachate toxins could produce a "catastrophic explosion."

USA Waste officials offer engineering reports to refute ICA charges. ICA Executive Director Earl Johnson blanched at the suggestion that ICA is employing scare tactics. "Public health is at stake," countered Johnson.

With expert opinion coming from all sides, the panelists have a job of Solomon proportions. We don't relish their position or the job of County Board members who face an Oct. 6 deadline.

Public health also is at stake if garbage produced by a county of more than 500,000 population isn't disposed properly.

Find no sympathy for gypped media

The media typically tends to overplay, and in some cases, fan the existence of illness in a political election.

That's why the serious illnesses experienced by major candidates in both Illinois parties is a tit for tat standoff as far as the campaign is concerned and a bit of a comeuppance for the media, albeit certainly unfortunate for the two individuals involved.

Had not both Republican Gov. Jim Edgar and Democratic lieutenant governor candidate Penny Severns experienced untimely health problems, news hawks undoubtedly would have done their best to make a "big deal" out of the illness of a high profile candidate.

As it is, we wish full recoveries for both Gov. Edgar, who had a clogged artery repaired, and to State Sen. Severns who underwent surgery to remove a malignant tumor from her breast. As for the media mavens who thrive on other peoples' misfortunes, all we have to say is, serves you right for getting gypped out of a story angle.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Endorses single payer

Editor:

The health care reform bill produced by the U.S. Senate Finance Committee is not for all.

It fails in a number of ways:

1. It aims at covering 95 percent of Americans by the year 2000. About 12 million Americans will be out in the cold. Many will not be able to afford preventive care and will continue using hospital emergency rooms for their primary care.

2. If 95 percent coverage is not achieved by 2000, the only mechanism to be set up is a commission to study the situation.

3. The bill allows a six-month waiting period for pre-existing conditions each time one changes a health insurance. What happens in the interim? Will this not discourage people from changing jobs? I thought we were aiming at portability in our health reform.

4. The bill effectively destroys the option of states to go to a single payer system.

The single payer, universal health care plan is the answer to the health care crisis. It would cover everyone, control skyrocketing costs, and give consumers real freedom to choose their own doctor—not just the right to select one from a panel of doctors in an HMO.

Gash abuses mailing

Editor:

A few days ago, I received in the mail what appeared to be a campaign brochure for Lauren Gash in the 60th District.

On reading it, I saw that this brochure was a taxpayer funded mail piece from our incumbent state representative.

Using taxpayer money for this type of brochure borders on abuse of Mrs. Gash's privileges as a legislator. We need a representative who upholds political integrity, and who opposes tax increases and unneeded spending, not one who uses taxpayers to finance her campaign.

Harmful leachate

Editor:

Expansion of Countryside Landfill by U.S.A. Waste Service, Inc. adjacent to Grayslake will increase the height on top of the old A.R.F. landfill by more than 100 percent (10 stories, as high as the county building).

Extraction of leachate from the bottom of the old landfill will be inadequate since the U.S. EPA has ruled out the installation of leachate extraction wells because of a possible catastrophic explosion during the drilling procedure. Therefore, the leachate, made up of 164 types of special wastes including hospital waste, crank case oil, lead and chrome sludge, fly ash, paint solvent and hydraulic oil will continue to leak into the ground water supply system of the Des Plaines River watershed which includes Bull Creek, Arbor Vista, Grayslake, Third Lake, Gages Lake and the Des Plaines River.

These toxic leachates are harmful to those dependent on the water supply for daily use (wells) and to the wildlife inhabiting the lakes, streams and rivers of the watershed. Furthermore, the seagulls will come en masse to continue their onslaught of pollution.

Our area has truly fulfilled its environmental obligation by providing garbage disposal to the county and surrounding areas for 25 years, as promised, at high environmental impact during operation and long after. The tipping fees collected See LETTERS page B9

PARTY LINES

Totten appointment seals Crane victory

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political opinion, is prepared from staff reports.

There's a lot hidden between the lines of the news release that heavy-hitting Republican strategist Don Totten of Schaumburg Township has signed on as Congressman Phil Crane's campaign chairman.

One thing, a highly regarded political pro like Totten isn't joining a lame duck effort, meaning that Crane isn't embarking on his last hurrah like a number of GOP wanabees have been dreaming.

Two. Totten won't tolerate intra-party mischief makers. Read Don's acceptance as In-Your-Face, Peter Fitzgerald.

Three. Totten doesn't take any prisoners. The Democrats will be hard put to field another 8th Dist. candidate after the 1994 race.

Richardson

Honored—Coroner Barbara Richardson will receive the Book of Golden Deeds, one of the most prestigious Exchange Club awards, at a dinner Sunday, Aug. 14, at the Country Squire. The presenting club, Grayslake Exchange, will also present other civic awards.

Possible runner—A sharp-eyed friend of Party Lines called to advise that Eleanor (Ellie) Rostron of Zion was overlooked in an abbreviated list of possible successors to State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) when he moves up in the political swirl. Rostron is a former County Board member.

Barkhausen

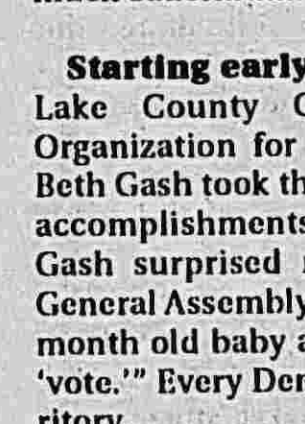

Where's Dave?—Reports coming out of Springfield are that State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Forest) hasn't been all that attentive to the Senate insurance committee he chairs. Onlookers are detecting on Dave's part a bit of disenchantment with the process. Possibly something to do with conflict of interest charges brought against him last year?

...

Late night reading—Wonder how many members of the pollution control panel of the Lake County Board have read the USA Waste Inc. petition for expansion? All 18 volumes. Word for word. Yeh, sure! Panelists will make a recommendation to the board as a whole whether the company should be permitted to raise Countryside Landfill on Rte. 83 to the equivalent of a 10 story building. County politicians face an October 6 deadline.

Staying in touch—Fred Foreman of Gurnee, immediate past U.S. attorney for northern Illinois, is keeping in the public eye by giving speeches at the South Central Lake County Chamber of Commerce (Lincolnshire) on violence in the workplace. Foreman said retail workers currently rank third nationwide among murder victims, after police officers and taxi drivers.

Schade

Smile, Edna—Party Lines has a box of Cracker Jacks waiting for the first caller to document the last time Edna Schade was seen smiling in public. Edna is carrying the GOP banner against State Rep. Lauren Geth Gash (D-Highland Park), who has vaulted to the select circle of Democratic stars. No wonder Schade looks like a diner who bit into a Reuben with too much sauerkraut.

Starting early—As a guest speaker for the Lake County Chapter of the National Organization for Women, State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash took the time to review some of her accomplishments as a freshman legislator. Gash surprised many with her Democrat victory in the 60th General Assembly Dist. To assure future victories, Gash asked a 14-month old baby attending the NOW meeting mom, "Can you say, 'vote.'" Every Democrat vote counts in Republican-dominated territory.

Political clout has its limits—State Rep. Andrea Moore of the 61st District is always willing to listen to constituents and help them out when it is appropriate. There are times, she says, when people think she can fix anything, however. Like the voter whose son had joined the armed services and found himself on the way to Bosnia. "I had to tell him there was really nothing I could do about that," she said.

Plan won't be voluntary

Editor:

Since there is not much said in the news about which health care package our senators Simon and Braun are supporting. I took it upon myself to call and ask. Both are supporting the Health Security Act proposed by Senator Kennedy. This is a plan that is based on President Clinton's Health Security Act, which pretty much gives the president what he wants except that individuals may go outside their insurance plan to seek medical help (they will have to pay for this on their own).

The act calls for a "National Health Board," or, in other words, more government. The act pushes school-based and school-linked centers. The act proposes that the providers, or the local health board, would prescribe the course of treatment for the patient. It does not say whether or not the patient would have anything to say about it.

In order to fund this act, individuals would have to obtain their insurance through one of three ways—through private insurance companies, through state mandated cooperatives, or we can enroll in a version of the Federal Employees Health Benefits Plan.

There are a few statements that I think are of particular interest. This is a quote from Section II, Part B. "No employer's share will be more than 12 percent of an employee's wage." Is it any wonder small businesses are running scared? Of course, that doesn't include the 20 percent that the employee will pay.

The last line in part D of the same section states, "Non-workers will receive subsidies based on income." Go figure!

Remember folks, this is not a voluntary program. Once this goes into effect, you are locked in. It will not be any more of a choice to join, or not join, than social security is today. We all know what a roaring success it is.

Remember Sen. Peterson

Editor:

With the upcoming November elections, we would like to recognize a candidate whose service has been exemplary.

We have known Bill Peterson for many years. Not only has he been an outstanding state senator, but his devotion to his family, friends and community have not gone unnoticed. He is a man of his word, a man who does what he says. What makes him stand out above the rest is that he does not forget the people that he serves. We feel fortunate to know a man whose character and integrity precede him, and who brings these high standards into the General Assembly.

The 26th District is fortunate to have such an outstanding state senator, and we hope that in November, the people in the district will vote for Bill Peterson.

Republicans undo GOP

Editor:

Sometimes the Republican Party seems to be its own worst enemy.

Bill Clinton, through his mismanagement of U.S. foreign policy and through high tax and spend economic policies, is now giving the Republican Party the opportunity to become the majority party.

Yet, instead of attacking Bill Clinton and the rest of the Democratic Party on these issues, leaders in the Republican Party are attacking—the Republican Party!

Recently, three Republican governors criticized the Republican platform for its conservatism and for recognizing an unborn child's right to life. These Republican leaders argue that conservatism mixed with a pro-life plank in the Republican platform weakens the Republican Party. To support this proposition, they cite the recent defeat of President George Bush, supposedly resulting from the 1992 Republican convention in Houston.

This ignores the fact that Ronald Reagan, a president far more conservative and committed to unborn children's rights than George Bush, was also far more popular than George Bush. The American people even gave Ronald Reagan a second term, re-electing him by a landslide. Virtually ignored is the fact that George Bush was originally pro-choice and his conversion and commitment to unborn children's rights were questionable at best.

Republican leaders should spend their time focusing on issues that Americans care about—economic prosperity and holding the line on taxes. It would be better for the Republican Party if Republicans campaigned discretely to change the Republican platform on abortion and focus their public attacks on Bill Clinton, his big taxes and big spending. Ronald Reagan always counseled Republicans to focus their public discussions on areas of agreement, and save the "out of media" debates for the disagreement.

As a Republican, I believe that abortion is nothing more than a form of legalized child abuse, which must be stopped. But now is not the time for Republicans to have violent public arguments over the issue. Republicans must unite and invest their public time to offer alternatives to the Clinton agenda before it is too late.

Job on auction block

Editor:

Voters beware! The Lake County Clerk's office is for sale and the Republican bosses are buying the election.

In recent news reports, we've learned that the Republican candidate for county clerk, Willard Helander, has already spent $18,000, leaving a balance in her war chest of $23,000. While Democratic candidate Kathy Ryg has spent $4,500, leaving a balance of only $5,100.

Since the county clerk's office is basically a ministerial office, with no policy making powers, why would companies like Cambridge Homes contribute $1,100, Maclean-Fogg $2,000, Building Commissioner Esper Peterson $2,000, the Lake County Riverboat Project $1,000, Bob Depke $2,000, Bob Neal $1,050, and Bob Churchill $1,000? And this only names a few.

Are the Republican bosses that obsessed with controlling every office in the Courthouse? Why are they pulling out all the stops to sink this kind of money into the county clerk's race?

This is exactly why a check and balance is needed in government. There must be at least one elected official from the Democratic Party holding office in Lake County.

Voters beware and remember, money can't vote, but we can!

Waukegan

This time a rodeo

Editor's note: Jim Johnson, a retired school principal, uses poetry to make a statement on public issues. He is a former Lake Zurich village trustee.

Most people are regular—average, just like you and me,

But there are a few who do not see as others see.

Some save a species; some have a strong religious cause;

Some won't spray lake weeds, fertilize, or wear fur mackinaws.

There are right wing folks and left wing folks,
There are white skin, black skin, yellow skin
"only" folks.

All have in common the same burning need
To advance their belief and spread their righteous seed.

Their way is good and true, with god on their side.
There is no compromise—no other way—it can't be denied.

Each cause is the most important—the only—the best.

There's a group to condemn rodeos, abortion, burn books and all the rest.

Society changes and makes corrections all of the time.

Often fueled by those driven in their causes sublime.

The hard core are all the same—fanatics, lunatic fringe however called.

They can do good or provoke murders, cross burnings, Nazi ghettos walled.

We, who are not blinded, the whole picture must see.

We cannot allow ourselves to be stampeded into acting impetuously.

We must not agree out of ignorance or follow the cause of the crowd

But study, think, see the whole picture and then,
SPEAK OUT LOUD.

Jim Johnson

Bayshore offers affordable living in growing community

With the prices of new homes continually increasing, many families may despair of ever finding a place to call their own. Some companies are trying to change that, however.

Started in 1972, Bayshore Builders counters the notion that new, semi-custom homes have to be out of reach. Starting in Cook, McHenry, and DuPage counties, Bayshore has begun its second Lake County venture in North Chicago. Bob Labus of Bayshore says that although the North Chicago parcel of land is divided into 25 lots, Bayshore will build anything anywhere the customer desires.

Although the company has constructed developments as large as 285 units, the company's specialty, however, is small scale development.

"I like things smaller," says Labus. "Something I can handle. See Bayshore page B12

Bayshore Builders is offering three models to home buyers at Victoria Square in North Chicago. The models offer quality building and value-pricing. The units have been attracting Navy families and those of Abbott Employees. Bayshore has been building homes since 1972. Right, large windows in the dining area provide for lots of natural light in the eating area.

myself. There are about five big developers (in the county) and most of them are looking for 400 or 500 acres to build on." The current North Chicago development is about five acres.

The location is beneficial to both developer and buyer. North Chicago is projected to be a "boom town" in the coming years, and is host to both Abbott Laboratories and Great Lakes Naval Training Center. The town is close to the tollway, facilitating access for Chicago commuters. The cost of acquiring land tends to be less expensive than in other parts of the county, as well.

The homes Bayshore is constructing range from 1,400 to 2,100 square feet, and prices run from about $127,000 to $162,000. A wide variety of styles is offered, and homes can be also be built to suit a family's particular desires, something a larger company may not be able to do.

The models incorporate the latest styles, with a lot of window area and wood accents. The model open to the public also features extensive use of mirrors, used to open up and accentuate the sense of space.

Labus stresses that there is "no comparison" between homes built by a small scale company and those built by larger developers. Bayshore homes are stick built from scratch, not prefabricated. Bayshore can also add "just about anything the buyer wants."

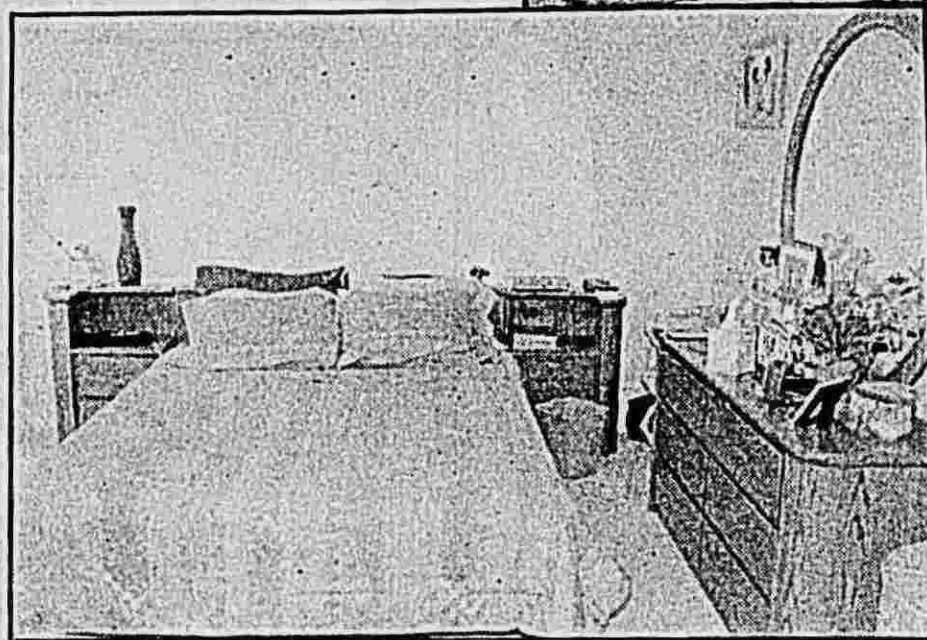

Instead of locking the customer into a fixed model or option ranges.

The homes are perfect for families with children growing up, looking for a little more space than what they currently have. Many of the homeowners and prospective buyers have been Abbott employees and Navy families.

Buying an affordable family home in Lake County can be a reality. It simply requires careful shopping and a knowledge of where to look. Bayshore Builders offers a relatively economical way to get a foot in the home owning door, with the option to alter or customize a variety of homes. For more information, call Bayshore at (708) 473-5505.

Above, The Bayshore models offers families a variety of floor plans. A family makes the most of their living room area with comfortable furnishings, greenery and an intriguing piece of art work. Left, there is plenty of room for living in this contemporary furnished bedroom.

Space is well utilized in the kitchen of this Bayshore model. High ceilings add volume while corner space is utilized with a lazy Susan. Bayshore offers a variety of models to suit individual needs for each family.

Victoria Square is located just south of Rte. 120 and west of Green Bay Road in North Chicago. The homes sit quietly between Foss Park Golf Course and the forest preserve. All single-family home sites, each lot measures 60 feet and 134 feet. Each of the three models has a full basement and a two-car garage. Prices range from $121,900.

One of the many options available in the Bayshore Homes is a family area with a stone fireplace. This family has utilized the southwestern motif in their decorations. The most popular of the Bayshore models has been the largest which features four bedrooms, two and a half baths and a price tag of $156,900.

Carpet care should begin before buying

Carpet care

Carling for your carpet begins before you buy it! Select a good padding for use under rugs and carpet. This means a dense pad, not necessarily a thick one. There are many fibers and stain-preventative chemicals used in the manufacturing of carpet, and they each react to the various types of cleaners in a different manner. Using the incorrect cleaning solution may not only damage your carpet, it may also invalidate the manufacturer's warranty.

After installation, regular vacuuming of your carpet is one of the most important steps you can take to keep it looking new. Areas receiving little traffic may need vacuuming once a week, while heavy traffic areas may require daily vacuuming.

The following hints will help you to prevent permanent stains. Scrape up semi-solid substances with a round spoon or dull knife. Blot liquids with clean white cloths, paper towels or tissues. Avoid brushing or rubbing. "Blot" means to firmly push down on the cloth with your fingers while slowly moving your fingers in a clockwise direction and then in a counter-clockwise direc-

To avoid spreading the spot or stain, follow suggested cleaning techniques provided by the manufacturer. Use small amounts of recommended spot removal solutions, blotting occasionally with clean white cloths to absorb any excess. Avoid overwetting or soaking the carpet.

Professional cleaning is recommended only if carpet is deeply soiled. If you follow the above procedures, it may never be necessary to have them cleaned. Most of us have been indoctrinated by our parents to have our carpets cleaned twice a year, but it isn't necessary and your carpets will keep their original appearance longer without being professionally cleaned. Most cleaning solutions leave a residue and the heat cleaning methods may damage the stain-release chemicals in the carpet.

After moving a heavy piece of furniture, you may notice a depression that doesn't come out after vacuuming. Brush the area with your finger-tips to loosen and stand up the matted tufts. After several days, if the depressions are still noticeable, hold a steam iron two to three inches above the carpet and allow the steam to flow into the depressions. Do not let the iron touch the carpet. After steaming, brush gently, except with acrylic fibers where a coarse comb is best.

Design trends

What's new in the world of design? The following is a capsulized report on the exciting new trends in the design market, exciting new trends in the design market, especially with fabrics.

Layering of pattern, textures

Many of today's fashionable fabrics are patterns printed on textured grounds, for example, a beautiful floral on a molré textured fabric. These fabrics provide a two-fold interest—a pattern design to attract the eye and a texture to add another dimension.

Nature's designs

One of the hottest looks in prints today are "tropicals." Luscious patterns of palm trees and parrots evoke the feeling of being in a tropical jungle. If your taste is more "northern" then you might want to consider a leaf pattern. They're turning up on fabrics and wall-covering—and you can pick your season too.

Animal magnetism

Animal prints have made a lasting impression on fabric designers. From leopard to tiger skins, an animal print is the ecologically-minded answer to our love of the exotic. They are showing up in carpet and even on golf bags.

Master artists

For years, fabrics have replicated the appearance of an Impressionist painting. The look of Monet can frequently be seen in fabrics—they're soft and easily blended with many styles of decor. More recently, fabrics that resemble the style of Gauguin and Van Gogh have entered the scene. These are bold fabrics that are usually best suited to a contemporary or eclectic decor.

Tapestry

While not new, tapestry is making a comeback, with colors that repeat the tapestry of the past, along with some new colorways that blend well with today's color trends. You'll see it on sofas, chairs, ottomans and pillows.

Remodeling kitchens—a sound investment

Talk to any real estate agent, and he or she will tell you the same thing: You get the most for your home improvement investment from remodeling the kitchen. Chances of recouping your dollars are better than good—they're 125 percent! So, while the majority of homeowners may live in a less-than-new house, most want a kitchen that's like new—and for good reason.

Once you decide to remodel your kitchen, a professional designer is the first person to contact. A designer can review your ideas, discuss how they would work and offer suggestions. Additionally, a designer can provide you with the benefit to experiences on similar projects.

When you begin, remember, someday you might be a home seller. And, while most home buyers don't mind tearing down old wallpaper—ripping out cabinets or replacing a worn faucet is another story. Items that are costly or difficult to replace should be viewed as more permanent additions to your new kitchen. Thus, when you're selecting them, choose classic styling with superior quality that appeals to a broad audience.

Following are five tips on kitchen remodeling:

- Work closely with a professional designer. They can save you time, as well as money in the end.
- Begin your remodeling project with a visit to a variety of kitchen showrooms. Look at products. Ask questions.
- Choose a faucet that combines both time-honored styling and high-quality.
- Select a neutral background for your kitchen, then accent it with brighter colors. White has recently made a comeback for the kitchen and continues to increase in popularity due to its clean, simplistic appeal.
- Have fun. Today, people spend a good deal of family time in the kitchen. Make yours an inviting place with special touches.

Kiss clutter goodbye—kitchen organization tips

In most homes, the kitchen is the central area of activity where the family relaxes, shares meals and entertains company; it can be the most-used room in a home. In the midst of everyday activities, the kitchen can easily become chronically disorganized. Kitchen chaos can be particularly distressing because it's impossible to ignore.

Many people don't understand that by following simple organizing steps, their everyday lives could be easier. Following are a few practical tips for creating order in the kitchen:

- Allow kitchen space for the varied activities your family pursues, and store related supplies nearby.
- Maximize shelf space in cupboards by using stackable containers, baskets and crates. Use different colors for each food category to make grocery inventory and put-away easy.
- Store small appliances in a rolling cart. This allows for easy access without taking up precious counter space.
- Set aside space for family members to use as a central collection and catch-all area. Use color-coded baskets or crates where briefcases, backpacks and keys can be dropped. This is also an ideal place for pickup of lunches, notes and other items each morning.
- Store cereal and other dry goods in see-through stacking containers with box labels slipped inside for easy identification.
- Use large recycling bins to store bulk items like dog food.
- Think objectively about how much of what you keep in the kitchen is necessary and how much is really just clutter. Throw things away, give them away, sell them or recycle them.
- Organize cleaning supplies in a handled carry-all that can be stored under the kitchen sink.
- Organize your kitchen one step at a time.
- Set aside an hour each month for maintenance-level organizing. This way is never gets out of control again.

Compact storage unit helps control recycling mess

If your home suffers from the clutter of recycling, try building one of these easy-to-build, compact storage units. It will help you keep your recyclables neatly confined in an out-of-the-way place (and it also makes great storage for children's toys).

This compact storage unit fits unobtrusively into a corner, making sorting and storing easy. It has four grocery sack compartments, one each for cans, glass, plastic and paper. The compartments are designed to hold paper bags measuring approximately 7 inches by 12 inches at the base. If your recycling effort requires more compartments, simply add on as needed or build two units.

To complete the project you will need 42 feet of 1x2 Western softwood lumber for the frame and base, nine feet of 1x12 for the sides, and four feet of 1x10 for the dividers. You will also need carpenter's wood glue, a half pound of 8d common nails and 1-1/2 pounds of 1-1/2 inch finishing nails.

First, cut four lengths of 1x2 for the base frame, two 38 inches long and two 11 inches long. Assemble the pieces into a rectangle, with the wood lying flat, and attach at the corners using glue and 8d common nails. The perimeter of the rectangle should measure 39-1/2 inches by 14 inches. To avoid splitting the wood, pre-drill the nail holes.

For the base decking, cut seven 38-inch lengths of 1x2. Space the pieces evenly over the top of the frame, about 1/2 inch apart with the first and last pieces flush with the frame. Attach with glue and 1-1/2 inch finishing nails.

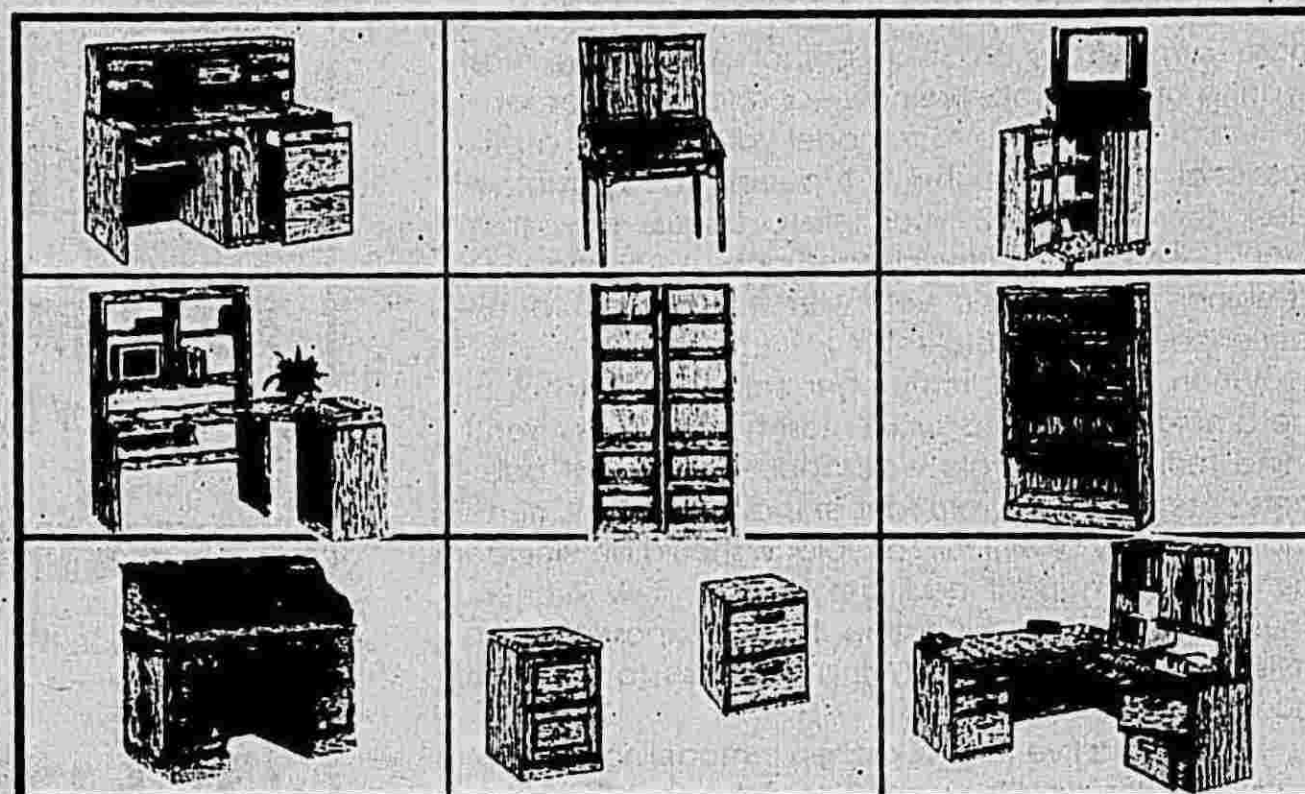

You will need two pieces of 1x12, each 38 inches long, and two pieces 15-1/2 inches long, for the sides of the storage unit. With the sides flush with the bottom edge of the base, glue and nail to the frame at the corners using 1-1/2 inch finishing nails.

Cut the 1x10 into three 14 inch pieces. Position the dividers across the center of the unit, creating four equal-sized compartments. Glue and nail in place using 1-1/2 inch finishing nails.

To protect the storage unit use paint or some type of clear finish. You might want to mark the contents on the outside of each compartment, to help keep recyclables separate. Then, just insert paper bags and you're ready to recycle.

Finding right firm is key to building, remodeling

Remodeling your kitchen? Adding or updating a bathroom? Realtors say these are the top resale benefits for any one. You can expect to recoup anywhere from 70 to 150 percent of your investment in these projects, depending upon the location of your home. Not to mention the immediate benefit to you: A home that's beautiful, more comfortable and more practical.

If you're thinking about remodeling or new construction, you've probably already spent some time with magazines and books, gathering ideas, building a "wish file" for the day when you're ready to start. But how do you get from the wish file to the finished product?

Start with good professional help, such as an organization like the National Kitchen & Bath Association (NKBA), which represents dealers, designers and manufacturers in the kitchen and bathroom industry.

Whether you're simply looking for a good design, or the full gamut of design and installation services, kitchen and bathroom professionals offer a unique perspective earned with years of experience concentrating on the two most lived-in rooms of the house.

In the kitchen and bathroom practical, accessible space planning is just as important as attractive fixtures and the right color scheme. Find specialists who can offer the expertise and practical experience you need to make your dreams a reality.

NKBA dealers and certified design professionals have focused their talents on the unique problems and situations found in the kitchen and bathroom. Through their involvement with the association, NKBA members not only have access to information of the latest products, but also to the best, most innovative design solutions to address the needs of today's customers.

Issues like accessible storage and countertop space, positioning appliances and plumbing fixtures for best use, safety concerns and choosing lighting and color schemes are key criteria for today's kitchen and bathroom professional.

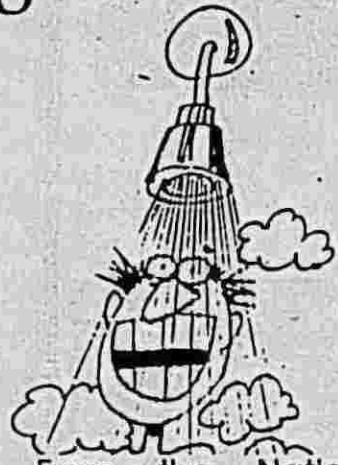

Because they concentrate on only two rooms of the house, NKBA members are always up to date on all the latest innovations, products and applications for your "ultimate" kitchen or bathroom.

There's one easy way to ensure the practicality, convenience and value of your new kitchen or bathroom, and that's by starting off right.

NKBA members and others like them can help eliminate the guesswork and get you on the road to a new look that everyone can enjoy living with.

Know the 27 rules of good bathroom design

From the National Kitchen & Bath Association, here are the 27 rules of bathroom design:

1. A clear walkway of at least 32 inches must be provided at all entrances to the bathroom.

2. No doors may interfere with fixtures.

3. Mechanical ventilation system must be included in the plan.

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A Mundelein family planned to take a summer trip out east to visit relatives. Unbeknownst to them at the time, the arrangements would change and they would wind up meeting the President of the United States.

Ted and Margaret Szymczak wanted to visit Ted's sister, Irene Mirecki, who lives in Columbia, Maryland, for a long time. Finally, the family decided it was time to take advantage of the Independence Day holiday and travel.

The Szymczaks are natives from Poland. Irene is fluent in both Polish and English and quickly became a translator and interpreter working with dignitaries for the United States government.

As a surprise, Irene arranged clearance for her relatives to sit in on a speech given by President Bill Clinton prior to boarding his private jet on a working tour of Europe.

The Szymczaks were in wonderment when Irene called to ask for all of their social security numbers and other necessary information so the family could attend the session where only high officials from America as well as ambassadors from other countries were invited.

The Mundelein residents loaded up their mini-van a few days before the Fourth of July and excitedly headed out to Washington D.C.

After being checked thoroughly, emptying all pockets as well as purses, even having their video camera opened up and examined, Ted, Margaret and four of their five children passed the security guard's inspection and were guided to their seats in the massive and historic Department of Commerce building.

Before the President's speech, "For an hour and a half we couldn't leave (the building)," explained Margaret who added the security was so tight, there were even special agents outside each restroom.

The Szymczak family of Mundelein toured the country's capitol. Unbeknownst to them, the visit to a relative out east turned into a meeting with the President of the United States. Here Elizabeth, 12; Justina, 15; Maggie, 10; and Mike, 14 pose in front of the White House.

Retired teacher gives back memorabilia

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

After nearly 100 years of living, and decades of teaching, former Grayslake resident Ruth Reitzel has collected a lot of photos and memorabilia. She is not keeping any of the items.

At 90 years old, Reitzel is in the process of going through her vast collection of priceless photos so she can return them to people who would want them most. Those people are the ones whose youthful faces have been forever etched in time on the photographs.

"I figure I won't be around much longer to need them so I should get them to the people who can enjoy them," she said.

Reitzel taught for six years at Grayslake Elementary in the late 1940s and for 15 years at Round Lake Elementary School, known as the 'new' building, before retiring in 1968. The Grayslake Elementary building is now known as Lakeview Elementary and the Round Lake Elementary building is now Magee Junior High.

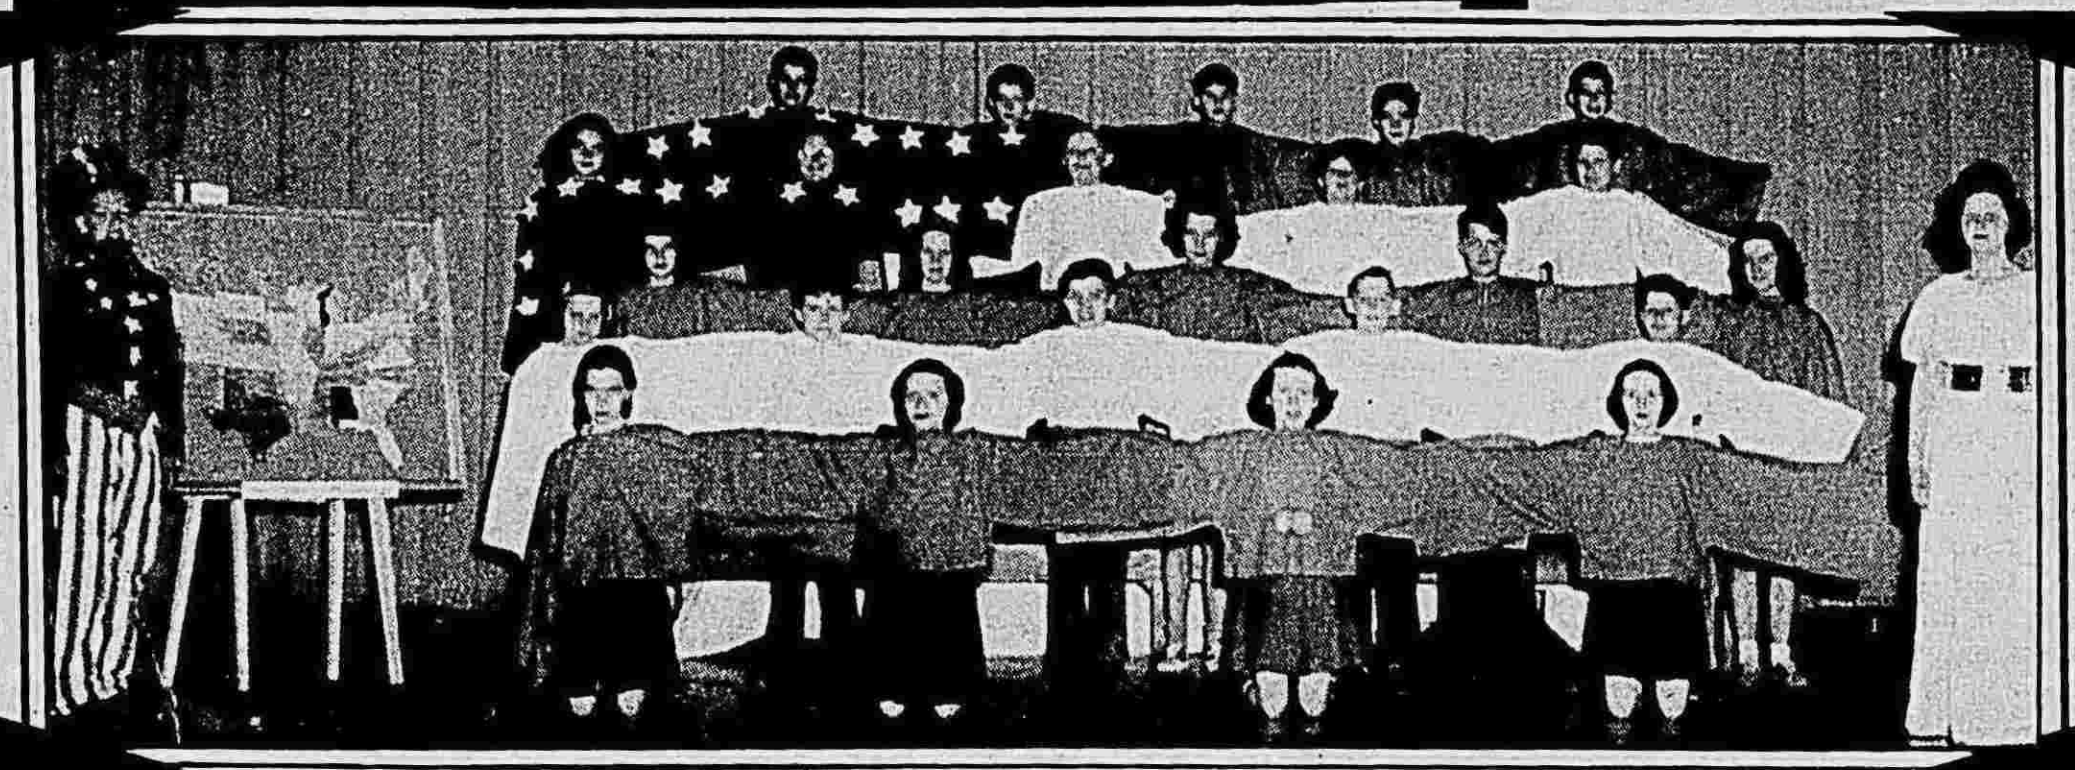

During her tenure at Grayslake Elementary, the school had to separate the fifth and sixth grade classes because of the growth. She showed a newspaper clipping of a field trip the class took to Waukegan in 1949. In those days, a trip to a town the size of Waukegan was a special occasion indeed.

She also recounted a story about the first fire drill the children partook in with her as teacher. At that time, the fire escape was a tube that worked as a slide. The kids were both surprised and delighted to see their teacher sliding down behind them.

A vast variety of children's activities turn the Elgin Fine Arts Festival into the perfect family outing for a late-summer weekend. The festival, scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 27 and Sunday, Aug. 28 in the downtown Elgin Civic Center Plaza, literally offers something for everyone, including pint-sized visitors.

There is a special area, just for kids, on the East Bank of the Fox River, with the children's entertainment stage across the bridge on Walton Island.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday children will be invited to participate in Art and Crafts, a moon walk, mural painting and sand castle building. During this time the Elgin Public Museum will offer button making, nature painting and a nature scavenger hunt. The Children's Discover Museum of Elgin will provide face painting and bubble making.

Children, parents and grandparents will enjoy a wide variety of entertainment during the festival. On Saturday, Shanta will present "Stories and Songs of African People" at 11 a.m., followed by the Illustrated Theatre's Summer Celebration at 12:30 p.m. Captain Black will host a Treasure hunt at 2 p.m., with a puppet show by the Damen Avenue Puppeteers at 3:30 p.m.

Entertainment begins at noon on Sunday with Storyteller Donna Dettman's "Frogs and Other Princes." The Highland Dancers perform at 1 p.m., followed by "Scales and Tales" with Beth Bishop and her exotic animals. The entertainment wraps up with a program by the Rope Warrior called "Rope Jumping in a New Dimension" at 3 p.m.

The Elgin Fine Arts Festival offers the A.A.U.W. Art Showcase, the EOS Young Virtuosi Competition, Entertainment Tent, Artist Demonstrations, and a concert by the Elgin Symphony Orchestra over the course of the three-day event. All activities take place in the Civic Center plaza, with the exception of the ESO Concert, which will be presented free of charge at Elgin's Wing Park on Friday night. Food and beverage vendors will be located adjacent to the Entertainment Tent.

All activities are free and open to the public. For further information, call the Elgin Fine Arts Festival Hotline at (708) 931-5613.

Set giant 'Show 'n Tell' festival

Residents of Ela Township are invited to join their neighbors on Aug. 28 in a giant "Show 'n Tell" Festival. They will show work that they do and tell or show how they do it, what's involved in doing it, why it's done the way it's done, and answer any questions about it. Their "work" can be anything at all, done for any purpose. The only rule is that it must be the work of the exhibitor.

One exhibitor designs food-handling/processing equipment. He will exhibit several of his smaller items, probably including the one that cooks a hot dog in one second.

Several exhibitors will show various quilting techniques.

Other planned exhibits are manufacturer representation, mail handling, and hot-air ballooning. There will be artists with paintings, sculpture and other work; and some crafters.

Residents of Ela Twp. are asked to pick a talent they will share: something from work: a working model, a machine, a product, a set of pictures, a video, a slide set.

Or residents might pick something from home: from the kitchen or workshop, from the lawn, studio, study, from the family room.

Another option for participating in this festival is something from the community: a volunteer project, a special report, a new installation.

Or how about something from the past: growing up, first job, first home, family tradition, family heirloom?

What do you do? Can you think of a way to "Show 'n Tell"? Call Jane Ware Davenport at 550-6422 for further information.

The festival will be held in the gymnasium of May Whitney School, 120 Church/Midlothian, Lake Zurich on Aug. 28 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The festival is sponsored by the newly-organized Ela Presbyterian Church as a community service. There is no charge for showing and telling and no charge for admission.

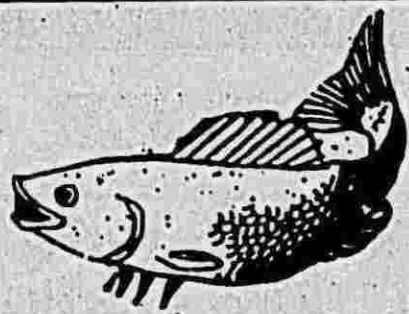

This Show 'n Tell Festival is the brainchild of events maven Jane Ware Davenport. Davenport was nominated as a "Woman of Achievement in the Turner Broadcasting/Spring Century of Women program. The nomination was for her creation and launch of The Arts and Riverwoods, which celebrates its 35 anniversary in October.

FIGHTING BACK

DEFY Camp at Great Lakes

"You won't be able to see ... in a real fire, you are blind."

Thirty-eight 9- to 12-year-olds sat in a mini theater in the Navy's Family Activities Center at Forrestal Village, their attention riveted to a big screen TV.

The video, however, was not the popular stuff of kids' television fare. It was, instead, "How to Survive a Fire", a graphic lesson in what to do -- and what not to do -- in such an emergency. Later, the kids had an up-close look at four pieces of firefighting equipment and every question they asked was fielded by a professional firefighter from the Great Lakes Fire Department.

This was Day Five of an eight-day camp sponsored by the Navy's Drug Education For Youth (DEFY), a comprehensive outreach program that puts Navy personnel in contact with area youngsters and, in so doing, enhance positive life choices in the kids. Nation-wide in scope, DEFY is implemented at Great Lakes by Chaplain Craig G. Muehler and a team of 18 co-leaders. The chaplain and his crew committed their time, knowledge and effort not just for the duration of the day camp but for a year of one-on-one contact with the campers.

According to Chaplain Muehler, the program serves a number of objectives:

"DEFY gives the kids role models, contact with people they can identify with. At the same time, it gets the Navy more deeply involved in the community. This is Phase One, getting the kids here. We had DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) out here this morning, then the fire department this afternoon. We try to show them that if you do drugs, these jobs aren't possible anymore. Another fact we got across is that the fire department is always on call to help, to save life and property. Good guys."

"Phase Two is the follow-up. A mentor will do a lot with a kid in the follow-up program. It's not just the camp here where we say, 'Don't do drugs', and then they leave and go back to school with all that peer pressure. During Phase One, they've set some goals that they want to do in school as well as in the future. So, in Phase Two, a mentor has the opportunity to say, 'Hey, Johnny, you said you wanted to get your grade up to a B in biology. How're you doing?' And then maybe tutor him in biology. Maybe the camper wants to do 20 push-ups instead of 10, so they work out together."

Phase Two also includes monthly get-togethers for all campers, their mentors, their families or guardians, effectively creating a wider circle of positive influence. Plans include guest speakers, a hayride, activities that remind all of their positive contributions to community and an ongoing awareness of what drug abuse can do to undo present achievements and plans for the future.

The Navy's DEFY connected with the kids through Lake County FIGHTING BACK, a resource center that provides access to programs for those persons who stand to benefit from them.

As Martha Castillo, Community Coordinator with Lake County FIGHTING BACK explained, "We established the vital link between persons in need of special services and those agencies that provide them."

In this case, it was the Navy's DEFY connecting with three school systems, that of North Chicago, Waukegan and Zion. Superintendents from each of the systems were contacted: select students whom you believe would most benefit from a program geared to teaching self esteem.

"What's going to happen," said Castillo, "is reinforcement. For instance, kids can go to summer camp, learn and return to their homes. Without reinforcement, what they've learned is soon lost. With DEFY there will be reinforcement because each child has a mentor, somebody to meet with in the year ahead, backing up what they've learned here about drugs and negative behavior."

Particularly with these children who have already exhibited leadership skills, DEFY gets the point across - learning communication, hygiene, nutrition, citizenship and goal-setting in a setting intended to be enjoyable. Each now has specific knowledge of community services because they've been there, talked to the people who make them happen, picking up a good measure of self esteem in the process.

Camp DEFY concluded with graduation on Friday, July 29 with 200 campers, parents, siblings, friends and mentors in attendance. Spirits were even brighter than the sun-filled day as campers processed proudly through their commencement ceremony wearing their Camp DEFY t-shirts, caps and backpacks at Ross Field on the base. A whiff of barbecue hinted at the graduation dinner to follow. Who needs drugs or a gang with this kind of recognition?

This is the second of a series of columns dedicated to strengthening our communities, families and children. Future columns will be devoted to other programs that are working in the Lake County community, ideas to strengthen families and share resources.

If you would like to see other issues addressed, or have questions or comments, please call the FIGHTING BACK office at (708) 546-7144

'The Foreigner'

"The Foreigner" mirrors our prejudices with rib-tickling humor and slap-stick fun at an old Georgia Inn. The PM&L production will be performed at the Globe of Antioch on Orchard Street. Performance dates are scheduled for Aug. 12, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. Matinees will be offered at 2:30 p.m. on Aug. 7, 14, and 21.

Tickets are priced at $9 and $7. Call 395-3055 for further ticket information.

Country 'Phantom'

Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre presents the "Phantom of the Country Palace." This hysterical musical takes you down-home to the capital of country music, where you'll witness the hilarious adventures of the Country Palace regulars as they prepare for their Country Music Extravaganza. Performances are Wednesdays at 2 and 8 p.m.; Thursdays and Fridays at 8 p.m.; Saturdays at 5:30 and 9 p.m.; and Sundays at 2:30 and 7 p.m. Tickets to all performances are $32.50. Senior citizens and students receive $10 off the regular ticket price on Wednesday's 2 and 8 p.m. and Sunday's 2:30 p.m. performances. Call 634-0200 for reservations.

'An Occasional Impala'

Stage Two presents "An Occasional Impala," a comedy by George Savage Jr., which plays in repertory with "Artificial Intelligence" and "The Progressives." Suggested for mature audiences, performance dates are Aug. 13, 18, 20 and 27. Times are 7:30 p.m. Thursdays, 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, and Saturday/Sunday matinees at 3 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults and $8 students, seniors and military. Ticket packages for the entire summer repertory are available at a discount, with three shows for $25 adults and $21 for seniors, students and military. Call 662-7088 for reservations.

'Best of Second City'

"The Best of Second City," a compilation of scenes and songs from the best of Second City's 34 years of material, will run through the end of the summer at The Second City Northwest, 1701 W. Golf Rd., Rolling Meadows. Show times are 8:30 p.m. Thursdays, 8 and 10:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, and 7 p.m. Sundays. Ticket prices are $10 on Thursdays, Fridays and Sundays, and $12 on Saturdays. For reservations or further information call 806-1555.

Music

Steel Express
The beautiful sounds of the Caribbean that emanate from handcrafted 55 gallon steel drums will vibrate over the waterfront when Steel Express performs a noon concert Aug. 17 in the 304-acre Lincolnshire Corporate Center, Lincolnshire. The concert is held in the Center Stage Amphitheatre along the shores of a 36-acre lake near One Overlook Point adjoining Milwaukee Avenue south of Rte. 22. The group blends music of the Caribbean with the exciting beat of American music.

Steel Express

Renaissance workshop

The Renaissance Singer's Workshop, a subsidiary of Polyhedron, is holding membership auditions for the fall season. Auditions will be held in Evanston by appointment Tuesday, Aug. 16 and Thursday, Aug. 18 from 7 to 10 p.m. Singers should prepare one song or aria of any style and language. Accompaniment provided. The Renaissance Singer's Workshop is a fee-based a capella ensemble which explores the music of the Renaissance period and later music in a compatible style or spirit. Inclusive in the workshop sessions are training in individual and ensemble vocal technique, musicological presentations, putting the music, poetry and sociopolitical aspects in context and perspective, and at least one culminating concert. For further information call Gwendolyn Manter Seminara at 973-1601.

Young Virtuosi

The Young Virtuosi Competition, to take place Aug. 25 and 27 during the Elgin Fine Arts Festival, will welcome 60 young musicians who will perform for cash prizes and a chance to appear as guest artists with the Elgin Symphony Orchestra during the orchestra's regular season. The competition, presented by the Elgin Symphony Family Board, is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. David C. McClintock of Barrington. Preliminary performances for Division I (to age 12) and Division II (ages 12 to 16) will be held at Elgin Community College on Aug. 25 and 27, with the top five finalists in each division competing for prizes at Hemmens Auditorium on Aug. 27, beginning at 2:30 p.m. This event is free and open to the public. For further information call Edie Pitts at 888-7389.

Voices in Harmony

Women who enjoy singing are invited to attend a rehearsal of Voices in Harmony, a women's barbershop chorus. In an attempt to make the fun of singing accessible to more women, the chorus has changed its meeting location. Rehearsals are now held every Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Faith Lutheran Church, Rte. 41 and Deerpath Road in Lake Forest. For further information contact Sharon Dhuyvetter, 234-0703 or Maggie Henneberry at 680-1116.

DANCE

Dance classes

Dancer North registration has begun for the fall semester which runs from Sept. 8 through the end of January 1995. Classes include a full range of ballet technique from preschool basics for children to advanced pointe for junior high through adults including specialty classes for pas de deux, leaps and variations. The jazz program has expanded with a new advanced class taught by jazz masters from the area. The tap program has grown with more classes for children from first grade through adults. Musical theatre continues to grow with pre-school singing classes to performance classes for high schoolers. For further information or a brochure call, 367-7970.

ART

Craft fair

More than 50 crafters will be displaying their wares at the arts and craft fair at Woodland Commons located at Rte. 22 and Buffalo Grove Rd., in Buffalo Grove on Aug. 13 and 14. Show hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Still crazy after all these years

That was the theme of my husband's recent 20-year high school class reunion, and I don't suppose they're the first to use it. We all like to think that, despite the passage of time, we're still the young, sexy, party animals we were back then.

Of course we are. And Elvis is alive, too.

Actually, it is possible to resemble a young, sexy, party animal when you're pushing 40—it just takes a lot of preparation. The women spend weeks shopping for black sequined dresses, cut low in front and slit as high as decency allows, dresses that seem to shout "You blew it, buddy—look at me now." They apply their makeup with the skilled hand of a mortician, first dabbing on lots of moisturizer for those extra wrinkles that seem to have appeared just in time for the reunion. Funny how that happens. Just like in high school, when that pimple the size of a bing cherry appears on the tip of your nose the day of the prom.

As the wife of a "reunionee," I, too, was forced to go through the same preparations. That's because we wives have to be sure that we look as good as (or better than) any of our husband's high school sweeties. It doesn't hurt, either, if you prepare months ahead by finding a black magic shop where you can get a voodoo doll, attach a picture of his old flame, stick a pin in it's thigh, and mumble "Cellulite—lots of it."

The men, on the other hand, are at a definite disadvantage. Without makeup, control top pantyhose and hair, they don't have much choice other than to attend "au natural." Then, to top it off, (pun intended), an award is given to the man who has "the head with the finest shine." I think that's rather cruel. I mean, you don't see them giving an award to the woman who has the "biggest pinch to the inch," do you? The day they start giving out that award will be the end of high school reunions as we know them. Since every woman alive thinks she's fat, no one would dare attend.

In the end, of course, all those worries about appearance are really unimportant. Reunions have a touch of magic for most people, casting a rosy glow to the memory of those days of acne and angst. For one night, you're able to enter your own little "high school time machine," a place where stretch marks and bald heads were something your parents had.

My husband enjoyed his reunion immensely, despite being a contender in the shiny head contest (he didn't win). I had a fairly good time, too, with the exception of the frequent visits to our table by one of his former flames. It seemed like whenever my husband would leave to get a drink at the bar or mingle with his friends, she'd suddenly appear and plunk herself down at our table, babbling the same stories over and over again about my husband and her. Or asking annoying questions like, "Does he still have that picture of me in the bikini?"

I didn't have the heart to tell her that, yes, he did have that picture once.

But with voodoo, you take the doll and a picture, and, well, hey—I didn't know it would really work!

Good Food

Pizza, fresh from the garden

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

It's zucchini season in the garden. My crop is plentiful so I've been giving some away and coming up with new recipes. Here's one that will please the entire family and that uses other fresh vegetables and herbs.

Garden pizza

1 gourmet Italian flatbread or pre-made pizza shell

1 medium zucchini, chopped

1 tomato

1 green pepper, chopped

1 onion, chopped

1 can tomato paste

three leaves fresh basil finely chopped or dried basil to taste three leaves fresh oregano finely chopped or dried oregano to taste

10 to 12 ounces mozzarella cheese, grated three tablespoons olive oil

1/2 cup red or blush wine

Sauté zucchini, green pepper, onion in olive oil for five minutes. Add basil, oregano and wine, sauté for another 15 minutes or until vegetables are cooked.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place pizza shell on a cookie sheet. Spread tomato paste evenly on top. Dish out cooked vegetables, avoid any liquid, and place on pizza shell. Arrange sliced tomatoes on top of vegetables. Sprinkle cheese evenly over top. Bake in oven about 20 minutes or until cheese is melted and crust is browned.

Fall Doings At Disney World

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Want to avoid the crowds when visiting Florida's most famous mouse? Remember this: As the days get shorter in the fall, so do the lines at Disney World.

There's no need to spend an entire week at WDW (Travel agent talk for Walt Disney World) in the fall, either. In fact with the crowds gone, you'll see more during an extended weekend in October than a week long summer Disney trip, when most of your time is spent standing in lines.

The whole trip is going to cost a lot less, too, since fall prices for a Disney Vacation are the lowest of the year.

So what's going on at WDW this fall?

September 11 is the date of the Disneyana Convention where collectors of Disney memorabilia gather to buy and sell. Bring those Mouseketeer Ears and find out what they're worth.

Did you miss the World Cup games? You can still catch the Inaugural Walt Disney World Soccer Classic September 9-11 and witness the action as 64 teams from across the USA compete in FSSA and USSF sanctioned competition.

September 22-25 you can meet with Barbie Doll collectors from around the world... In true Disney fashion, Barbie will come to life on stage in a music and dance extravaganza called "The Magical World of Barbie".

By September 23rd, beach volleyball will likely be just a summer memory here. Not so at WDW as Karch Kiraly defends his title in the AVP Pro Beach Volleyball Tour finale at Disney's Grand Floridian Beach Resort.

If Golf is your sport, October 6-9 are your Disney dates. That's when you can see Jeff Maggert defend his title in the 24th annual Disney World PGA Golf Classic.

If you're a WNUA listener, you may want to include October 13-15 in your Disney plans. The likes of Chuck Mangione and Hiroshima will be performing at Disney's Jazz Festival at Pleasure Island.

Looking for the perfect piece of art? You're likely to find it November 11-13 when more than 200 of the country's best artists will be displaying their wares at the Festival of the Masters at the Disney Village Marketplace.

So let the kids miss a day of school and see WDW, sans the crowd.

Then the family was allowed inside the multi-story room. "We looked like tourists," Ted explained as each of them donned their vacation clothes, colorful, unlike the business attire most of the audience of high officials wore.

Margaret said the size of the room made the family appear so insignificant, yet being there made them feel important, especially when she looked behind and saw the press box jam-packed with reporters and camera crews from all over the world.

"It may not have been such a big thing," said Margaret, "but it had its effect on us." She said for the Midwest family, the entire event was "overwhelming."

Secret service men and woman were everywhere, recalled Margaret. And they stood as still as statues. "Only their eyes were moving," she said.

West Oak Middle School students Elizabeth and Maggie described how thrilled their father was while waiting for the President to come out and give his speech. "He was so excited, he couldn't sit still," said Elizabeth.

"This was the first time I've ever seen her sit so still. I didn't think she'd ever move," added Ted quickly of his daughter. Elizabeth, a seventh-grader, who was completely in awe of the President's presence.

When the entire family sat still for the President's introduction was perhaps the most memorable moment of all, said Margaret.

As soon as Ronald H. Brown, secretary of commerce, made his announcement, "Ladies and gentlemen, the President of the United States," Ted could barely keep his hands steady on the recorder.

He did, however, manage to make a pretty decent recording of the speech regarding the various countries working together. After the half-hour address, however, security kept Ted from filming too close to President Clinton as he made his way down the aisle to shake hands with various diplomats. Although Ted wasn't one of the officials, the President did recognize him and made his greeting.

Ted said he will never forget the exchange.

"How are you?" asked President Clinton to the Mundelein resident.

This isn't the first time Ted had met a man of high honor. In 1983, he was greeted by Pope John Paul II at the Vatican in Rome.

But the meeting with President Clinton was different, Ted said. The high security was what he was talking about.

After the speech, and after everyone came back down to earth, they visited various sights around Washington D.C. including the black marble wall inscribed with the names of tens of thousands of Viet Nam veterans.

When Ted first came to America from Poland in 1963, he met a man who would soon become his best friend.

After a long time of reading the wall, Ted found his friend's name on the memorial.

Critic's Choice

Estelle Parsons as Irene in one of three monologues that comprise "Talking Heads" at Steppenwolf Theater.

'Talking Heads' presented with flawless British accents

In three separate monologues that comprise British playwright Alan Bennett's "Talking Heads" at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theater, each grasps at happiness in a different way.

Irene, in "Lady of Letters," reaches out from her lonely world through an incessant barrage of correspondence. As played by Estelle Parsons (Oscar winner for "Bonnie and Clyde"), this self-righteous middle-aged character used pen and paper to right the world and vent her spleen to manufacturing concerns, civic and religious authorities and even the local constabulary.

Social workers try in vain to rechannel her energies from letter-writing to reading. It's only when she finds herself behind bars that Irene experiences her first real taste of freedom in years.

In the second playlet, "Bed Among the Lentils," features Steppenwolf veteran Martha Lavey as Susan, the disenchanted wife of a vicar. For her, a bit of solace is drawn from the bottle, whether it's household sherry or the church's communion wine.

Although she eventually reforms, the change does little to improve her cynical outlook on life.

In the final act, "A Chip in the Sugar," Alan Wilder portrays Graham, a fiftyish mentally handicapped man solidly tied to his aging mother's apron strings. When she has a brief fling with an old flame, Graham almost goes over the edge.

The two and one-half hour program includes two intermissions. The set is slightly modified for each monologue, though a field of hanging windows serves as a universal backdrop throughout the evening.

"Talking Heads," presented with flawless British accents, gradually penetrates the depths of each character's souls, though it's done gently and without sanctimony. It runs through Aug. 21—by TOM WITOM through her daughter, Margot. Margot taught third grade in Round Lake until she became too ill in 1980. She lost her seven-year battle with cancer in 1982.

Margot, who was married to John "Tom" Bossow of Round Lake, then later to Robert Madson of Waukegan, received tremendous support from her peers. Reitzel tells of how the teachers would come to her home to prepare meals for her.

Margot went through Round Lake Elementary School, graduating from Grant Township High School around 1956.

Reitzel's husband also worked at Round Lake Elementary School as a janitor before his retirement in the 1960s. Dennis "Pat" Reitzel died of cancer in 1976. If she can identify the people in the photos, she intends to return every one.

Psychic fair at Barrington Ice House

A Psychic Fair will take place at the Barrington Ice House Village Shops and Restaurant on Saturday, Aug. 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Co-sponsored by internationally known psychic Patricia O'Neill the event will also feature other experts in the fields of Akashic records readings, trance channeling, native American card and crystal Chakra readings, palm readings, an astrologer and numerologist. Admission to the event is free and private readings will be available for a nominal charge.

Built in 1904 first as the Bowman Dairy and later as an actual ice house, the Barrington Ice House is a perfect setting for visitors to enjoy a fun day.

In addition to O'Neill, the event will also feature the following:

Karl Karowski, Akashic Readings. The Akashic Record is the past, present and future knowledge of all things and a record of the soul's journey since inception, as well as the possibilities of its unfoldment in the future.

Paula Lund, Trance Channelist. Lund is a trance channelist with the remarkable ability to allow spiritual entities to speak through her. Many people have conversed with the personal guides, guardian angels, higher teaching entities and their departed loved ones through her auspices.

Gun Hollingsworth, Native American Card and Crystal Chakra Readings. Hollingsworth's card readings provide answers about any area in life, and his crystal chakras are tools for increasing energy and removing blocks.

Madeline Sierra, Palm Reading. Trace your past and your future through the lines in your hand. Sierra, an accomplished palmist, has the ability to predict coming events in your life through the lines in your hand.

Michael Royster, Reader. Royster, is a reader and lecturer on metaphysical subjects who, through the use of the Tarot, provides his clients with the guidance they need for coming events.

Judith Harris, Astrologer, is an experienced astrologer and psychic with a BA in metaphysics.

Philip Clark, numerologist, has developed his unique skills of understanding and working with people.

The Barrington Ice House is located in downtown Barrington off Harrison, two blocks west of the intersection of Rte. 59 and Lake Cook.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Social interests are highlighted. Those eligible will meet with romantic introductions. However, devote some time to a study project. A private talk relates to a financial concern. You'll need tact in dealing with an uptight and agitated friend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your personality will be a positive factor in this week's career dealings. However, you may have trouble concentrated on an immediate task. An old friend gives helpful advice. Guard against overly expensive moves in business.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Serious talks this week relate to business interests. In-depth thinking brings results. You have winning ways in romance but weekend social plans are subject to change. A difficulty could arise later in the week with a co-worker.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Some minor strain may exist between you and a family member. You'll gain a fresh perspective about a philosophical interest. Entertainment that gives you food for thought is your best bet for fun. The weekend is good for having company over.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You may be easily distracted on the job early in the week. Extra self-discipline will be needed to stay on top of assignments. You could be upset later in the week by a family matter. Do your best to avoid domestic quarrels.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) It's a moneymaking week for you where job interests are concerned. Charm opens doors for you. However, you may be tempted to overspend on pleasure pursuits. You and a loved one will see eye-to-eye about mutual concerns.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) At first, you may have difficulty with a job task but perseverance will see you through. You'll be pleased with how smoothly things go at work later in the week. Your financial prospects should improve. However, it's not a good time for gambling or risk-taking.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A heart-to-heart talk will bring you the answers you seek about a romantic question. Guard against absent-mindedness. Doing things in a hurry at home could cause you to break something.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your efficiency is a plus as the week begins but later, you need to guard against procrastination and exaggeration. Also, pay attention to traffic rules. This weekend, your social graces are brought to the fore if you entertain.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You may have some unanswered questions about a business concern but rest assured you're on the right track. You will have success with a mental project. On the home front, an argument could arise about a financial situation. Try to compromise.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Part of the week will be spent on financial record-keeping. It's a good time for self-promotion. Plans for travel fall into place. Unexpected news comes from a distance. Remain practical and eschew outlandish schemes proposed by a flighty friend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're down to earth in your thinking this week and you'll be accenting practicalities as a result. You may receive financial backing for a project. A friend annoys you with a lack of punctuality but take this in stride.

At K.H. Kim's Tae Kwon Do in Libertyville, students learn more than just Tae Kwon Do, Tai Chi, Hapkido and Hatha Yoga, they can gain self-discipline and improved mental and physical wellness.

"Tae Kwon Do is more than just learning how to kick and punch and break boards," said David Hatch, chief instructor at K.H. Kim's. "It is a complete self-defense system. Tae Kwon Do is a way of life. It's a way of training the mind and body so that you can be the best you possible can."

The study of martial arts, particularly Tae Kwon Do, can improve nearly every aspect of one's life.

"We see regular improvements in school grades, lessened career-related stress and better physical development," said Hatch.

"Martial arts, as they are taught generally in the West, are taught from a 'health club' type of attitude, sort of an 'occasional' type of attitude," Hatch said. "At K.H. Kim's, the instruction is focused on the mental benefits as well as the physical learning of martial art movements. We teach the 'art' at K.H. Kim's."

K.H. Kim offers Tae Kwon Do classes for students of all ages, beginning at age five. Classes are also available in Hatha Yoga, Tai Chi and Hapkido.

Tax planning seminar

HIGHLAND PARK—The Northeast Illinois Council, Boy Scouts of America will be hosting a Seminar "Surviving in the 90's, Creative Tax Planning." This Seminar sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America, will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 23 at 7:30 a.m. The Seminar will be presented by John B. Hillman, MBA, CLU, ChFC of Cigna Financial Advisors, and will address recent tax changes. Attendees will learn how to increase their clients' income, avoid capital gains taxes and receive substantial tax deductions. This course does include one hour of Continuing Education credit. For reservations call Tim Jewett or Denise R. Maki at 433-1813.

Citibank unveils concept

WAUCONDA/VERNON HILLS—Citibank's Wauconda and Vernon Hills branches will undergo many innovative changes in the months ahead, as Citibank introduced its latest development in retail banking. The concept, introduced with the grand opening of Citibank's Magnificent Mile branch, is part of a multimillion dollar program. The concept represents a unique approach to branch banking and offers a technologically advanced, customer-focused, retail banking facility. The concept aims to make customers feel closer to the bank, give them more and easier access to their money and empower branch staff with the freedom, tools and training to more personally serve customers.

Shell, cash station agreement

CHICAGO—Beginning in November, most of Shell's 360 stations in the greater Chicago area and Northern Indiana will accept Cash Station® ATM cards as payment for gas and services. Shell Oil Company and Cash Station, Inc. signed an agreement that will enable Cash

ANTIOCH PUBLIC LIBRARY—The library will use their ATM cards to pay for purchases at a service station. The agreement will make Antioch the first market area in the country where Shell customers will be offered this convenient payment option.

New business spawns culinary grand champion

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Karen Pionke bases her business on decadence, but that in itself is not a bad thing. The decadence comes in the form of award-winning gourmet cheesecake.

One bite of Pionke's natural homemade delicacies has the typical person struggling between pushing it aside and wishing they could eat more.

The judges agree. The delectable creations from Pionke's business, Cheesecake Ecstasy, took Grand Champion in cakes in the culinary division of the Lake County Fair contest. She also took Grand Champion in the candy division with her truffles, turtles, and peanut butter fudge.

This is not a bad start for the single mother of two who just started her home-based business in June. It came out in a conversation with Melinda Willen, owner of the Center Street Market in downtown Grayslake, that she had baked gourmet cheesecakes years ago when she lived in Wisconsin.

She lived in Delafield-Wales in the Kettle Moraine area and belonged to a bakery co-op. Pionke and other ladies would bake fresh items, their specialties, and bring them to the co-op for sale. The shop was a success.

The Pionke family moved to Grayslake six years ago when her husband started work in Chicago.

Patrons to the Center Street Market have let their taste buds decide if the cakes will stay and Karen Pionke, owner of Cheesecake Ecstasy in Grayslake, cuts a slice from a Raspberry Truffle Cheesecake. the verdict is a vehement thumbs up. The market is already selling an average of 10 cakes per week by the slice, appropriately by word of mouth.

Pionke does not want to begin heavily marketing her product until she has the facilities to meet the demand. Until this point, she has been baking the cakes one at a time in her oven at home. Plans are drawn up for the construction of a kitchen in the back of the Market with an oven that will be able to handle much greater volume.

With the success of the cheesecake, Pionke has test marketed several other goodies that have also met with good reviews. When she has more capacity for creations, Pionke intends to begin selling a Greek pastry named Baklava, European candy named truffles, and chocolate covered strawberries.

The gourmet treats are expected to be a nice addition to the market, which sells other gourmet foods and top quality kitchen accessories. Willen doesn't see the additions as conflicts for the other shops in the downtown area. The items are intended as purchases for special occasions. They're an opportunity for customers to spoil themselves from time to time.

Hospital economic study measures community impact

Community-based hospitals make a significant, positive impact in both local and regional economies, according to a study prepared by the Metropolitan Chicago Healthcare Council.

Overall, Chicago-area hospitals generate $28.2 billion of economic activity each year and produce more than 382,000 jobs.

Midwestern Regional medical Center, a presence in the Zion-Winthrop-Harbor-Beach Park community since 1958, has played a major role in the economic vitality of the area. Midwestern currently employs more than 400 people. More than half of them reside in the immediate community. Payroll exceeded $17 million in 1993. Midwestern paid more than $290,000 in property taxes, and generated more than $76,000 in sales taxes.

"Unlike large construction projects—which can generate highly visible jobs and economic activity for a short period—the hospital sector provides steady and reliable employment," says Donald L. Maloney, II, president and CEO of Midwestern Regional Medical Center. "Midwestern also generates a great deal of indirect activity in fields such as manufacturing, construction, service, trade, finance, real estate, communications and other industries. Whenever possible, we look to utilize local businesses and industries to provide the hospital with the products and services required to provide the care which our patients require."

Medical-surgical care, cancer care, and emergency care continued to be the primary services utilized by patients. Midwestern also provides health prevention and detection services to the community: health screenings, education programs, support groups and wellness programs amounted to more than $50,000 worth of services at no cost to community residents.

Through the "Healthy Habits" program, Midwestern routinely offers free blood pressure screenings, vision screenings, back and spinal screenings, and information and instructions on early cancer detection. Midwestern also brings its services to locations throughout Lake and Kenosha counties. Healthcare professionals provide free blood pressure screenings and health information at events such as the Winthrop Harbor Fun Fair, Zion Nostalgia Days, Taste of Antioch, Lake County Fair and Lindemest.

Speeches on healthcare related topics to community groups by physicians and employees are made throughout the year.

Through a not-for-profit affiliate, Assistance in Healthcare Foundation, more than $30,000 in donations and memorials is raised annually for distribution to patients and patients' family members in need as the result of a long battle against illness or disease.

"We have effectively positioned Midwestern as a community healthcare resource, where people receive quality medical care as well as screenings, information and other services which will help people stay well," says Mr. Maloney.

For more information on community services, contact Midwestern's manager of community health and wellness, Shirley Floodman, at 872-8922.

Commuters rank station shops — BUSINESS AND PERSONAL FINANCE

For communities planning to build station facilities along the new Wisconsin Central commuter rail line, it is important to incorporate any commercial opportunities in the site plan from the outset. Keeping in mind the expensive nature of such projects, private business development can generate revenue from lease and percentage income and sales taxes to help offset the start-up and annual operating costs.

A study performed for Metra by Camiros, Ltd. of Chicago reveals information of particular interest to businesses considering such cooperative development.

Opinion surveys were conducted at 18 Metra stations asking commuters what kinds of goods and services would be most important to them in proximity to commuter rail stations. The study also used focus groups and questioned merchants to round out the information base of the study.

Listed are the top 20 businesses (ranked in order) respondents said they would most likely patronize in or near train stations.

The survey also indicated that 75 percent of the merchants questioned attribute between 10 to 25 percent of their sales to commuters using nearby mass transit stations.

Job Fair held for disabled

In connection with the latest developments in the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Fourth Annual Job Fair for persons with disabilities will give many persons the opportunity to meet and interview with employers. The job fair will also host seminars for both persons with disabilities and employers. It is expected to draw several hundred job seekers and more than 60 major employers in the Chicago area.

This timely event will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 17 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Oak Lawn Hilton Hotel and Conference Centre on Cicero Avenue and 94th Street. The job fair is sponsored by Cook County President Richard J. Phelan's Office of Employment Training, and is free to persons with disabilities, employers and service providers.

As of July 26, 1994, employers with 15 or more employees are required by law to offer equal opportunity to all qualified individuals regardless of physical or mental disabilities. The largest problem affecting this issue is that smaller companies lack the knowledge about the ADA, its requirements, and the potential financial benefits to those hiring persons with disabilities. To encourage and continue the transition into compliance, the job fair will expose the vast options available to persons with disabilities and to employers.

Persons interested in speaking with people with disabilities and their employers, or interested in learning more about the job fair, call (312)368-4466.

Tax changes likely with health reform

Congress is working on health care legislation, struggling to craft a package that can win a majority of votes in the House and Senate and meet President Clinton's approval. Using President Clinton's 1993 health care proposal as a starting point, Congress has already made it clear that any final bill is likely to differ—perhaps significantly—from the President's plan. Clinton's plan calls for universal coverage with mandatory employer-paid health insurance, mandatory consumer-alliances, and cost controls.

Clinton's health care proposal also included a number of tax provisions, including the following:

- increasing to 75 cents a pack the federal excise tax on cigarettes, with comparable tax increases on other tobacco products.
- giving the IRS broader authority to issue regulations for determining whether a worker is an employee or an independent contractor.
- specifying a standard package of health benefits and treating as taxable income to employees benefits provided beyond the basic package.
- allowing self-employed individuals to deduct 100% of their health insurance costs.
- allowing a tax deduction for long-term care expenses and long term care insurance.
- pulling state and local government employees into the Medicare program and requiring them to pay the Medicare tax on their wages.
- providing tax credits to doctors and other health care providers for working in areas where there are shortages of health care professionals.
- requiring more-than-2% shareholders in service industry S corporations to pay self-employment tax on non-wage income from the corporation, with similar rules applying to limited partners in partnerships.

Remember, these are only proposals. Many changes are likely to be made before any final health care reform legislation is passed. You should, however, keep the possibility of some tax law changes in mind as you do your 1994 individual and business tax planning.

Since many people delay thinking about their tax situation until after the new year starts, they miss out on many tax reduction or deferral strategies which are available. Effective tax planning, is something that savvy individuals and business owners do all year long.

Last year many people were at a disadvantage because of the changes in moving expense deductions. This year it could be health care reform that gives everyone a surprise. If you haven't already consulted with a CPA to review your tax situation and set up a long term strategy, you should do so before time runs out again this year.

Hopefully the surprise will be a good one as far as health care and taxes are concerned. But you should start to plan now so that you can react quickly to new legislation in any tax area. Chances are that any new laws are going to cause you to pay more, not less taxes.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

Seven steps before selling your home

The question comes up repeatedly. What should I know before marketing my home? How much will closing costs be? Are there several ways to determine the value of my home? Should I sell before I buy? Here's a list of seven questions to help you be objective about your decision to sell your home:

1. What is my present home worth? In order to determine your purchase power for a new home, you might start with learning what the equity level is in the home you are in. Enlist the services of your local real estate agents to get a study on the property values of homes similar to yours in your area. Working with three agents should give you some similar and updated information as to the activity and range of sales in the last six months taken from the multiple listing information in your area. You can also pay for a fee appraisal done by a local appraiser. Both reports can now yield the information you will need to determine the next several steps.

2. This step is one of the most important, as it determines your current purchase power. Set up a "pre-qualifying" appointment with a reputable lender to review your current income and debt service. By working with the current interest rates, your present equity position, savings and income potential, your lender can project the amount of mortgage you can apply for.

3. Review with your agent the price range of homes you will be looking for. Assuming you will need someplace to move, please invest the time and learn the market to which you are considering. Schools, transportation, proposed assessments, neighborhoods, park systems, taxes and shopping may be considerations to qualify just where you will live. If you are working with an agent, review costs of selling and purchase to minimize any surprises later.

4. Contact an attorney that deals primarily with the real estate in your area. You will want to consider legal representation and counseling, especially if you are considering new construction or a town home/condominium purchase. You will also want guidance on coordinating both home closings to insure the transfer of funds is done smoothly.

5. Interview a few of the house inspection services in your town. It is increasingly important for the protection of both you as the buyer and seller to employ a service to check out the premises you intend to purchase as a condition to buying. Unless you are prepared to climb the roof, crawl the crawl space and come prepared with moisture meters, and other gadgets, leave the work to a respected professional. The service is often reasonable and a cheap price for peace of mind.

Editor's note: Questions or comments may be addressed to Terri Murphy, Box 6234, Libertyville, IL 60048.

Lakes offers luxury condos

LINCOLNSHIRE—There are a few basic rules about condominiums that anybody who ever designed one or lived in one can tell you about. First, when you design a building that's a plain box outside, that's usually what the condominiums look like from the inside as well. And, as a corollary to that, a condominium with only one exterior wall always means one exterior view. These observations guided Bernard Katz & Co. Inc. in designing the Lakes of Lincolnshire Condominiums, a community of 60 luxury residences.

The complex consists of two "L"-shaped six-story buildings joined by first-floor indoor garage. Together, they resemble a "C," creating twice as many corners as a standard rectangular block of condominiums. This, combined with a creative layout inside, allows five of the community's first floor plans the luxury of windows on two sides of the building (and in two cases, through some design legerdemain, three sides) and gives the building's exterior more character than a simple brick box.

Inside, the design changes translate to better views; five of the six floor plans offer vistas of the adjacent six-acre lake, while the remaining plan has a view overlooking the adjacent Marriott Lincolnshire course. Terraces, as many as three in one floor plan, further improve the view. The two- and three-condominiums at the Lakes of Lincolnshire feature two- or 2 1/2 baths; five of the six plans are still available for purchase throughout the second phase of 30 residences (phase I is sold out), and all five include family rooms.

Size also defines luxury in the eyes of many buyers. Some plans' living rooms measure 15 by 20 feet, with master bedrooms at about 16 by 16 feet. In each Lakes of Lincolnshire Condominium, marble-tiled foyers are matched by gas fireplaces with marble hearths, and both are standard. Each condominium also has individually controlled gas heating and air conditioning provided by a separate furnace and compressor.

Fully equipped kitchens include built-in gas cooktops with self-cleaning double ovens, microwaves, refrigerators, dishwashers and garbage disposals. Private master baths feature whirlpool tubs and separate showers, and all baths have ceramic tile floors and tub/shower surrounds.

Pickell Builders to build show home

VERNON HILLS—Deborah Napier, Publisher of Custom Builder Magazine, announced that Orren Pickell Builders, Inc. of Vernon Hills, has been selected as the exclusive builder of the 1995 Custom Builder Show Home. The "unique and dramatic" design of the custom Show Home will make it one of the first residences in the country to successfully blend luxurious style with ecological function on a level "green" enough to earn it certification as a "Good Cents Environmental Home". The planned $1 million plus, 5,000 sq. ft. residence will be located in Riverwoods, Illinois an exclusive North Shore suburb of Chicago. The home will be featured in national advertising efforts directed at custom building professionals as part of the Third Annual Custom Builder Conference and Expo to be held at the Hyatt Regency on Chicago's River Walk March 2 to 5, 1995. Held for the first time in Chicago, CBCE '95 is expected to draw over 5,000 national and international custom building professionals.

State Bank of the Lakes, builds, opens third unique facility

The State Bank of the Lakes opened their third location this week. The full service branch, located near Atkinson Rd and Center St in Grayslake is unique for a variety of reasons.

Most significantly, the general contractor for the construction project is also the bank's president and chairman of the board, Randolph Miles. In essence, the bank was designed and built from the ground up by banking people.

The facility features five drive-up lanes, nine teller windows, and two 24-hour automatic teller machines. Rich appointments decorate the bank's interior, including two elegant chandeliers.

Non-profit community organizations will be most pleased with the bank's meeting room downstairs. The space will fit up to 300 people comfortably. Five or six meetings per month have already been scheduled as word of mouth gets around.

Incidentally, the new facility is opening during the 100th year of the family-owned bank's existence. Grand opening festivities are planned for Sept. 10.

People can expect free activities for the entire family. The event will feature balloons, clowns, pictures for the kids, a DJ, food and drink, and gift giveaways.

The bank's regular hours will be 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mon.-Thurs., and Sat. 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The drive-up window will operate Mon.-Fri. 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Sat. 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A cozy sitting place is located inside the State Bank of The Lakes in Grayslake, a completely full-service community bank.

The outside of the new Grayslake facility of the State Bank of the Lakes is constructed completely of brick. The interior of the building is finished and the only thing left to do is a little landscaping, said officials.

The inside lobby of the new Center Street facility in Grayslake, shows off its large, roomy appearance to customers of the State Bank of The Lakes.

State Bank of The Lakes employees get briefed on the new Grayslake facility where they will be working. The new bank opened this week and is located on Center St. The State Bank of the Lakes has two other locations currently including Antioch and Lindenhurst.

Community contributes to success of habitat homes

Roofers and electricians are contributing their free time while union contractors provide the equipment and materials for Habitat for Humanity housing programs in Chicago and Lake County.

Giving up their Saturday to complete the job, roofing contractors, members of the Chicago Roofing Contractors Association and tradesmen of the United Union of Roofers Local 11, have installed a new roof on a completely renovated 12 unit apartment cooperative at 7405 N. Ashland in Chicago that will provide new two and three bedroom units for low income families.

"Projects like this do not depend on federal or state money, they depend on the generosity of the building trade unions, their contracting partners and the public to donate their time on the construction site, dollars to buy material or donated building supplies and components," said Ken Oliver of Chicago Habitat for Humanity.

In Lake County, electrician trainees are wiring new single family homes in North Chicago for Lake County Habitat for Humanity.

Etta McDuffee

Etta McDuffee of Carol Stream has been appointed clinical educator of surgical services for EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, Barrington.

In this position, McDuffee will be responsible for providing support to the staff and surgical service line with clinical practice issues, education, research and Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) programs.

Prior to joining EHS Good Shepherd, she was perioperative services nurse clinician at Central DuPage Hospital, Winfield.

McDuffee obtained a bachelor of science degree in nursing from Elmhurst College, an associate degree in nursing from the College of DuPage, and also holds a bachelor of arts degree in Spanish. She has certifications in perioperative nursing, nursing continuing education and staff development and is a cardiopulmonary resuscitation instructor.

Past president of the Fox Valley Chapter of the Association of Operating Room Nurses (AORN), she currently serves as chapter secretary and chairman of the group's legislative committee.

In addition, McDuffee is secretary/treasurer of the Illinois Council of Operating Room Nurses.

She is also a member of the Chicago Metropolitan Nursing Education Organization, the National Nursing Staff Development Organization, the American Association for Healthcare Education and Training and Sigma Theta Tau, the international nursing honor society.

EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, which is part of EHS Health Care, is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59.

Blue Cross airs concerns about health reform

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois has been advocating health care reform for many years and has made specific proposals for reform in the health insurance marketplace. These reforms would solve most of the problems in the current system and would serve as a strong foundation for further work.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois has also long advocated managed care as a key cost containment tool and note that most of the health care reform proposals share the position. Unfortunately, some of those same proposals also contain the seeds that could destroy managed care plans. There are certain elements such as price controls, any willing provider measures and the easing of anti-trust provisions that are incompatible with managed care.

Price controls, no matter what the form, have never worked. Their impact on managed care plans like HMOs and PPOs would be disastrous. Price controls in the form of standard fee schedule would deprive managed care plans of the flexibility needed to attract physicians into networks and to reward quality care, efficiently given. Price controls in the form of premium caps would deny health plans the capital they require for developing new cost effective data systems and infrastructure.

"Any willing provider" laws which force managed care plans to contract with any provider who is willing to abide by the terms of participation sound innocent at first, but it is clear that such laws insulate providers from competition and would undermine the ability of managed care plans to negotiate with providers for quality, cost-effective services.

The realization of anti-trust laws would allow collaborative activities among health providers that could result in boycotts, price-fixing, conspiracies and

As the work toward health care reform speeds along, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois hopes that haste does not result in legislation which would prevent managed care plans from doing what they do so well—controlling cost while providing high quality care.

Free eye exams kick off national eye exam month

Children and adults can have their vision screened free of charge at All-American Eye Check Day, Aug. 14, from noon to 4 p.m. at Sears Optical, 573 Liberty St., Wauconda. This is the second annual All-American Eye Check Day held at 650 locations nationwide and is open to the public, without appointment.

The first annual All-American Eye Check Day in August, 1993, resulted in 40,000 free vision screenings performed. "A substantial number of people we screened that day needed further visual evaluation," said Gilma Mauch, patient care manager at Sears Optical, near Jewel Osco.

This year, a new technology specifically designed for children, but useful for adults as well, will be coupled with the traditional vision screening tools.

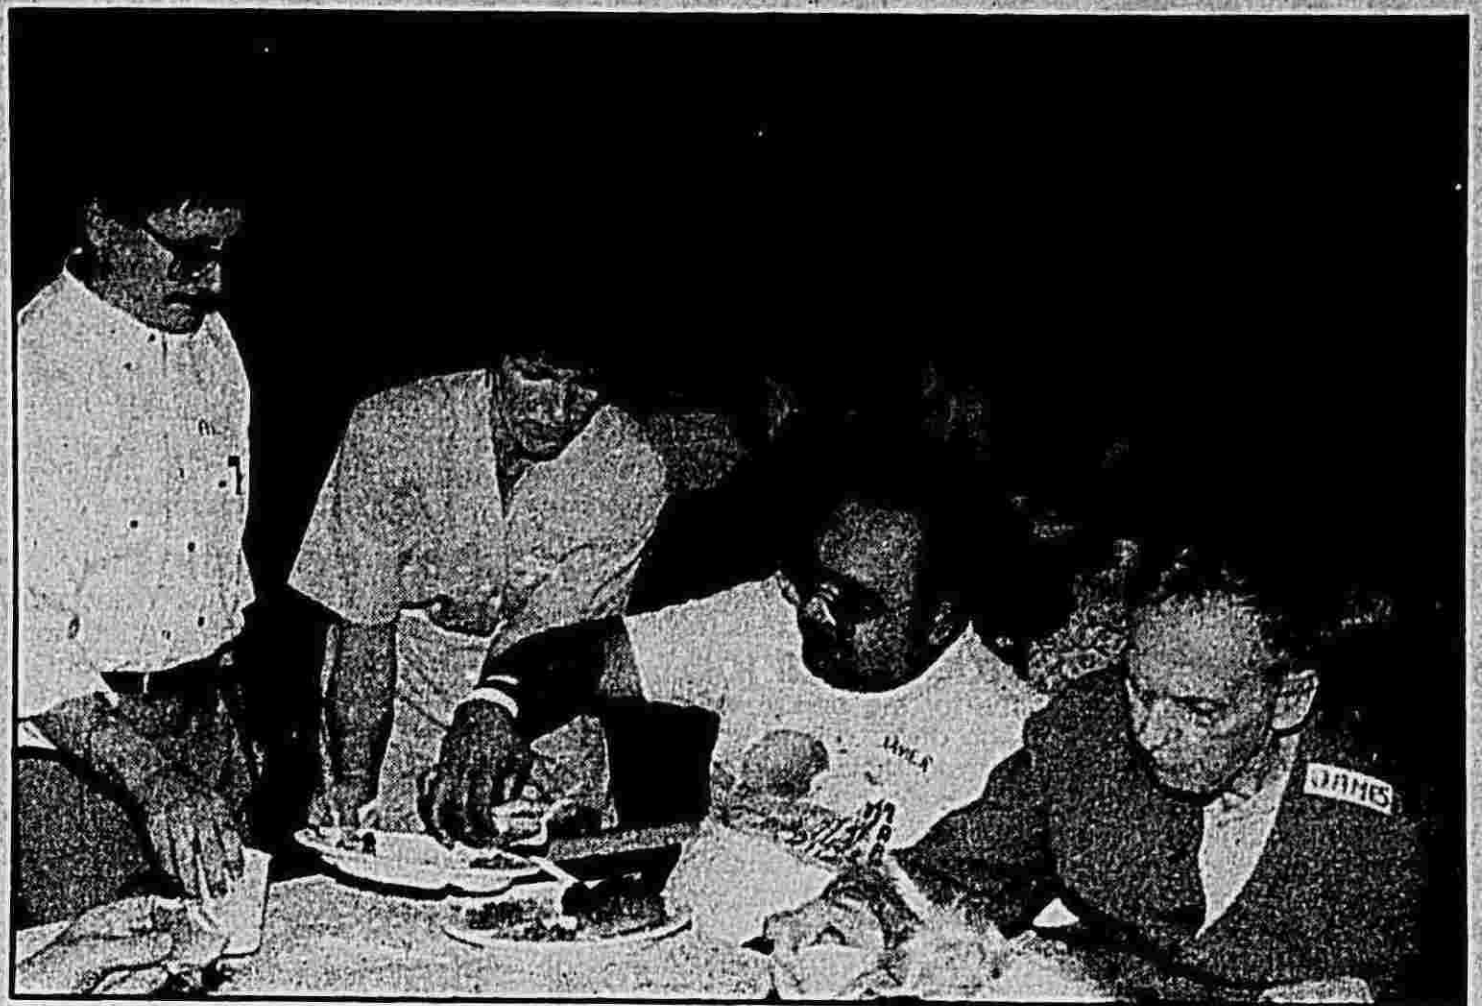

"The test has been used in the United States by ophthalmologists, optometrists and school nurses, but this is the first time it's being used for a one-time vision screening of this magnitude," said Mauch.

"We urge parents to bring in their children for screenings as a first step in a back-to-school readiness plan. Children may not perform well academically if they are having a vision problem. And the signs aren't always obvious," said Tom Fickes, Independent Doctor of Optometry for Sears Optical, Wauconda. A vision screening can usually be performed in five to seven minutes.

"We recommend a program for adults that includes regular eye exams, perhaps every other year or more frequently, depending on your doctor's advice, and more often with advancing age," said Edward E. Greene, president, Prevent Blindness America. Fifty percent of all blindness could be prevented with proper care. For children, Prevent Blindness America recommends an eye examination shortly after birth, by six months of age, again between the ages of three and five and periodically throughout the school years. According to Prevent Blindness America, one in every 20 preschoolers has a vision problem. For school age children, the numbers jump to one in four.

During National Eye Exam Month in August, many independent Doctors of Optometry associated with Sears Optical donate $1 to Prevent Blindness America's sightsaving programs for every patient they see. During the past five years, the doctors have donated more than $650,000 to the non-profit organization. In addition, Sears Optical will be encouraging good preventive vision care during National Eye Exam Month by offering incentives to patients who schedule eye exams.

Surgeons offers RK

Walter Fried, M.D., and Daniel Ritacca, M.D. with offices in Gurnee and Libertyville, have joined eight ophthalmologists from six medical practices in Illinois and Indiana and have formed Preferred Eye Surgeons, a unique professional affiliation, to offer radial keratotomy (RK). RK is the micro-surgical procedure that permanently corrects nearsightedness and astigmatism.

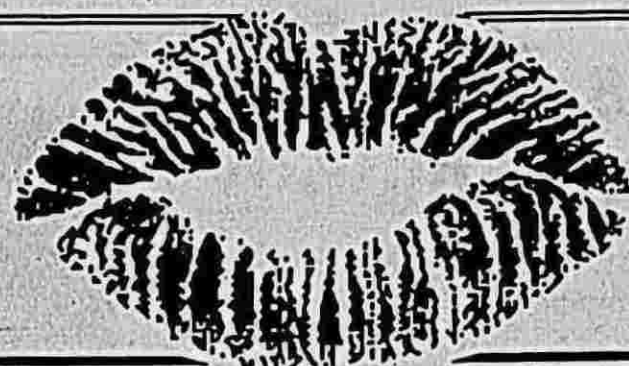

As Preferred Eye Surgeons, the practices' common goal is to promote a thorough understanding of RK, enabling people to make an informed decision. Free RK seminars conducted by the RK surgeons and free individual evaluations are offered at each Preferred Eye Surgeons location. With practices in Cook, DuPage and Lake County, Ill. and Lake County, Ind., they are well-situated to serve the Greater Chicagoland area.

Those attending Preferred Eye Surgeons seminars will hear about the RK procedure and its benefits. They will be informed of recent developments including diamond blades, ultrasound and computerized corneal topography which have substantially advanced RK safety and predictability. They will also learn about the advantages of on-site surgical facilities and continuity of follow-up care provided by Preferred Eye Surgeons.

She really is

I'm calling from Lake Bluff in rebuttal for the person who has called in twice saying my daughter does not have the Jr. Miss America title. She does have the title. She got it in Anaheim, Calif. and her mother does have the proof at all times with her. The one you are hurling is the little girl not the mother.

It counts at home

My children will be attending Round Lake High School this year. Prior to that they have been attending Grayslake High School. I read in Lipservice how bad Round Lake High Schools is, and how lucky she was that her kids attended Grayslake. I'm disappointed to hear a parent say they are privileged to live in an area where her kids can attend a better school. It didn't affect my school. I know what kind of environment I've provided for them at home. I'm not sorry they will be attending Round Lake schools. I feel sorry for that parent and the kids for thinking that way.

My wife and I had a very wonderful experience in Antioch. Our daughter was lost, confused and ran out of gas on a strange street at night. The Undenhurst police gave her a ride to the nearest 24-hour gas station so she could call home and get picked up. The next day, when we came to get the car, my daughter could not remember where it was. The Lake County, Antioch, and Undenhurst police were very helpful and went beyond their duty in helping us locate the car. The forest rangers at Van Patten Woods were also very helpful. Thank you all.

Tax overeaters

I oppose higher taxes on cigarettes. Why not place higher taxes on food? Overweight people have health problems. They increase our insurance rates and break furniture in public and private places. Now, we who enjoy smoking are not welcome in places that our tax money has paid for. I am not giving my name because I have been threatened.

Bon voyage

I am so happy I moved out of Mundelein. I lived in a subdivision with poorly built homes. The dogs aren't watched. The children aren't watched. No one says hello.

Thirtysomething

Congratulations to the Antioch High School 1974 class reunion committee for an excellent job on the 20th reunion. We classmates are lucky to have such a close class and friends who will last a lifetime.

Has a real job

This for the person in Round Lake who drives a blue van and has a bumper sticker that says 'Get a real job, be a housewife.' I was very offended by that. I am not only a housewife, but I also work outside the home. I did not give up my job as a homemaker. I do both jobs to the best of my ability. That bumper sticker is just as bad as the women who work outside the home calling housewives inadequate.

Be serious, mayor

This is to the Lipservice calls 'She is news' and 'Master of dance.' These two people are so completely off the point about the daughter of the mayor going to take ballet lessons. It has nothing to do with the fact that it is not a sport or any type of summer program. The point is that someone in the position of a mayor has no business doing something like this. It is not the fault of the child either. She is a child. The mayor wonders why people don't take Round Lake Park seriously about the landfill issue. There you go. Any mayor who took themselves seriously would not ask through the paper for money for her daughter to go to dance school. We are not taken seriously because we do not take ourselves seriously. Open your eyes, mayor.

People are cruel

Why is it that people can only see wrong in other people? If they took a good look at themselves, it is another matter. People are so cruel. Don't hurt other people if you don't want to get hurt yourself. This includes your words and your actions.

Extortion attempt

This is the 'Chinese astronaut' and I am addressing the three relatives of Pete Jakstas who wrote in concerning the Fox Lake fireworks. I read in the Fox Lake News that Pete showed up at a village board meeting that demanded $10,000 'now' or there were not going to be any fireworks. Also, I still think they were not worth $10,000. Editorial Note: According to the Lakeland Newspapers reporter who attended the board meeting, Jakstas said needed to 'know' now. His reason for urgency was that his fireworks distributors had given him a deadline that was about to expire. A decision on the fireworks had also been put off for several meetings.

No anchors away

I just read the Fox Lake Press and I agree with the Chinese astronaut. If he did such a good job with the fireworks, then why did so many boats leave before the fireworks finally started?

Camel ate it

The Grayslake Park District is having a circus at the fairgrounds. I hope somebody watches this closely. The last time they had this, there were $20,000 dollars missing.

Poor acoustics

Do you residents of Wauconda know what the high pitched noise is that is keeping you up all night? It is from Henry Studios on Bonner Rd. The village said they are not in violation of any law. They are wrong. It violates state and local ordinances. Please call the village and complain or go to a village board meeting and let them know it is driving you crazy too.

Fireman line cut

I was really aggravated about the fireman at the Lake County Fair who told me my son should let a lady and her child go in to the firehouse, which would cause my son another 20-minute wait. I walked a way and talked to the fire chief. He let us in later. It is really wrong of mothers going in front of little kids because the little kids don't know how to dispute it. The firemen should not allow this. Waiting to a child is like an eternity.

We care

This is responding to the person who called animal activists 'wackos.' I beg to differ. So many people see an animal crossing the road and then speed up to try and hit it. How would you like it if I saw you crossing the road and sped up to hit you? Animal activists care about people and animals.

Taxes up in smoke

I am a new resident to Grayslake. I would like to know where our taxes go to the Grayslake Fire Department. My son and I were at the Taste Freeze and went to take a look at the fire department. The fireman there was courteous enough to take us around and show us the firetrucks. I was appalled at the condition of the fire station. It is old with old engines. I put out a lot of tax money for that. Everything in this area looks so old. The money I pay in taxes should go for more than this.

Can't wheel around

The Taste of Antioch and Maxwell Street Days were wonderful for the town unless you were on wheel chairs. The streets and sidewalks were blocked. If you want to make Antioch a shopping center, you had better wake up. Thank God for Round Lake Beach and Gurnee. They have made their shopping centers accessible to us.

Wake up

I have read in the Antioch News-Reporter about this 150-foot no-wake zone and all that is involved. I have lived on the channel since the late 1960s and it is atrocious. In the last 10 years, the no wake zone is completely ignored. I put my boat back out this year after several years and I am getting run past by people. I yell at people to slow down. The police are not enforcing it. I don't know how they are going to enforce a no wake zone around the entire lake. They should just concentrate on the channels for starters.

ing it. I don't know how they are going to enforce a no wake zone around the entire lake. They should just concentrate on the channels for starters.

N-I-M-B-Y

This is regarding the Lipservice call about Mayor Hamsher and the trustees parking riverboat gambling in Fox Lake in their own back yard and not ours. I fully agree.

Not a dent

This is for the person who called in about the 'No bunny police.' They are right that one dead bunny won't hurt the population, but one dead person won't hurt the population either.

Count your stash

It is a good thing to have the prisoners doing something useful like waxing official boats instead of doing nothing. Instead of complaining, the people who have a problem with it should have the prisoners come over and wax their boats and maybe have the prisoners help count their money too.

Condemn smellers

I am a non-smoker. If we are going to condemn those who do smoke, then we should condemn other people who smell. Others smell worse than smokers. I thought this country was based on individualism.

Grocery shopping

Two years ago we bought our house in Mundelein. We were told there was going to be a grocery store on Rte 176 and Midlothian Rd. Not only is there not a grocery store, but I am tired of driving to the Jewel on Rte 60. With all the new homes being built in Mundelein, there is not room to put in a big grocery store in our area. Does anybody know when we will get one here, or will it come when we decide to move?

Hark the extension

To 'Hark the Heron.' Don't forget the Yorkhouse Rd extension. What is the status of that proposal? I have not heard that one in a while.

Model citizens

There should be more people like Ice Pick and the Fisher Boy and the others who help me through a very difficult time. If they were not there, things could have become quite serious. I am expressing my deep thanks to them.

Three Martini lunch?

This is a question for Judy Martini. Do you remember how you were telling people how you were going to clean up around the area? Where is the dredging of the channel? What of the road work that was going to be done this year?

Lipservice accepts

I am the original 'Dance fever' caller. I must answer a few calls. Someone suggested my 'kid' should go out and get the money herself to attend dance school. My 'daughter' is doing just that. She is working a job and taking out student loans. Secondly, I did not mispeak and Lipservice did not either. I identified the mayor and the Village correctly. Lipservice printed my call almost verbatim. Perhaps Lipservice deserves an apology.

No unit

Now that Lake County Regional Superintendent Ed Gonwa denied the unit school petition, shouldn't the citizens of School District 117 wonder why Joann Osmond has a direct conflict of interest? She was on both the Committee of 10 and the Board of Education. She should resign from the board because of this conflict. It is clear she does not take pride in her high school.

No comment

Why hasn't the mayor of Wauconda commented on his altercation with the activists at the rodeo? I don't agree with the activists but I feel the mayor brought embarrassment to the village by going out there for a confrontation. What the newspapers neglected to say was that his partner is a village official, appointed by the mayor. Why were they there, outside the village limits to put themselves in a situation like that one? Why did the police chief of Wauconda interview the suspect instead of the county sheriff's office, who is conducting the other interviews? It sure sounds like a cover-up.

Park repair

There is a park in Fox Lake at the end of Eagle Point Dr. that is in ridiculous condition. All the equipment is old or in disrepair. The Park District should do something to spruce it up. There are a lot of kids who would like to play in that park.

All God's creatures

I love animals. Please be aware if your veterinarian has 24-hour service. Consider how long it takes you to get to the vet in case of emergency. You may not have another chance otherwise. If your vet seems to be treating your ill pet conservatively, insist he should be more aggressive with treatment. I wish I had. God must love animals because he sure made a lot of them. I love animals because of him.

Also, don't be angry with stray animals. It isn't their fault that people let them down.

County dollars

I think the person calling Lipservice about the 'No Mayorspeak' should know that the county is fixing Cedar Lake Rd with their tax dollars, not village tax dollars and they will not be told what to do with it. They do not take orders from Round Lake Beach.

Great season

This is a big round of applause to the players and the coaches for the Grant Township Senior division and the All Star team. You gave us a wonderful season and a lot to be proud of. Thank you girls and coaches.

See all sides

This is about the Lake Villa unit school plan. I would like to hear more from both sides because I have not made up my mind. This is the nagging thought in my mind. Antioch voted down their referendum. It seems they don't want to pay any more money for the betterment of their children's education, yet they want a better school. They don't want us to have our own high school because they don't want to lose our money. Why not let the Millburn District voters choose if they want to be involved at all. Why should they just be pulled in if they don't want to be?

Going looney

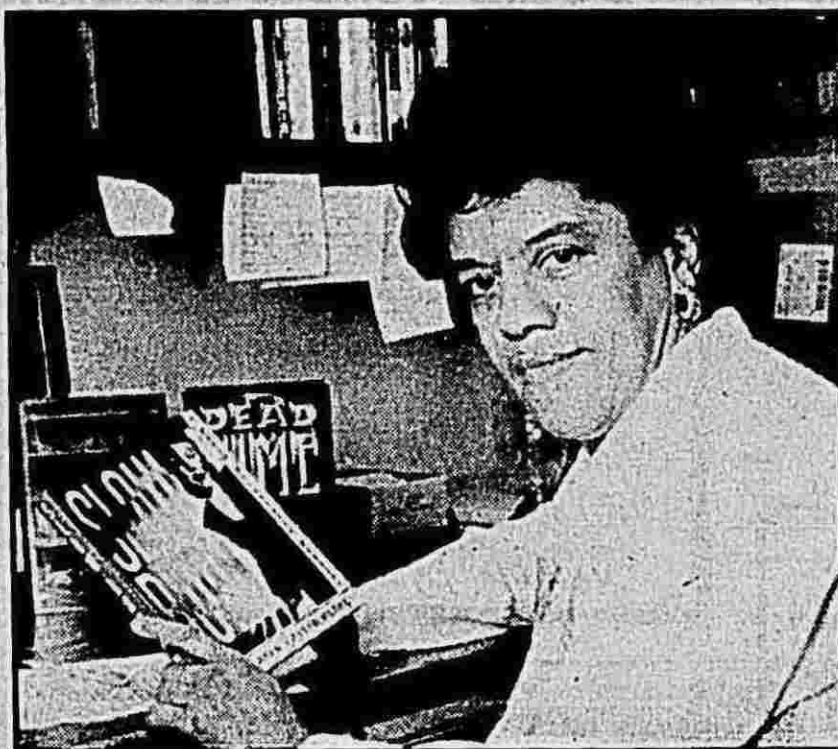

I live on Loon Lake in Antioch. I am complaining about the trains that go by all night long. They blow their horns in what seems like Lake Villa and don't stop until they get past Rte 173. Why don't they just put up gates to stop that need? Years ago it was one train a night. Now the traffic is constant. Who can we complain to about this? It is impossible to get a full night's sleep around here anymore.

Love, love

This is about the poor condition of the two tennis courts in Fox Lake behind the police station. They are cracked and have debris and weeds on them. They are not a pretty sight. Where is our park maintenance?

Success is no mystery to her

More than a decade ago, Eleanor Taylor Bland of Waukegan had three goals in life

- To further her education
- To publish a book
- To get a job at Abbott Laboratories

The College of Lake County helped her to fulfill all three of these dreams. In 1981 she received her degree from CLC in business and accounting, helping her to land her present position in the cost accounting department at Abbott. Meanwhile, Eleanor has managed to publish three mysteries and secure a contract to write two more.

"The thing I valued most about my experience at CLC was the diversity of the students. The younger ones had that incredible, boundless energy of youth, while the adult students, like me, brought with them that old-fashioned work ethic and a solid determination to do well at everything," she recalls.

Thanks to her education at CLC, where she graduated as an honor student, Eleanor has the educational credentials she wanted, the coveted job at Abbott Laboratories and the time and the resources that allow her to continue to bring her readers the adventures of fictional police detective Marti McAlister.

Celebrating its 25th anniversary, the College of Lake County has helped more than 300,000 people like Eleanor write their personal success stories. Let us help you write yours!

Frank R. Babka

Age 79 of Round Lake Park, IL passed away Friday, August 5, 1994 at his home. He was born April 27, 1915 in Chicago, IL and had lived in Antioch for many years before moving to Round Lake Park five years ago. Mr. Babka retired in 1975 after 30 years of service in the shipping Department for R E A Express Company of Chicago. On June 12, 1963 he married Emily M. Stella in Berwyn, IL and she preceded him in death on May 28, 1985.

Survivors include one daughter Mary L. York of Round Lake Park, IL and two sons James Stella and Charles (Charlene) Stella, both of Downers Grove, IL; and one sister Lillian Loseau of Oak Park, IL. He was preceded in death by one sister, Mildred.

Visitation was held on Monday, August 8, 1994 at the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, IL. Private interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery, Forest Park, IL. Those desiring may make contributions to the Vitas Hospice, 4550 N. Winchester Ave., Chicago, IL 60640 in his memory.

David L. Dittbrenner,

Age 55 of Island Lake died Wednesday, August 3, 1994. David was born in Chicago, August 24, 1938 to Hugo and Ellen (Johnson) Dittbrenner. Formerly of the Dundee area, he moved to Island Lake in 1979. In 1978 he was employed with the Island Lake Sanitary District and he was named Superintendent in the past few years. He was a member of the Island Lake Lion's Club and the American Legion Post 911 in Wauconda, IL and served in the Korean Conflict.

He is survived by his wife, Sharon (Skomski), who married him May 26, 1960 in Woodstock, IL. Other survivors include daughters LuAnne Dittbrenner and Lorraine McWethy; two grandsons Gregory Dittbrenner and Justin McWethy, all of Island Lake, one brother Kenneth (Joan) Brenner of Barrington, IL.

Visitation was Saturday, August 6, 1994 at George R. Justen and Son Funeral Home, 3519 W. Elm Street, McHenry from 3 pm until 8 pm. Funeral service was Saturday, August 6 at 8 pm in the Funeral Home with Rev. Roger Schneider officiating. Interment was private.

Lillian M. Sorensen

Age 78 of Lake Villa, IL passed away Friday, August 5, 1994 at her home. She was born March 29, 1916 in Antioch, the daughter of the late Peter and Nielsine (Langvard) Laursen. She lived in Antioch until 1967 when she moved to Lake Villa. Mrs. Sorensen retired as a cashier from Illinois Bell and was a member of the VFW Auxiliary of Lake Villa. On October 21, 1967 she married her second husband, Howard Sorensen and he preceded her in death on March 4, 1972.

Survivors include two daughters Lynn Waterman of Ontario, California and Sharon (Bob) Bunkelman of Lindenhurst, IL; one step-son Howard (Helen) Sorensen of Rockford, IL and one step-daughter Bonnie (Gene) Scudder of Harvard, IL; one brother Ray Laursen of Rosecrans, IL. She was the grandmother of ten and the great grandmother of twelve. She was also preceded in death by her first husband, William R. Gray and one son, Dennis Gray.

Funeral services were held at 7:00 p.m. Monday, August 8, 1994 at the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St. (Rte. 83), Antioch, IL with Rev. Charles Miller of St. Stephen Lutheran Church of Antioch officiating. Interment was private. Friends called at the funeral home from 4 p.m. Monday until time of services. In lieu of flowers, those desiring may make contributions to Star Hospice c/o St. Therese Medical Center, 2615 Washington, Waukegan, IL 60085 in her memory.

Jack Haas,

Age 57 died Tuesday, August 2, 1994 at his home in Las Vegas, NV. An Army Veteran, he was born June 26, 1937 in Chicago. He was a four year resident of Las Vegas, former Round Lake Park Trustee, former member of the Round Lake Area Fire Dept., and a member of Red Rock Moose Lodge, #252.

He is survived by his wife, Kathleen (Hellwig) Haas of Las Vegas; daughter Donna D. (Randy) Mathias of Antioch and son Jack, (Kristi) of Lake Villa; step-son Mark Hellwig of Round Lake; brothers Wally, of Elk Grove Village and Alfred of Deltona, FL and six grandchildren.

Scripture services were held Friday, August 5 at Palm Red Rock Mortuary, Las Vegas, NV. A memorial service will be held Friday, August 12 at Strang Funeral Chapel, Grayslake, with Rev. Lisle Kauffman officiating. Viewing will be at 6:30 pm with the service at 7:30 pm. The family requests donations be made to Leukemia Society of America, 1744 W. Katella, Suite 8, Orange, CA 92667.

Richard P. Smith

Age 42, a resident of Lake Geneva, WI for the past three years, formerly of Carol Stream, IL, passed away suddenly on Saturday, August 6, 1994 while visiting his mother in Perham, MN. He was born October 3, 1951 in Harvey, IL. He was a salesman for McCann Construction Specialties Company of Addison, IL for 15 years. Mr. Smith had worked the past three years out of McCann's Wauconda office from where he serviced the Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin territories. He attended Marian Catholic and Mendel Catholic High Schools, and was a former member of Ascension Parish in his hometown of Harvey, IL.

Survivors include his wife Flori (nee Prono); daughter Kathleen Marie Smith of Lincolnshire, IL and son Robert Smith of Lincolnshire; sister Elizabeth (Gary) VanDeKerckhouse of Springfield, IL; brother Gregory (Mary) Smith of Dolton, IL; mother Lois (nee Woychik). He is preceded in death by his father Robert Smith in 1986, and brothers John Smith in 1993 and Robert Smith in 1954.

Funeral services were offered Wednesday, August 10 at 10 a.m. at St. Agnes Church, 1515 S. Chicago Rd., Chicago Heights. Rev. Robert Wielosinski officiated. Interment was at Assumption Cemetery in Glenwood, IL. Visitation was held Tuesday, August 9th from 2 to 9 p.m. at Panozzo Brothers Funeral Home, Inc. 530 W. 14th St., Chicago Heights, IL 60411.

*Sometimes an old-fashioned song
Brings us a thought of you;
Sometimes a flower as we pass along,
Or a sky that is azure blue;
Or a silver lining in the clouds,
When the sun is peeping through.
All of these things, make us think of you.*

How To Write A Bestseller.

Give the reader all the specifics.

Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as:

- color • size • condition
- brand name • age
- features • and benefits

Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts.

Include the price.

Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

Avoid Abbreviations.

Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW tires (white side wall) and won't take the time to figure them out.

Include phone number & hours.

Let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Run consecutive weeks.

Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your sales representative. Run your ad for at least two weeks.

The Lakeland Newspapers friendly classified advertising representatives are happy to assist you with your ad over the phone. They even assist you with writing your ad. Just call (708) 223-8161 to place your classified ad. Representatives will help you with your ad by phone Monday thru Thursday, 8 am to 8 pm and Saturdays 8:30 am to 2 pm. You can also place your ad in person at:

Tellers (Customer Service Representative)
THE CITIBANKER DIFFERENCE
At Citibank, we are enhancing our products and services which has resulted in challenging and career oriented full-time teller opportunities in our Vernon Hills branch.
Our tellers are different, they are both customer service and sales people who perform various banking functions and make it easier for our customers to manage their money anytime, anywhere, anyway. These positions require an ability to communicate effectively, a customer service attitude and approach to business, as well as personal initiative and a sales orientation. Candidates must have a MINIMUM of one year previous teller or general retail sales experience. These growth-oriented positions are pivotal for the future successes of "you" and the company.
If you are interested in a new career, upward mobility, set in a challenging fast-paced work environment send a resume to: Citibank Staffing & Mobility, Attn: L.M. 7 South Dearborn, 2nd Floor, Chicago, IL 60603.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am coming up on 20 years employment with a well known national corporation. It has been told to me that I may be among a few employees who will be asked to take an early retirement. I feel very strong about continuing to work and had considered doing so for another 7-10 years before retiring. When approached by the company can I refuse? L.B.

A: Dear L.B. Hold on! Don't jump the gun on this. I have heard of some pretty sweet deals people have received from their employers upon accepting an early retirement program. In fact, one deal was so sweet that the individual took his early retirement and along with it came perks, benefits and $$$$. He decided to start a small business of his own which allowed him to fulfill a life long desire to do so and further allowed him the flexibility to do some traveling. Since you have not been formally approached, consider what you would do if you were faced by this. Before you get yourself all worked up at the possibility find out about your corporate retirement plan, it may be wonderful. Plan ahead!

Q: Dear...Search: Just over three weeks ago I left a company I have worked at for four years. I left for a position that had opened up in our family business that I thought would be challenging. I left my former employer on very good terms, they were sorry to see me go. My problem is now I am sorry I left! I miss my old job and co-workers and I am finding this new position anything but challenging. I realize now that I may have made a mistake. What should I do? I.G.

A: Dear I.G.: Be honest with everybody including yourself. Have you given this new position a fair chance? Something caused you to make that move to begin with. Was it money, a better opportunity or perhaps just as you said a challenge? If you feel strong about your employer, you have nothing to lose by speaking with your former Supervisor or the Personnel Department and letting them know how you feel. Be prepared for the strong possibility that your previous position may have already been filled with a new employee, maybe not! But being honest with them is worth a shot. The worst they can do is say "no" and if they do you still have a job that you may just start to enjoy a bit more with a little time. Good Luck.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

LINDA LEE

Country charm and modern living are merged in the impressive design of the Linda Lee. This two story beauty can fit a variety of lifestyles. With three bedrooms comprising the entire second floor, this plan is perfect for a family with older children still at home that need a certain amount of privacy, or empty nesters that can employ the upper floor to accommodate visiting friends and relatives. A covered porch, aside from its eye-catching curb appeal, lets guests shake off the rain before entering and provides a good vantage point to sit and enjoy a balmy summer evening. Once inside, it is evident that the application of available space was well conceived. The stairway to the upper floor is centrally located, allowing free traffic flow throughout the house.

To the left of the entry, the huge, vaulted master suite sits in regal isolation. A large window facing the front provides plenty of sunlight and a great view. Other amenities include a capacious walk-in closet with enough shelves to hold a multitude of accessories, a large bathroom with a custom shower, twin basins, separate toilet and linen storage. There is also private access to a side deck where an optional spa can melt away the cares of the day.

The vaulted living room is the focal point of family life. Here the clan can gather for warmth and conversation in front of the gas fireplace or be entertained by the television/stereo built in under the staircase. The U-shaped kitchen, with built-in dishwasher, raised eating bar and corner pantry make this a cook's delight. Casual meals may be served in the adjacent nook or through sliding glass doors to the back deck, weather permitting. More formal occasions can be enjoyed in the front dining room that also features a comfortable window seat. A handy utility room, accessible to the garage and a half-bath complete the first floor design.

The top floor has two almost identical bedrooms at the back, each with ample closet space and a built-in desk in bedroom four. Bedroom two, in the front, features a vaulted ceiling, large closet and a delightful window seat where an afternoon can be pleasantly spent with a good book. This room can be easily adapted to a music room or library.

For a study kit of the LINDA LEE (404-05), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

11th Annual RV AND VAN SHOW

RV and camping show comes to Lake County

You can always tell when it's August. The RV and Camping Show takes over the Lake County Fairgrounds and recreational vehicles arrive by the hundreds!

This is the eleventh year the show has drawn thousands of buyers and hundreds of vehicles to the Fairgrounds. It's one of the best opportunities all year to side by side comparison shop for the style, make, and model RV you want.

There'll be dealers representing all the major manufacturers and a variety of styles. You'll find everything in RV's from towable fold-down campers, to tow-alongs, to 5th wheels, including Class A motor homes, mini motor homes, vans, and trucks for towing, even permanent Park Models.

The participating dealers represent Rockford and McHenry, all of Lake County and Northern Cook. Arrangements have been made for on-site financing help. Each dealer will be ready and willing to appraise your trade-in, so come prepared for instant approval! Most dealers will have some used units on display along with their new, and the show includes a display of conversion vans and tow vehicles. The RV and Camping Show dates are August 17th to the 21st. The show will be open Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Sunday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Lake County Fairgrounds is on the corner of Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake. The show is easily accessible from the north or south via I-94. Simply exit at Rt. 120 and go west about 3 miles to the Fairgrounds, signs will direct you from there.

Admission is only $4 per person, and a Senior Discount of $1 is in effect Wednesday through Friday.

With so many units on display and so many choices available, this is the very best opportunity to comparison shop for an RV, camper, or conversion van.

Owning an RV is a very satisfying way to enjoy your family and to have fun in retirement and you'll find something for everyone at the 11th Annual RV and Camping Show, Aug. 17 through the 21 at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

Tips for traveling, camping with kids

Now that you're a proud parent, look back on the vacations your parents took you on as a child. You really have to admire your parents for their pioneer spirit. Heck, they even took the dog! Maybe you remember a 1,000 mile ride in a wood-sided station wagon so that you could get sunburnt beyond recognition as you played in the ocean for the first time. Do you remember long drives and rainy days being the worst part of the vacation?

Idle times are boring for kids. Avoid those little voices asking, "Daddy are we there yet?" or "When will the rain stop?" Keep the kids busy with games.

Play games that are simple yet creative, using observation and memory. Paper and pencil are the only pieces you need. The key is to gear games to the age level of the children. Observe things through their eyes and challenge them to think about what they've seen or will see. It passes time and reinforces what they've learned and experienced.

The members of the Starcraft Camper Club, a group of RV enthusiasts, have logged millions of miles with kids over the past three decades. Here are a few of the club's suggestions on entertaining children when they can't entertain themselves.

Games to play on the road

- Write down all the foods you see advertised on billboards and then make a "menu" for dinner.

- Look for objects that begin with the letter "a" for a few minutes; then look for "b" words, and so on. Specify a category, such as living objects or brand names, to increase the challenge.

- Who can be the first to come up with a word using the letters on a car license plate in order (especially challenging when there are three letters)? Look for cars from other states.

Games for the end of the day

- Ask questions about the places you've seen. (I saw a TALL building that honors one of our presidents. What is it? The Washington Monument.)

- If you could build your own zoo, what animals would you like to include and why? What are the animals you saw today?

- Recall what you've seen with an alphabet game. (Start with, "I saw an a—." Each person repeats what's already been said and adds another word as you go through the alphabet.)

Games for a rainy day

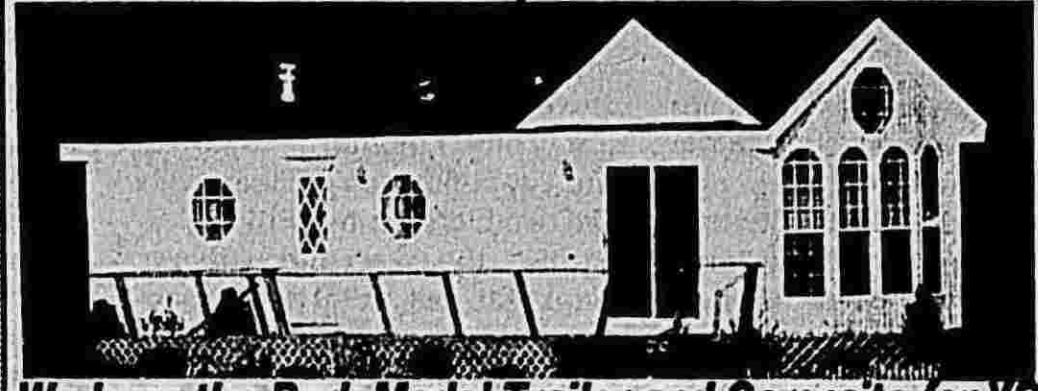

- Picture charade - begin drawing part of a picture of something you've seen; keep adding to the picture till someone guesses what it is.

- Before you reach your destination, everyone writes the same word or short phrase to tell where you're going ("Baltimore" or "amusement park"). Who can make the most words using the letters in the word or phrase?

- Scramble the names of places or things you plan to see on a piece of paper so that everyone has to unscramble the words (example, dinute tinosan = United Nations; glasf = flags).

Waukegan Aces Red finish third in Midwest regional

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The Waukegan Aces Red team finished a respectable third in the Midwest regional, losing one game in the double elimination tournament to an Indiana team now heading for the World Series.

As part of the oldest national youth tournament, the Aces sponsored the Waukegan Classic Chevy and Toyota Tourney last weekend. Winner of the nine-team regional advanced to the World Series in Marietta, Ga.

Waukegan opened the tourney with a 9-2 win over Oswego. Ace hurler Casey O'Connell of Antioch garnered the win with 15 strikeouts. Offensively, O'Connell was supported by Zion's Mike Cinni, who had two key doubles which drove in four runs. Carmel High star Tony Longmire homered, and Pat Thompson of Libertyville had two hits with two RBIs.

In the second game, Waukegan lost a 10-9 heartbreaker to a team from Whitford, Mich.

Waukegan was winning 9-8 with two outs in the bottom half of the seventh, but a fielding error, an infield single, a double and another hit produced the tying and winning runs for Michigan.

"Much to our dismay he couldn't find the ball," Aces Coach Ralph Bufano said of the error hit to Waukegan pitcher Steve Waldo of Wauconda. "It

"He's our on-base guy," Bufano said of the speedy Whitcraft. "He was probably the fastest ball player in the tourney." Whitcraft swiped eight bases in the tournament.

Game three was another down-to-the wire thriller, but this time Waukegan was the victor in a last-inning, one-run game.

In game four, Waukegan faced Oswego again and captured a 7-5 victory.

Following a strong performance by starting pitcher John Georgy, Cinni came in to save the final three innings. He allowed one hit and struckout five.

"He (Cinni) did terrific. It certainly was a sizable contribution," Bufano said.

In the final game, Waukegan fell to the powerhouse team from Indiana, who advanced to the World Series for the second consecutive year. Bufano said Waukegan pitcher Bill Duncan of Zion kept the Aces within reach in the 5-2 game, but two Indiana home runs proved to be the difference.

Bufano said he was happy with Waukegan's third place finish in the tourney. He said this year's experience could make a difference for next year's returning players including Cinni, Georgy, Whitcraft, Duncan, Longmire, Sean Mantucca of Libertyville, Todd Grahm of Libertyville, Jason Dykstra of Lake Forest and John Anderson of Barrington.

The other players have graduated high school and are off to compete in college baseball, which, Bufano said, is the point of the Aces program: To develop high school players for college play.

"Building good work habits and skills is our main objective," Bufano said. "They're learning and working hard for tomorrow."

Classic benefits cystic fibrosis

Join Former Chicago Cub Star, Gary "Sarge" Matthews, on Tuesday, Aug. 24 as he hosts the eleventh annual Gary "Sarge" Matthews Lake County Golf Classic to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Cystic Fibrosis (CF) is the leading genetic killer of children and young adults in the United States.

The tournament will be held at the Midlane Country Club, located at 14565 Yorkhouse Rd. in Wadsworth. Golfer fee is $150 and includes lunch, dinner, beverages on the course and prize auctioning of valuable sports memorabilia.

For more information contact Karen Zbikowski at (312)236-4491.

Atoms recruiting

The Zion Atoms Hockey Association is seeking both players and coaches from throughout the county for its '94-'95 season.

Children ages first through 12th-grade are eligible to participate in the league which plays from September through March in the Zion Ice Arena.

For more information on the league contact Todd Seputis at 356-1046.

Missed extra points give Vikings a heart-breaker

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

If football games were determined by who scored the most touchdowns, the Lake County Vikings would be celebrating a .500 record.

Unfortunately, the old rule of total points still applies and the Palos-Orland Park Force outscored the Vikings 7-0 in the kicking department and that was the difference in a 13-12 Viking loss. The defeat drops the Vikes to 0-2.

The Force answered a Wes Quist to Frank Ruiz 85-yard TD score when Tom Tomlinson threw 30 yards to Brad Espisito with 1:36 left. That tied the score at 12-12, but Chris Fredrichs, a former Viking, still had to add the extra point, and he did for the margin.

"Two kickoff returns and two blocked extra points and that play (the final touchdown) does not matter. We let their quarterback scramble. This was a good game in all aspects except the final score," Vikings Coach Kurt Kampendahl said.

Kampendahl said he liked the progress on offense. The team's other touchdown, for a 6-6 tie, came on a 44-yard run by Reggie Lawrence.

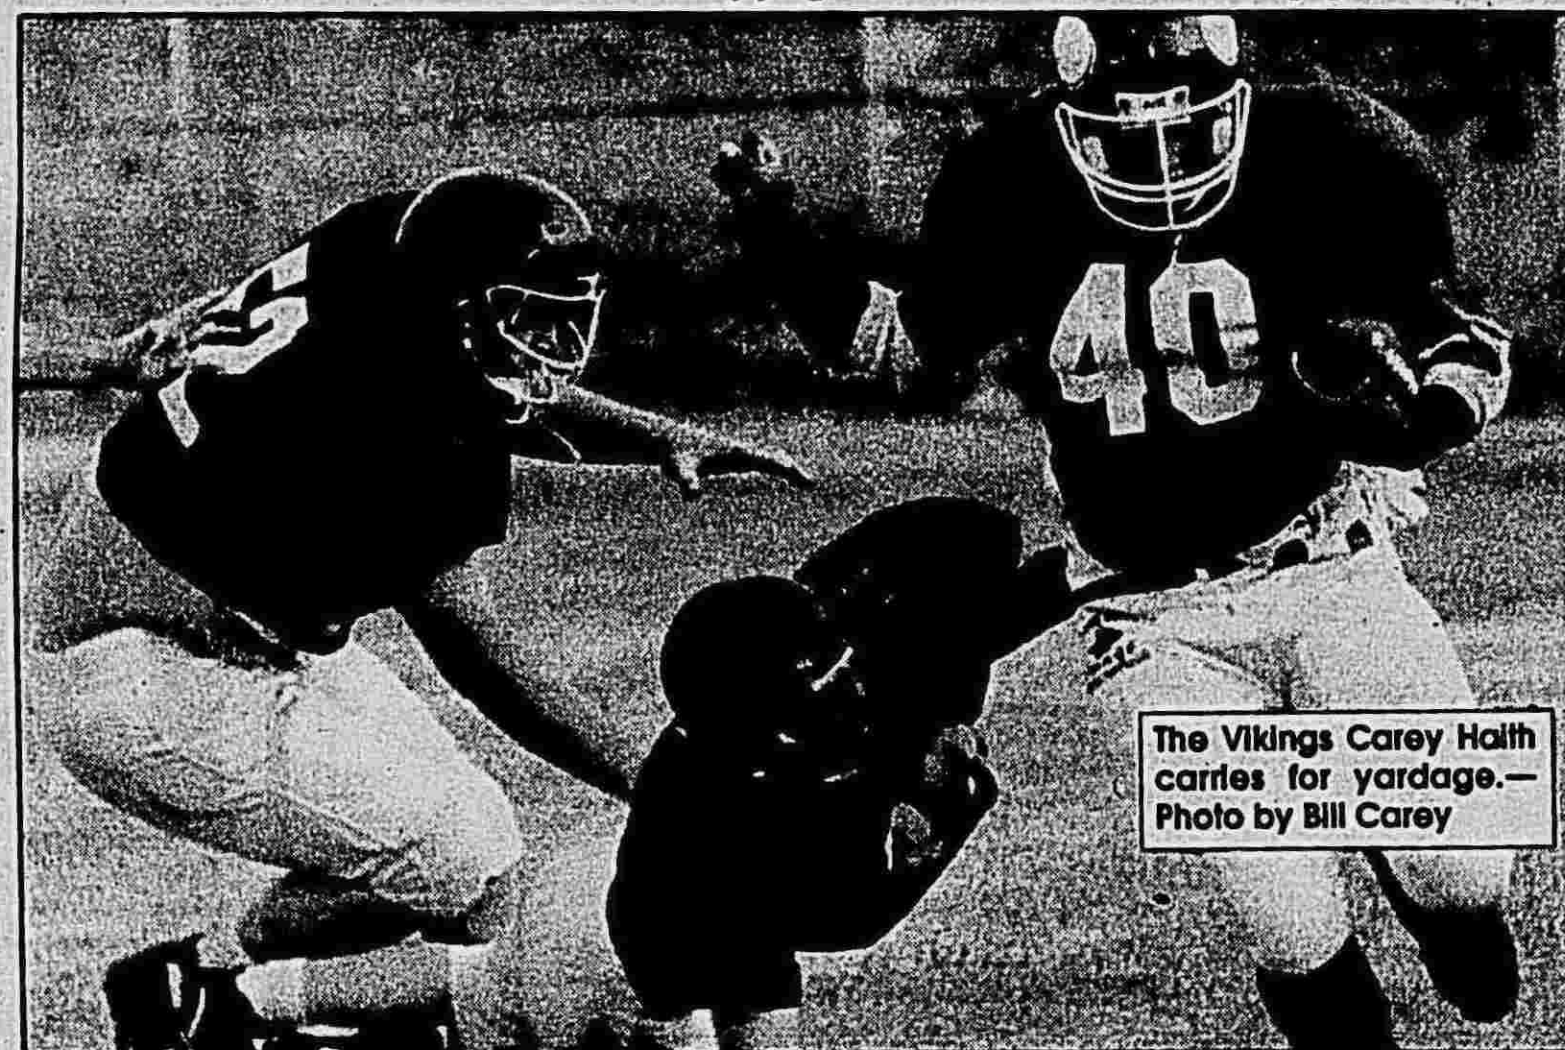

The Vikes scored their first touchdown in the fourth quarter with 13:34 left after Palos was penalized for roughing the kicker on a punt try. Reggie Matthews gained 9 yards before Lawrence broke to the sidelines, then outran a linebacker after cutting over the middle.

The Vikings were deep in their own territory when they scored again. The drive started at the 1-yard line and the home team benefited from another Palos penalty, bringing the ball to the 15.

"It is a designed play when both receivers run a fade route and I use my judgment. I like to go to the veterans on that play," QB Quist said.

In that case, it was No. 82, Frank Ruiz. He electrified the Round Lake High crowd with an 85-yard jaunt. But for the second time, Keith Richter missed the extra point as it was blocked. See VIKINGS page C31

Chiefs take first two games in AAU tournament

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

In baseball talk, it is known as small ball, the ability to move runners along, throw in some tricky plays and make the most of your hits.

That is what the 12 and under Lake County Chiefs have done in winning three games at the AAU World Series in Burnsville, Minn. Following a 2-0 win over the Oklahoma Dodgers the team downed Iowa 8-4 and Taylorville, Utah 11-2 with one game left in first pool play.

"We just do it," catcher Josh Boock said.

"We scout other teams. The Taylorville win was nice because ever one got to play," said Art Mansavage, team manager. "The turning point in the win over Taylorville came in the fourth inning when a tight 1-0 game was made a blow out when the Lake County team scored six runs on only one hit. Josh Baker had the hit, an RBI single. The inning featured walk coached by Mike Bruszer, Boock and Jamie Jankowski of Lake Zurich.

balk another followed by a double steal to third and the others

Republicans call 'fore' fun

The Lake County Republican Central Committee invites everyone 'fore' a day of fun raising funds for Republican candidates at the 1994 Lake County Republican Open," stated Patricia Page, general chairman of this year's open. The open, held annually by the Lake County Republican Central Committee, is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 12.

"As ticket committee chairman, I wish to extend an invitation to anyone who wishes to participate in the 1994 Republican Open," remarked Robert P. Neal, Lake County Board commissioner-Dist. 2 and former chairman of the Lake County Republican Party. He said, "With this year being an election year, we expect a tremendous turn-out at this year's open. To accommodate our guests, we will be entertaining golfers at two golf courses—Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth and Countryside West Golf Course in Mundelein."

"The success of this year's Republican Open will give the Lake County Republican Party the resources to secure Republican victories from Governor Edgar to Lake County Clerk Candidate Willard Helander," said John Schullen, Republican county chairman.

The Lake County Republican Open offers two categories of tickets. Celebrity tickets, which include golf with cart at Midlane Country Club, breakfast, lunch, dinner and entrance into the celebrity reception are only $150 per person. Regular tickets, which include golf with cart at Countryside West Golf Course, breakfast, lunch and dinner are only $75 per person.

Dinner for all participants, which commences at 6:30 p.m., is at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth. Dinner only tickets are available for a low donation of $40. The program, which includes the presentation of prizes and guest speakers, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"Anyone wishing to participate in this year's Republican Open or attend the dinner may contact Lake County Republican Headquarters at 680-6680 to receive tickets," said Neal.

"We look forward to welcoming the largest number of golfers ever to this year's Lake County Republican Open," concluded Page.

Equestrians compete at Tempel Farms

World Cup mania is behind us, but the international sports in Illinois continue with the Pedigree® North American Young Rider Championships, Aug. 16 through 21 at Tempel Farms in Wadsworth.

Every region of the United States will send teams of competitors, from California (their zone five team ruled the show jumping last year) to the eastern states (the winner of the three-day event—the equestrian triathlon—hailed all the way from North Carolina). The midwest always makes a strong showing of its own (the Midwest team was gold in dressage in '93).

Canada, Mexico, Bermuda, Sweden and Japan will send individuals and teams. Going along with all these kids are horses of the finest quality to be seen anywhere. Coaches, too, are often well-known faces from the professional horse world.

From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., the rolling, open fields of Tempel Farms will be teeming with activity as preliminary competition begins on Wednesday, Aug. 17, with dressage in the morning and preliminary jumping in the afternoon. In fact, there will be world-class show jumping every afternoon from Wednesday to Sunday in the huge sand arena surrounded by lots of shady places to sit, be it the grandstand or lounging on the grass.

On Thursday and Friday, Aug. 18 and 19, the midwest defends its gold medal in team dressage championships, beginning at 1 p.m. in arena one.

Aug. 20, Saturday, spectators should plan to get there early (8 a.m.) and bring a picnic to watch the exciting three-day event cross-country competition. The cross-country is a galloping, leaping test of a horse and rider's physical ability and mental toughness, a throw-back to the sport's military origins.

The rider and horse negotiate huge, natural obstacles, including a water jump, moving at the gallop over several miles of country before the course is through.

Those same three-day eventers then have to get up Sunday morning and, with the same horses, jump a course of show jumps in the jumping arena, to demonstrate their horse's fitness (their own, too!) and "cat-like ability" to negotiate the tight course turns and higher heights of the bright decorated jumps.

The final day, Sunday, Aug. 21, will see the best of the best in all three Olympic disciplines as the individual championships in three-day, dressage and jumping are decided in separate competitions during the day.

Former 'hawk strengthens Cheetahs

After retiring from the Chicago Blackhawks in 1990, Al Secord traded his blades for wheels and has been a quiet force for the Chicago Cheetahs in their inaugural season of play in the Roller Hockey International.

Secord, a 12-year NHL veteran, played eight years with the Blackhawks, where he became one of only three Blackhawk players to have scored 50 or more goals in a season—a feat that only Bobby Hull and Jeremy Roenick have accomplished.

Secord's extensive NHL experience makes him a unique figure in the Roller Hockey International and a seasoned leader on a relatively young Cheetahs team.

"The game is basically the same; you have wheels instead of blades and a court instead of ice but the skills and level of intensity are the same," said Secord. "It took some time to get used to the in-line skates but I'm glad to be back playing hockey again in front of the Chicago sports fans."

Randy Boyd, head coach of the Cheetahs and a former Blackhawk, got Secord excited about the possibilities of Roller Hockey International and eventually recruited him to play for the Cheetahs.

"Al's involvement with the team helps us gain a certain measure of credibility," said Boyd.

Balancing his career as a commercial airline pilot with Great Lakes Airlines United Express and his rejuvenated hockey career with the Cheetahs leaves Secord with little time in Chicago. A professional pilot for two years, Secord coordinates his schedule so he can play in every Cheetah game.

One of the most incredible baseball records of all-time was set by Shoeless Joe Jackson who had season batting averages in the major leagues of .387, .408, .395, .373, .354 and .382—AND NEVER WON A BATTING TITLE!... Jackson compiled those averages in the American League starting in 1910, but every season when he had such high averages, someone else had a better one... It seems unbelievable that a player who hit that well should not have won at least one batting championship—but Joe Jackson never did!

Why are points in tennis called 15, 30, and 40, instead of 1, 2 and 3?... In the early days of tennis, the score was kept on a clock, with the hands moved to 15, 30 and 45 minutes after the hour, so the points were called 15, 30, and 45 instead of 1, 2 and 3... Later, players changed the 45 to 40, but the 15 and 30 remain.

One reason why sports are so interesting is this quote by playwright Neil Simon... He said, "Sports are the only entertainment where, no matter how many times you go, you never know the ending."

Mrs. T's triathlon slated for Aug. 21

The 12th annual Mrs. T's Chicago Triathlon, the world's largest triathlon, is scheduled to kick-off at Ohio Street Beach on Sunday, Aug. 21 at 6:30 a.m.

This year's event will be contested in two distances. The sprint, new in 1994, includes a .75K swim in Lake Michigan, followed by a 20K bicycle ride on Lake Shore Drive, and finally a 5K run through Burnham Park.

The traditional distance for this event (Olympic distance) includes a 1.5K swim, a 40K bicycle ride and a 10K run. Also new this year, the professional triathletes will start last at 8:30 a.m. and will start crossing the finish line at 10:20 a.m.

"The Triathlon is one of the few sports where amateurs can go head-to-head with the professionals," said executive producer Jan Caille. "This sport attracts top competitors but is also open to anyone who can swim, bike and run. We encourage everyone to join in the triathlon as individual competitors, relay participants, corporate team members, volunteers or just as a spectator to cheer on the athletes."

The Mrs. T's Chicago Triathlon is expected to field more than 4,000 including the world's top professional and amateur triathletes from the United States and abroad.

Professionals will be competing for $40,000 in prize money, with $5,000 awarded for the first place male and first place female finishers.

Volunteer positions available include registration, course marshaling, hospitality, aid stations, communication and staging. All volunteers will receive a Mrs. T's Chicago Triathlon T-shirt and can participate in the post race celebration with plenty of food and spirits.

Entry fees for the 1994 Mrs. T's Chicago Triathlon are $60 for individuals, $105 for open relay teams, $75 for corporate individuals and $135 for corporate relay teams.

For general information and entry forms, call the Mrs. T's Chicago Triathlon hotline at 312-404-2372.

Youth waterfowl hunts scheduled

Applications are being accepted Sept. 6 through 19 for two special waterfowl hunts for youths ages 10 through 15.

The youth duck hunt is sponsored by the Department of Conservation. The youth goose hunt is sponsored by the Department and the Southern Illinois Quota Zone Waterfowlers Association. The Illinois Chapter of Safari Club International is providing partial funding for both hunts.

The youth duck hunt is scheduled at the Donnelley State Fish and Wildlife Area near DePue and at participating waterfowl clubs along the Illinois River near Donnelley on the third Sunday of the central zone duck season, which is soon to be determined by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The youth goose hunt is set for Tuesday, Dec. 27 at Union County Conservation Area, Horseshoe Lake Conservation Area in Alexander County and participating clubs of the Southern Illinois Quota Zone Waterfowlers Association.

Because each is a two-day event, permit holders and their parents or guardians must register at a pre-hunt orientation the day before the hunt.

The hunts are open to youths who will be between the ages of 10 and 15 inclusive at the time of the hunts. Youngsters may apply for one permit for each of the hunts; however, individuals who received permits for previous youth goose hunts may apply only for a duck hunt permit. Permits are not transferable.

Applicants must have successfully completed a hunter safety class provided by the Department and possess a valid hunting license. Each permit holder is required to be accompanied by a parent or guardian, who must possess a valid firearm owner's identification (FOID) card.

Each hunter must have a 20-gauge or larger shotgun to use during the special hunts, and each hunter is required to use and possess only steel shot.

The forms are available at the Thompson Center in Chicago and at the Department's regional offices in Alton, Benton, Champaign, Spring Grove and Sterling. For more information about the youth hunts, call 217-785-8955.

Vikings

Palos secured its win in its season opener by relying on a signal caller who missed the exhibition season.

"He was a softball player who had his first practice Friday. He is a great athlete and was our quarterback last year," Coach Dan Von Holt said.

The Vikings defense had dominated in the big play department. The Force moved the ball in between the 20-yard-lines, but had to settle for the two first-half field goals by Fredrichs.

Emmitt Mallory recovered a Palos fumble at the Viking 33, which led to Lawrence's score.

Mike Griffin had several outstanding plays from the defensive backfield. He had an interception and broke up a long would be TD strike. With the ball inside the Lake County 1-yard line, Griffin harassed the Force quarterback so much he threw a pass Lake County defender Mike Baldwin could break-up.

"He made some good saves," Kampendahl said of Griffin. Brad Dunn intercepted a pass.

Running back Cary Haight was injured as he suffered a poke in an eye.

"We were more unified tonight, the offense and defense were helping each other, and the turnovers did not hurt," Kampendahl said.

The Vikes are off next week, and return to action Aug. 20 at Indiana Renegades, probably in Crown Point, Ind.

came home on Taylorville's fielders' choices.

Matt Bonuso was the winning pitcher. The only Taylorville threat was a base loaded jam which ended with no runs in the second.

The Chiefs were the first team to reach 2-0 in their pool. "You can tell we were nervous in our first game," Mansavage said.

Mac Mansavage lead the way versus Iowa with a 3 for 4 game including 3 RBI's, with a double and triple.

Boock, John Glatt, and Jankowski had one of each.

Games Tuesday were washed out due to the rain.

Senior sports classic deadline set for Aug. 29

Springfield will become a hub of athletic involvement when hundreds of "Senior Athletes" ages 55 to 96+ will be trying for the "Gold".

These games are the only qualifying site in Illinois for the National Senior Sports Classic to be held in San Antonio, Texas May 17 to 24, 1995.

Illinois games are "open" games, therefore athletes from other states and Canada will also be here trying to qualify.

The games will begin early Thursday, September 22 kicking off the four days of competition with tennis, badminton and golf. The Opening Ceremonies with a torch lighting ceremony proclaiming "Let the Games Begin" will be held at 6 p.m.

Events begin Sept. 23 at 7:30 a.m. with cycling, followed throughout the day with badminton, tennis, billiards, bowling, shuffleboard, racquetball, casting, miniature golf, table tennis, softball, basketball and volleyball team competition.

The 10K Run will begin at 8 a.m. Sept. 24 followed by handball, basketball free-throw, shuffleboard, rope skipping, swimming, archery and horseshoes and softball team competition.

Softball team competition continues on Sunday, Sept. 25. The track and field events will begin with registration check-in at 7 a.m.

If you are not quite "young" enough to be a part of this years games remember, The Illinois Senior Olympic games are held annually the last weekend of September.

For more information on how to be a part of this program as a participant, volunteer or a spectator call, 789-2284. Deadline for registration is August 29.

Little leaguers won't strike

Thillens Stadium, located at Devon and Kedzie Avenues in Chicago, assures baseball fans that all Little League games will go on as scheduled and the young players will not honor the Major League strike.

"It's a shame that the big boys of summer forget that baseball is still just a sport, but their younger counterparts haven't lost the real sense of the game," said Mel Thillens, stadium manager.

Baseball games will continue every day through mid-September at Thillens Stadium, and no salary demands are being negotiated. All the young players want in return is community support.

So, if you're tired of all the crying and just want to see how the game was meant to be played, Thillens Stadium is the place for you. Various local teams will also be competing at the stadium. Call 312-267-7070 for nightly attractions.

Hospital co-sponsors jog, walk

Highland Park Hospital and the Park District of Highland Park will co-sponsor a 5K Walk and 5K Jog on Sunday, Sept. 18. "Hike for a Healthy Heart" is for anyone undergoing cardiac rehabilitation, and their families.

The hike will begin at 9 a.m. at the Highland Park Hospital Green Bay Pavilion, 1936 Green Bay Rd.

The $10 registration fee includes a "Hike for a Healthy Heart" t-shirt, continental breakfast following the event and raffle prizes. The non-refundable early registration fee must be received no later than Tuesday, Sept. 13. Registration on the day of the hike is $12. For information, call Highland Park Hospital's Cardiac Rehabilitation Dept. at 480-3860.

Workout for Kids to benefit City of Hope

It's never too early to make fitness and exercise part of a healthy lifestyle, and Lake County children will be getting into the act at Workout for Kids, a national children's fitness fund-raiser for pediatric cancer and diabetes research at the City of Hope National Medical Center.

• Aug. 15 at Lakeview School in Grayslake from 9:30 to 11 a.m.;

• Aug. 15 at B.J. Hooper School in Lindenhurst from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Workout for Kids will feature fitness activities and games in a fun, non-competitive atmosphere for students ages 5 to 10 at each school.

Approximately 420 children are expected to participate in the Lake County Workout for Kids events, raising funds by obtaining sponsors and pledges for their exercise efforts.

So far, more than 2,000 children at 75 schools, day care and Little Gym fitness centers have participated in Workout for Kids on a national level, raising more than $20,000.

Chevron Oil Company and Little Gym International, Inc., a national franchise which provides fitness, motor skills development and other related programs to children ages 4 months to 12 years, are the national sponsors.

For more information, call City of Hope at 699-0100.

NBA star to race at Great Lakes Dragaway

Cars that can be driven legally on the street and others that may be illegal for minor reasons will compete in two separate races each day Aug. 13 and Aug. 14 in the Mega Force Street World Finals at Great Lakes Dragaway in Union Grove, Wis.

These cars are stock appearance with operable doors, headlights, etc., but are capable of over 175 miles an hour speeds in

Headlining the exclusive field is NBA Denver Nugget basketball player Tom E. Hammonds. At six-foot, nine inches, Hammonds is drag racing's tallest driver. He has won over a dozen races with his "100 percent street legal" 1969 Pro Street Camaro, and is one of the favorites in this weekend's races at Great Lakes Dragaway.

Hammonds' best speed to date is 168 mph in 7.74 seconds. He feels he can better both these numbers this weekend with the super traction of the southern Wisconsin dragstrip.

Wilmot reschedules all-star circuit of champions

The 13th Annual Wilmot Open Sprints sanctioned by The Club/All Star Circuit of Champions and sponsored by Miller Genuine Draft has been rescheduled for Sept. 9 at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway.

Heavy rains hit the one-third mile clay oval just after the track was worked in on the first attempt to get the show in Aug. 3, then steady rains on the back side of a slow moving cold front on Aug. 4

A 40-lap "A" Main paying $4,000 to win, part of a total purse of over $20,000, will be on the line in the final appearance in the Chicago-Milwaukee area for the All Stars.

In addition to a four-division program of sprints, modifieds, street stocks and mini-sprints, youngsters ages 16 and under in attendance will have an opportunity to win a portion of over $3,200 in U.S. Savings Bonds sponsored by various race teams, fan clubs, businesses and individuals.

Grandstand gates open at 5 p.m. with sprint time trials slated for 6 p.m. and the first race at 7 p.m. Rainchecks from Aug. 3 and 4 will be valid in September.

Sept. 9 grandstand admission is $15 for adults, $13 for senior citizens, active military and students ages 12 to 18; youngsters ages 8 to 11 pay $6; and ages 7 and under admitted free.

Park offers 2K, 10K races for Gurnee Days

Gurnee Days Corporation will sponsor the annual 10K race and 2 mile fun run. Both events will begin at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14.

The runs will begin and end at Viking Park and the first 250 registrants will receive a free Pepsi t-shirt. Trophies will be awarded for first through third in each age division, the top male and female overall and the top male and female Gurnee residents for the 10K race. First place medals in each division will be awarded for 2 milers.

Register in advance at Gurnee Park District office, 4374 Grand Ave., Gurnee, 60031. Mail registrations should be postmarked before Aug. 6. Pre-registration fee is $10 and $12 the day of the race.

The runs are part of the Gurnee Days festivities, Aug., 11-14. The theme this year is "Every Day is a Gurnee Day."
